The special sales at the Beehive (John Pound's store) make that popular resort boom, and any fine day it is verily a hive of busy bees. So great are the attractions on the special counters in dress goods, silks, velvets and satin remnants that the whole lot will soon be gone. The underwear, white goods, embroideries and corsets are receiving a good share of attention. The other remnants on the front table are equally good bargains, and from the nature of the goods, needed in households daily.
