THE AID IN BIRMINGHAM.
 Good News at the Park and a Fine Display of Fireworks.
 Although there had been but little cause made over the matter and no regular celebration, the day mapped out, the fact that the aid to be raised at Birmingham on the afternoon of Monday last drew a large crowd, and when the time came for the races to be called at the driving park, a glance over the grounds from the "Judge's" stand showed a well-filled enclosure and the bon ton of the surrounding country were out in force and we are sure they will regard for their trouble and small expense, the races were all that could be desired.
 After a brief consultation the Judges, Messrs Mark Hall, J. I. Randle and C. F. Crouch, called up the
 which proved a hot one and the feature of the day which had drawn the better portion of the crowd, the contestants being from this locality and having primacy in the hearts of their respective admirers. The Springfield colt drew the pole, the others following in the order named in the summary.

THE THIRD AND FOURTH RACES were also of interesting nature, as indeed was the entire race, the leading work honestly and straight, trotting every inch of the road. Allie W. leaving his best but once in the entire race. The Simonson mare was driven for all there was in the race by her trainer, Churchill. Lady Franklin was not in as good condition as could be desired and Hunter Savage was taken for a horse that can trot fast, yet they kept well together throughout the race and made it very interesting.
THE FIVE MILE RACE.
 was also an interesting feature, as indeed was the first heat. It was understood by the race ones that Billy C. was to have the race and the Purly C. was to be equally divided. After the first heat it was thought by the drivers that Topsy's driver would "drive it out" or in other words to win the race if he could not. When the races fall out honest men get their share and after the second heat it was a race for the best horse with every driver mad and "the devil take the hindmost." Topsy was set back to third place in the first heat and second place in the second for running.

THE THREE MINUTE RACE
 had but few spectators after the first heat, it being a slow race with the entry first money to Lady Gray, she being a great deal the best of the trio.
THE RACE OVER WITH, the crowd came home to see which, whatever they may have lacked in quality made ample amends in quantity, sky-rockets, candles and "pina" illuminating the night to a late hour, the hall at the National drawing a fair share of attention.
 Our driving park needs a new high, broad fence, a grand stand and a judges' stand. This would make our grounds suitable for the fair, races or other entertainment would bring crowds here where they would otherwise go elsewhere. Who will make the first move? —

First-class Single and Double Rigs.
 I have recently prepared for my Liverying Business at considerable expense of Taylor Improved Rig Caskets for burring the dead. The method keeps the ice from direct contact with the remains and draws away with the salt water of embalming, preserving and making the body last longer.
