Letters to Santa Claus Reveal Desires of Local Youngsters

Well, this is Mrs. Santa Claus this time, telling one and all that Santa hasn't time to write the introduction to his column this week. He has so many letters around him that the poor old soul can't find his cup of coffee!

This is the third lot of letters from you Birmingham children. They have all been read and Santa's helpers informed us as to what you want for Christmas.

And never you mind what I said about Santa being busy

—it's good for him. He's been sitting around so much these last few weeks that he's getting too fat for his suit!

EVERYONE WORKED HARD this year, and all the toys have been ready for weeks so you just keep on sending those letters right along. Santa will lose enough weight to be able to wear an extra sweater under his coat and the reindeer won't have so much weight to drag around.

And—we'll be seeing more of you next week, won't we?
