Plenty Of Foxes In Oakland County

Oakland county has an abundance of foxes at present because, with its countless hills and valleys and much of its area closed to hunting, it is a "fox paradise," conservation game men stated this week. Private estates are closed to all hunting and trapping and there are two townships which have voted to have no hunting within their borders. The closed areas form a system of refuges for the fox, which, in addition to the natural habitat, makes it difficult to reduce the number of the species.

MORE BUILDING PERMITS

Building in Birmingham showed an upward trend during 1943, according to figures just released by Scott A. Hersey, building inspector. During the year 198 permits were issued while for 1942 the total was 165. Dollar value of new construction and other improvements rose from $282,039 in 1942 to $395,580 in 1943.
