Study Group Asks Cost Breakdowns On Sewer System

By NORMAN DOUGLAS

The go-ahead sign to gain proportionate cost figures to finance construction of an interceptor sewer network for the Birmingham-Bloomfield-Southfield area was given by members of the informal area study committee Friday, June 4, in Bloomfield Hills.

The move to gain all the facts about costs and legalities of the proposed trunk sewer to the city of Detroit follows the recent meeting of the state's Water Resources Commission, an agency breathing down the necks of Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Bloomfield township, and Southfield township to abate pollution of the Rouge river.

It is believed the interceptor can be constricted on Evergreen road between the 8 and 14 Mile roads. At 14 Mile, a branch is proposed to go north and west into Bloomfield township, a second one would extend to the northeast and into Troy township.

THE COMMISSION, impatient over delays that have prevented any real solution to the pollution problem, has declared that the December 31 deadline will not be extended and warn area communities that some working plan must be underway by that date or the area will be cited in violation of the state's order and the case referred to court.

Lathrup Village has until December 31, 1955 to abate sewage pollution of the Evans ditch, a natural drain that empties into the Rouge.

Representatives of the communities under state citation have complained that a means of financing the interceptor has not been found but state agencies are ready to press for immediate action and declare that some financing method must be found.

Meeting with Milton Adams, Commission secretary, and State Board of Health Engineer Donald Pierce last week in Pontiac were Donald C. Egbert, Birmingham city manager, Elmer Kephart, Bloomfield Hills city manager; Southfield Township Supervisor William Roeser, Bloomfield Township Supervisor David Anderson, and Mayor William Harvie and City Administrator Leonard Watchowski of Lathrup Village.

ALSO PRESENT to learn the attack taken by the state were Oakland County Corporation Counsel Harry Merrit, Drain Commissioner Ralph A. Main and Al Roth, consulting engineer for area communities.

Local representatives are in agreement that the only way out of their sewage treatment worries lies in the construction of the sewer pipe to Detroit. Detroit officials have tentatively agreed to discuss the project with area officials.

But the big question is how the proposed $2½ million interceptor will be financed.

A cost report for each community will be submitted to the informal study group at its next meeting July 7, according to City Manager Donald C. Egbert.

A second report on how the project can be established legally is also expected to be submitted at this meeting.

UNDER ACT 342 of the Public Acts of 1933 the project could be initiated under the county drain commission. First step would be in formulating the sewage disposal district to be served by the interceptor. Under this act capital costs would have to be collected equitably from the several communities and operating expenses would be based on the number of connections in each community.

"There is an apparent inequity in charging the present connected load serving 20,000 people during the early years of the project's amortization when the system is proposed to serve a maximum of 170,000 people," Egbert explained.

Approve Plat

A seven lot plat of Hanna's subdivision on the northeast corner of McClung and Southfield was approved by Southfield township board members Tuesday night.

See the new slim silhouette. The new Carrier scarcely extends beyond the sill, yet it cools, filters, dehumidifies and ventilates. Dependable? It's built by the people who know air conditioning best!

Ordinance Supports Lathrup City Court

An ordinance to establish fees and court costs for a municipal court in Lathrup Village was adopted Monday night by city councilmen.

The court will meet Monday nights at the temporary city hall, 19300 Forest, from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m.

The ordinance also creates a violations bureau at the city hall where violations fines under the traffic, dog, nuisance and culvert ordinances may be paid during day hours.

"CAN'T I help?" I asked. "Take it easy," she says, "Haven't you heard about
