Quotes Old Testament On Pacifist Views

To the Editor:

The patriotic and courageous criticism by the editor of the Adrian Telegram of the recent charge made by President Harrison of Adrian College has stirred up something more than a "tempest in a teapot."

It is the clashing of two schools of thought over the duty of American manhood in this hour of our Nation's greatest peril—one school represented largely by churches, theological schools, the majority of the orthodox ministers and thousands of church goers—the other, by the vast majority of our citizenry, both inside and outside the church.

Dr. Harrison was criticized for saying, "The buildings and facilities of the church, and those of Adrian college, are not for the promotion of war, and cannot be used as the instruments of war. If there were Christians in our student body who think it wrong to murder, then it is the duty of the church and also of the College to stand by them."

Encourage Evasion

The Telegram charged that "Such words tend to encourage evasion of military service. They are utterly out of step with facts and duties."

The object of Dr. Harrison's remarks to his students is, quite plain, but he has been brazenly guilty of using what Theodore Roosevelt called "weasel words." His implication that the American soldier, sailor, marine or flyer, defending his country and his God-given rights and institutions, is a murderer, is thinly veiled behind double-meaning words which give him a technical "out." Apparently he did not have the courage to say what he so evidently meant.

The Telegram took him to task for his flippery words—Of course that college buildings are not for promotion of war—nor is any building in Adrian. If helping to defend the Nation's very life is 'promoting war' then if a thug strikes your wife or child and you strike back, you are 'promoting ruffianism.'

Next to scold the doctor was Gene Porter, student editor of the College World—"Dr. Harrison's words were an insult to the intelligence of every student at Adrian—an insult in that the things we students believe worth fighting for, were debunked."

He might well have said to the learned doctor, as Jesus said to the Scribes and Pharisees—"Ye blind guides, which strain at a gnat and swallow a camel."

Finally comes the thundering and infallible voice of the Methodist Doctrine to pronounce its verdict and thus end the argument for all eternity through the weekly Methodist Church sanctification, the Michigan Christian Advocate.

Conforms to Doctrine

The Rev. John E. Marvin, in a signed column, states that the position taken by Dr. Harrison is not essentially different from the official position of the Methodist Church.

He states that Dr. Harrison had quoted the Methodist discipline which says that members of the Methodist Church who "as conscientious objectors seek exemption from military training in schools and colleges, or from military service, anywhere or at any time" have the authority and support of the church.

We can accept this as an authoritative statement of Methodist doctrine. I challenge the church to show their Biblical authority for this man-made doctrine. There isn't any.

This might be a good time for all of us to take to reading our Bibles for ourselves and interpreting it according to our own inherent goodness and common sense, rather than longer listening to those who "strain at gnats"! Too long have we been doing our religious "duty" by sitting in some comfortable pew and absorbing such highly doctrinal theories and which have, as a result, practically discarded the Old Testament—The law and the prophets, which Jesus said He came to fulfill—and has so often "spiritualized" New Testament teachings as to make them hardly recognizable.

Quotes Numbers

The Bible does not teach this doctrine under discussion, but it does teach to the contrary. It provides for a standing army and allows no room for "ifs" and "buts" and doctrines. If the good doctors have not had it brought to their attention in their theological schools, we suggest a careful reading of the first chapter of Numbers. Full quotation would be superfluous, but here's the meat of it:

"And the Lord spoke unto Moses in the wilderness of Sinai . . . in the second year after they were come out of the land of Egypt, saying:

"Take ye the sum of all the congregation . . . after their families, by the house of their fathers, with the number of their names, every male by their polls; from twenty years old and upward, all that are able to go forth to war—thou and Aaron shall number them by their armies." (They registered thus 603,550 fighting men.)

That is plain—anybody can understand it, and it is a command of the Lord. Please note that this was ordered and put into effect 38 years before there came any call to arms—PREPAREDNESS. Note also that this order was given to Moses by the same authority that gave him the Ten Commandments and the laws and statutes for the guidance of the Nation of Israel. Also that it calls for the numbering of the "congregation," and that the responsibility was imposed also upon Aaron, the head of the priesthood of Levites.

Parallel in Olden Days

The present attack on Israel-America had its parallel in those olden days. Let's take a look at it. Let's go back to the Bible—II Chron. 32.

Sennacherib, king of the Assyrians, was invading Judah and Hezekiah was encouraging his people. Let us stick to those words as written, but do a little modern paraphrasing as we read, for the Assyrian, Hitler, knocks at our door today.

"Be strong and courageous, be not afraid nor dismayed for the king of Assyria (the Fuehrer of Germany), nor for all the multitude that is with him; for there be more with us than with him.

"With him is an arm of flesh (men and iron) but with us is the Lord our God to help us and to fight our battles.

"Also he (America) strengthened himself (conscription) and built up all the wall that was broken (coast defense fortifications, air fields, anti-aircraft defense, etc.) and another wall without (Iceland, Hawaii, the Caribbeans, the Philippines, Panama) . . . and made darts and shields in abundance (planes, guns, battlewagons, mechanized equipment, shells, etc)."

