Political Symbols Set Theme at Meeting

WESTCHESTER — An elephant and donkey, playing bridge, decorated the invitations and set the political theme for the luncheon sponsored by the Westchester women's club at the Birmingham country club recently.

Club members were entertained by members in a program directed by Mrs. Melvin Goddell.

Three accomplished pianists played during the cocktail hour and an eight-member choral group and several soloists were also on the program.

IN A LIGHTER mood, was the skit entitled "Suburbia goes to the Polls." The gals dramatized fun at the polls from the early bird who arrived in pajamas and robe to the gardener in bermudas who dropped in at noon. The skit ended with a sweater gal who finally made it just as the polls were closing.

Dried arrangements with tiny American flags centered the tables and were later awarded as table prizes.

Mrs. Boris Osojnak and her committee were responsible for the arrangements and the tables decorated in red and blue bunting. Mrs. Norman Duke and Mrs. Jack Bedell were co-chairmen of the luncheon.

CRANBROOK-MAPLE—Mr. and Mrs. William Pearson and daughter Carol Ann of S. Cranbrook road, returned recently from a 5000-mile trip thru Canada and the United States.

They visited Montreal, Ottawa, Quebec City, Prince Edward Island, Halifax, Nova Scotia, Bar Harbor, Boston and Niagara Falls.
