Will Broadcast N. Y. Philharmonic On Ann Arbor Series

Two precedents will be broken this season by the University Musical Society of the University of Michigan, according to President Charles A. Sink.

For the first time a Choral Union Concert will be given on a Sunday afternoon, and also for the first time a Choral Union Concert will be broadcast. The New York Philharmonic-Symphony Orchestra, John Barbirolli, conductor, will be heard on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 24, at 3:00 o'clock. Through the co-operation of the management of the orchestra and the officials of the Columbia Broadcasting System, the program will be sent by short wave to foreign lands as well as throughout the United States. Alumni Clubs and friends of the University, as well as music lovers generally, will have an opportunity of hearing a superb program from the stage of Hill Auditorium.

Other concerts in the series, according to Mr. Sink, will be:

Marian Anderson, contralto, Oct. 23; Rudolf Serkin, pianist, Nov. 7; Serge Jaroff, Don Cossack Singers, Nov. 18; Richard Bonelli, baritone, Dec. 3; Boston Symphony Orchestra, Dec. 11; Vladimer Horowitz, Jan. 15; Minneapolis Symphony, Jan. 28; Budapest String Quartette, Feb. 20; Georges Enesco, March 4.

Pierre Caziot, French Minister of Agriculture:
"This Winter will be hard . . . but everything depends upon distribution because there is an abundance of elementary foodstuffs."