"And he set captains of war over the people and gathered them together (in camps).

Used Fear

"Then the king of Assyria came up to Judea and challenged the people.

"Know ye not what I and my fathers (Me and my Nazis) have done unto all the people of other lands) (Norway, Finland, Poland, Holland, Greece, etc.) Were the gods of those lands any ways able to deliver their lands out of mine hand?

"He also wrote letters (propagandized) to defy and to rail on the Lord God of Israel, saying, As the gods of the nations of other lands have not delivered their people out of mine hand, so shall not the God of Hezekiah deliver his people.

"And the Lord sent an angel which cut off the mighty (Nazi) men of valor, and the leaders and captains in the camp of the king of Assyria. So he returned with shame of face to his own land.

One can see that Hezekiah dry. He knew that God helped them who helped themselves. He did not sit back comfortably on his pants and hide himself under any conglomerate doctrinal mantle of resignation and wait for God to do it all for him.

As peacemakers and defenders of the Faith, God will help America now as He helped Israel then, even though there be those among us who have substituted their pet doctrines in place of God's order for military preparedness.

Applies To Aggressor

"He who takes to the sword, shall die by the sword" has been used by pacifists, and swallowed, undigested by audiences since the Revolution. Eleven words of one syllable each, yet too much for average intelligence to grasp, else we would have long ago seen that the first mentioned sword is the sword of the aggressor, who is to die by the sword of the defender.

"Greater love hath no man this: that a man lay down his life for his friends." Can this mean anything else than sacrificing one's life in the defense of his friends?

"He who would give his life shall find it."

Such must have been the creed and thought of Captain Colin Kelly, when he ordered his men to bail out and, he alone, plummeted his ship into the very smokestacks of the Jap battleship "Haruna."! He gave his life—and found it.

Editor, The Eccentric:

As the year draws to a close, may I take this occasion on behalf of the Defense Savings Staff to thank you for the very generous patriotic support you have given the Defense Savings Program, which is greatly appreciated.

With cordial regards, and best wishes for 1942.

Sincerely,
NORMAN H. HILL,

Defense Savings Staff

Lady Likes Lucky

It's a good thing for Lucky that Lady is discriminating. Lady's job is to kill mice in a St. Petersburg, Fla., market, but she likes Lucky because he's a field mouse rather than the usual kind she meets. Lucky was captured and adopted by Lady on one of her hunting expeditions.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Luke 22:41, 42): "And he was withdrawn from them about a stone's cast, and kneeled down, and prayed, Saying, Father, if thou be willing, remove this cup from me: nevertheless not my will, but thine, be done."
Corrective passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following: "Christ said: 'When the hunger in him struggled with the divine, our Father prayed, 'Not my will, but Thine, be done'—that is, Let not the flesh, but the Spirit, be represented in me."

Lathrup Townsite News

by LILLIAN DIEDERICH

Lathrup People Busy

Despite the fact that war has placed added responsibilities on each and every citizen in these United States, here in the Townsite we refuse to be downcast. All are rallying to the cause. Parties and bridge clubs are now thrust in the background, but civilian defense workers are up and at it every day.

We have had Southfield Township to register, and our women are at the polls daily. Men's Civic Association is registering at night at Southfield Town Hall on Berg road. Did you know Lathrup Townsite has a record? We have, out of 324 homes here, we have registered 225 people for civilian defense. Red Cross here has tripled membership in the past three weeks. Many have sons at the front; and they have learned that hard work is a panacea for all ailments—even heartbreak. One of the toughest jobs for those who watch and wait is keeping the corners of the mouth pinned upward!

Fred A. Wilson, of Lathrup boulevard, is chairman of American Red Cross drive to meet the Lathrup Townsite quota. This is a national emergency and every one will be called upon to do his part. The committees in charge will contact each house. Be prepared to give generously for you may never know when it will return one hundred fold.

New Year's Parties

A number of parties were given New Year's. The William Waddells held open house New Year's Eve. About 70 guests participated. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Loomis held open house New Year's Day, when 40 friends came to wish them well; the L. H. France's gave a cozy supper party for 14 guests. New Year's Eve, Mr. and Mrs. Cornell gave a cocktail party preceeding the Birmingham golf club celebration and the E. B. Snareys toted the merry makers home for sausages and pancakes. New Year's morning, Mr. and Mrs. William Mason greeted the New Year with a crowd at the D. A. C., as did the John Diederichs. Fourteen were in the party.

D. A. R. Message

Mrs. Robert Vint, regent of Three Flags Chapter, D. A. R. wishes to thank all who brought in discarded toys before Christmas. These were shipped to one of the approved schools, mended, painted, and distributed to the poor. Mrs. Vint says there is a crying need for old dishes and worn table linen; anyone having these please call her. The schools will make up table napkins from the linens as paper napkins are impossible to get in remote districts. Dishes are growing scarcer daily because of lack of funds.
