Alys Chubbuck Back From Europe; Sister Plans Similar Trip

Mrs. C. L. Chubbuck and daughter Patricia will go to New York City next week to meet their daughter and sister, Alys Jeanne Chubbuck, who is returning from a year in Europe.

After studying the languages of Europe for six months, Alys went to a skiing school at St. Moritz, Switzerland. At the conclusion of her training here she began a tour of France, Holland, Sweden, Norway, and Scotland.

"Pat" is planning to leave for Europe on Sept. 3 She will study languages at the University of Geneva, and will later take up art at Zurich. Relaxation between the two courses will come in the form of two months spent skiing in Switzerland.

Fully aware of European conditions since the war, the young lady has already shipped her folding bicycle to Geneva, insuring her adequate means of transportation to and from the university and about the city.

A party will be held for the sisters later in the month, to welcome Alys home, and bid "bon voyage" to Pat.

Cherry Pie Party

Dr. and Mrs. William O. Merrill entertained about 45 guests, including members of the cast of "Claudia", at their home Will-O-Way in Bloomfield Hills on Monday night.

An outdoor dinner was served at their garden grill, after which the "event" of the evening took place—fresh cherry pie, made from the fruit of their own orchard, was served..

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Turner, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Warren Sutton, and Mr. and Mrs. Whitney Raymond assisted Dr. and Mrs. Turner.

Street Dance to Mark V-J Day Celebration

This year's V-J Day, Thursday, August 14, will bring a gala affair now being planned by the street dance committee of the Birmingham Recreation Board, for both the youngsters, and not-so-youngsters of Birmingham.

Mrs. Wilbur Johnstone, chairman of the street dances, announces this week that not only modern dancing will be enjoyed by those who attend the Thursday evening event, but that an orchestra will be on hand to provide music for square dancing.

This dance will take the place of the regular Wednesday affairs, and will be the last in the series of summer street dances which are sponsored by Kay Baum.

In case of rain, the dance will be held Friday evening at the Baldwin Pavilion.

Irate Parent—I'll teach you to make love to my daughter.

Sailor—I wish you would, sir. I'm not making much progress.

Grosse Ile Church Scene of Heideman-Glasius Wedding

The St. James Episcopal Church of Grosse Ile was the scene of the Saturday afternoon marriage of Einar Margrethe Glasius, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Einar Glasius of Grosse Ile, and George Warren Heideman, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Heideman of Henley drive.

The Rev. Warner Forsythe performed the double ring wedding rites before an altar decorated with arrangements of white gladioli. Gardon flowers and glads adorned the main part of the church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white candlelight satin gown, fashioned with a bertha effect of satin outlining a chiffon yoke. The sleeves of her gown were short and she wore long white satin gloves.

A Juliet cap of satin held the fingertip veil in place, and the bridal bouquet was formed of stephonotis centered with three white orchids.

Eva Glasius, as her sister's maid of honor, was gowned in aqua tissue taffeta, and she wore a matching lace headdress.

The two bridesmaids, Cynthia Heideman, sister of the bridegroom, and Betty Ann Sweeny of Ann Arbor, wore frocks similar to the honor maid's, only in yellow.

They all carried colonial bouquets of white daisies centered with yellow gladioli and tied with contrasting yellow and aqua bows.

Warren Stanton of Grosse Ile was the best man, and the guests were seated by Lieutenant Richard White and Robert Taylor of Grosse Ile and Robert Snyder of Pontiac.

Mrs. Glasius greeted her guests wearing a pale blue crepe floor length gown with matching accessories, while the bridegroom's mother chose an aqua crepe dress. A deep pink rose corsage was worn by the mother of the bride and Mrs. Heideman wore pale pink roses.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Parkway drive, following which the newlyweds left for a wedding trip to Mackinac Island and Lake Superior. Mrs. Heideman chose a white gabardine suit for traveling, with which she wore a navy coat and accessories, and the orchids from the bridal bouquet.

They will make their home at Albuquerque, N. M., after September, where they both will attend the University of New Mexico.

Neighborhood Group Formed; Ceramics Show Is Planned

Among the newest social groups in Birmingham is the "Pleasant Street Mudpackers," a group of women joined together by a common interest in ceramics. The group meets each Thursday evening to follow their hobby, which, to date, is revealing several women with outstanding talent.

Mrs. John Wintringham is "guiding" the women in their efforts. The work, so far, has been mostly in bowls, picture frames, ash trays, flowers, ear rings and the like. One or two of the more confident have branched out into the field of figurines, and some have made an attempt at modeling busts. After a successful try at a bust of Lincoln, one of the members persuaded her husband to model for her.

The interest in the work is spreading from the wives to their husbands and children, with the youngsters showing a great deal of enthusiasm. The husbands are hanging back a bit in their efforts, but several have tried their hand at the work. Children are acting as mothers' aides in carrying the clay from their homes—to the meeting place, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Bennett.

Mr. Bennett, an electrical engineer, is now engaged in making a kiln for the Community House craft room. Upon its completion, he will construct a similar kiln for the "Mudpackers." Each member is assuming her share of the cost of materials needed for construction.

The members are planning a tea and open house for an early fall date, at which time their workmanship will be on exhibit.

Have You Met . . .

The M. J. Fox family, who comes from Rochester? Mr. Fox is a surveyor and he and his wife and three-year-old youngster are living at 1331 Villa road.

All rural service customers involved now pay the rural line rates applicable for their respective exchanges or zones plus an additional 25c per month at locations more than three miles from the base rate areas. If such rural customers were to subscribe to the lowest class of Longacre urban service to be offered, those who now pay less than $2.00 per month each for their rural service would experience increases in charges.

Toll charges on messages from the Longacre zone to points outside the Detroit District Exchange, the Pontiac and Commerce central office districts of the Pontiac exchange and the Walled Lake exchange would be slightly higher, slightly lower or would remain the same, depending upon the location of the point called.
