Maccabees Sponsor Driving Campaign

As part of its program to actively participate in local, state and national community and fraternal projects, The Maccabees began its Safe Driving Campaign. President Eisenhower proclaimed December 1st as S-D Day. This is the day on which motorists reiterate their pledge to drive safely.

The Maccabees Life Insurance Society began its participation in the program on November 16th, S-D Day minus 15. On that date the Maccabees began to display on the building two white flags on three days when no traffic death has occurred on the previous day. When a traffic death has occurred in the city, black flags are displayed on the building the following day.

The Maccabees Building houses the international headquarters of the 27 year-old fraternal insurance society. It is located in Detroit's beautiful Art Center north of the downtown area of the city. The fourteen-story structure is so illuminated that its upper part can be seen for many miles each way.

Traffic director James Hoye and the Division of Traffic Safety of the City of Detroit are cooperating in furnishing the daily statistics so that the proper colored flags may be displayed each day.

In this way, the Society hopes to keep the people constantly aware of the importance of traffic safety.
