knocked him back into bed again. A traveling man leaped back against the office, substituted his coat and pulled out a card with the inscription, "I am something of a liar myself."

It is reported that the State Agricultural society lost $100,000 this year by holding the state fair at Jackson. We have always advocated that the state fair be held in the city.

A strange occurrence happened in regard to the death of Edward Millman's son, which was his second half-brother. At 2 a. m. just at the time the accident occurred, the mother in Fort Gratiot says she distinctly heard her son's footsteps on the sidewalk outside their house and heard him come to the front door and rattle the wire door.

On Saturday last the sad news came to Mrs. A. Hunter that her son-in-law, Joseph Linsbury of Hope, Ind., had been drowned on the day previous while fishing near that place.
