Twelve Prizes Given For Best Entries In Annual Pet Parade

Twelve prizes were awarded for the outstanding entries in the St. James church annual Pet Parade held last Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. It is estimated that close to 500 people witnessed the colorful parade of youngsters and their pets.

The five children of the Dean Coffins were awarded one prize for their unusual float the "U.S.S. Unsinkable." The Coffins have two sets of twins, twin colored spaniels also took part. Martha and John MacDonald won a prize for their entry, a pony cart. Tracy Sibley and his pet rooster were also awarded a prize.

Prizes also went to Michael and David Wentworth, who were dressed like Indians and who had their dog pulling an Indian travois. A "circus wagon" with six little kittens in it won a prize for Susan Spicer and Jiv and Steven May.

John Terry and his donkey wagon was also given a prize. Kathy and Ellen Van Dusen, dressed as Red Cross Nurses, with their dog as a St. Bernard, were awarded a prize. Another prize entry was the Pantomime of Red Riding Hood, with Patty Spencer dressed as Red Riding Hood and Jackie Spencer as the woodsmen. They had their dog, dressed in grandma's nightgown portraying the wolf.

Louise Hanna, dressed completely in an infantry soldier's uniform, and her huskie dog, also won a prize. Bibby Hewitt and Susan Robb were other prize winners. Bobby entered his pet rabbit as "Peter Rabbit."

Authority On Plastics Speaks Here Monday

Carl W. Sundberg, Detroit designer, and partner in the firm of Sundberg-Ferar, will be principal speaker at the next dinner meeting of the Hi-12 Club Monday, June 4, in the Birmingham Community House.

Sundberg has been in demand as a speaker across the country since a "debunking" talk several months ago on post-war products. Taking issue with what he terms "post-war prophets," Sundberg gives an explanation of what Americans may actually expect from plastics and other new material developments, in the near future.

His talk will be illustrated and will explain also the role modern industrial designing plays in mass production of peacetime merchandise.
