Lowell Thomas, Jr. Scheduled For Talk At Art Institute

Lowell Thomas Jr., and Murl Deusing, witty young Milwaukee Public Museum curator, will be the afternoon and evening speakers on the World Adventure Series illustrated public lecture course at the Detroit Institute of Arts next Sunday, Dec. 8.

At 3:30 Sunday afternoon Deusing will present his "Back Yard Safari," with spectacular color motion pictures of Wisconsin wild life. With special cameras, Deusing filmed day and night shots of opossum and rabbit families, of gophers—and other big and little animals familiar to all lovers of the out-of-doors.

Lowell Thomas, Jr., who like his famous father is an explorer, world traveler and spirited speaker, is the evening attraction at 8:30. His subject is "Westward Around the World," and he will show the new color motion pictures he filmed while on an Air Corps assignment last summer.

On his itinerary are Hawaii, the Marshall and Gilbert Islands, Bikini, and the stupendous atom bomb experiment, the Philippines, Japan and China, Angkor and French Indo-China, Siam, India, the Alps, North Africa.

Wants Operation

David Ruge, 16, Chicago, is on four years' probation as result of threatening to kill his employer's daughter unless he was given $1000 for a plastic surgery operation after schoolmates nicknamed him "Monkey Face."

Promoted to T/5

Private first class Joseph M. DeGroote, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. DeGroote, 1455 Big Beaver, was recently promoted to the rank of technician fifth grade for his work as postal clerk with Army Post Office No. 301 in First Corps Headquarters, Kyoto, Japan.

T/P DeGroote enlisted in the Army in February of this year, and attended Adjutant Generals School in Fort Oglethorpe, Ga. He went overseas last August.

Sudden Cold Wave Brings Warning Not to Overheat

With the current cold wave suddenly thrust upon the community, Fire Marshall George S. Scott again this week reminded Birmingham home owners to guard against heating defects to prevent overheated furnaces and home fires.

"Now that cold weather is upon us our heating appliances and furnaces will be used more and more," Scott stated. "On exceptionally cold days we must be exceptionally careful not to overheat furnaces.

"If your furnace and chimney have not already been cleaned and checked this year by a competent furnace repair man, do so at the first opportunity."

If the furnace has been converted and now has a fan for forced circulation, be sure the motor and controls are adjusted and in perfect working condition, Scott advised.

Suggestions to Follow

He suggested the following points that will give a furnace an opportunity to reach its maximum heating capacity without endangering the rest of the household:

Keep heating plants and smoke pipes in good repair.

Keep ashes from furnace and fire place in metal containers and away from wooden partitions.

Never put ashes (hot or cold) in wooden or cardboard boxes as ashes have been known to hold fire for 72 hours after taken from furnace.

Nix on Kerosene, Gasoline

Never use kerosene, gasoline, oils to start or help start a fire.

Keep all wood, papers, rags, etc, at least 5 feet away from furnace and smoke pipes.

Never lay poker rod on wood or paper or hang it on a wooden partition after it has been used on a fire.

When smoke pipe or chimney are burning out, close all doors and draught checks on the furnace.

Install a spark screen on top of the chimney to catch flying pieces of paper and wood, soot, sparks, etc., especially if the house has a wooden shingle roof.
