Represents State Diocese at 1955 Episcopal Meet

One of four clergymen of the Diocese of Michigan attending the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church in Honolulu, Sept. 4-16, will be the Rev. Robert DeWitt, rector of Christ Church Cranbrook. Mr. DeWitt is a member of the group's House of Deputies.

General conventions are held every three years, with this being the first to meet in a missionary district, such as Honolulu. Since the first session in 1785, this also is the first meeting outside the Continental United States. One convention in 1919, saw headquarters in Detroit.

The House of Deputies has a potential membership of 654, equally divided between clerical and lay deputies, with each diocese allowed four representatives in each section.

Mr. DeWitt, combining pleasure with convention duties, will be accompanied by his wife and two of their children.

LOCATED ON Big Beaver road, the new Northminster Presbyterian church will be one of the area's sensational buildings. The white, circular sanctuary, however, is a part of a long range building plan and will not be seen for some time. In the above photo the area with the slightly raised roof will be the first section underway, later to become the youth chapel. The floor plan of this section, to be built this winter, is shown at the left. Plans are by a Birmingham architect, Linn C. Smith, AIA.

Novel Design for New Church

Plans have been approved for Birmingham's newest church building, one of the most unusual to be found anywhere in the area.

Membership of Northminster Presbyterian church have approved plans of a Birmingham architect, Linn C. Smith, AIA, for his contemporary design for the main sanctuary in an impressive circular structure.

This portion of the Sunday's plan, however, will be a future project, with the first unit under construction to later become a youth chapel.

The temporary worship hall will provide seating for 150 persons and have four classrooms. Construction, it is hoped, will get underway shortly, since the present meeting place, Poppleton school, will not be available after the March.

The Rev. Mackay Taylor and Paul Vail, elder, building committee chairman, said the new church establishment on Big Beaver road, just east of Adams, would be one of the newest in design, planned to serve a rapidly growing area made up mostly of young families.

* * *

THE MAIN sanctuary will be in the form of Westminster Cross, with an adult lounge and youth lounge flanking the circular portion to the north and south.

The sanctuary will utilize powered and non-powered ventilation of triangular facets. The plan provides for a perimeter of triangular windows facing four enclosed courtyards or garden, a natural background for worshipers.

The pulpit will be nearly in the center of the circular area, with the choir located behind it. The organ, located left of pulpit in the sanctuary, and three in the transept, will have an modified view of the speaker.

WHEN COMPLETED, the entire church will be surrounded by an ornamental wall bearing a design of open crosses.

Northminster Presbyterian church was formed a year ago to meet the need of a rapidly expanding community, especially in the northeast section. The specific area planned for the church family is bounded by Woodward, Grand Trunk line, Derby, Coolidge and Maple roads. At the time of last September's survey, about 700 families were tabulated for the area.

While the new church is planned primarily to serve the religious need of the section, it also will remove some of the load from First Presbyterian, the only church in the faith in Birmingham prior to Northminster's formation.
