THE Y. P. S. CONCERT.

A Large Audience, Fine Entertainment and Everybody greatly satisfied.

It goes without saying that Birmingham will always turn out a full house to home talent, be it musical or dramatic, and when it is assisted by foreign talent we will prophesy that Piety Hill, in the concert line, will always take the lead. For years Library hall has not been so packed with such an enthusiastic and appreciative audience as gathered to enjoy the concert of last week. For home talent Misses Jennie Peck and Gracie Hopfhauer presided at the piano, and both won many words of praise and admiration by their fine execution and perfect fingering; indeed no one would presume to say but what each player was perfect in fingering, time and harmony.

The opening piece, a cornet duet with piano accompaniment, started the entertainment, followed by a quartette, "Happy and Light," sang by Miss Campbell, Beatty, Messrs Wiles and Smith, which was generously encored. The next number was sung by Andrew F. Stewart of Detroit, but we Piety Hillvillans will always claim him as a Birmingham boy, because we selfishly wish all good people and things to hail from our home. Mr. Stewart's appearance was eagerly looked for and expectations regarding his singing had been pitched high, and they were not to be disappointed, either. His first number, a tenor solo, "A Soldier's Talisman," was sung in a clear, strong voice, full and without effort, and was roundly encored, which was happily and cheerfully answered. In place of the flute solo, Mr. Vickery of Detroit, by earnest and urgent request, gave a powerful recitation that commanded attention from the most careless one in the audience in listening to the sad fate of Lasca, the Texan's savior Mr. Vicary not being down on program, however, proved a valuable acquisition to the concert. Being loudly encored, he good naturedly sang a love song, easily and gracefully. He was followed by a duet, "Two Merry Girls, by Misses Campbell and Beatty, in which both acquitted themselves famously, and this was followed by Mr. Frank F. Lodge, a Detroit baritone singer whose perfect ease faultless voice and general "at home" manner won the audience completely; a very friendly feeling was established at once and a continued round of applause throughout proved that a kindly feeling was safely established. Mr. Lodge was followed by F. W. Sherman and Jennie Peck, violin and piano. Mitchell was to appear in this act, but he fell by the wayside and was carried home ice-packed.

The time for intermission was most agreeably filled by Mr. Vicary who whistled—not your common, every-day whistle, but one way up in high C, operatic air, to a piano accompaniment in which he threw in trills, echos and other little catchy-catches which, to the Birmingham gathering, was something entirely new and wonderful, and he was most vehemently encored. The remainder of the program was carried out to the delight of all and was continued close to 9.30, at which time the Detroit friends had to leave in order to catch their train home.

We would not overlook Prof. Tibbetts, who accompanied Messrs Stewart and Vicary in their respective pieces. Mr. Tibbetts is an instructor in music and Messrs Stewart and Vicary are his pupils, of whom he may well feel proud, as they do their teacher great honor. The Detroiters' visit was very short, but the acquaintances formed will not be soon forgotten.

The male Quartette, "Steal Away," by Messrs Wiles, Smith, Beddow and Hanna, was generously applauded and for an encore they rendered "Cousin Jedediah," a comic quartette that elicited a storm of applause. Misses Mary Leet and Maggie Beatty did extremely well in their duet, "Ah! Could I teach the Nightengale," which was well received and heartily encored. The closing quartette, "Farewell Song," by Miss Campbell, Mrs. Corson, Messrs Beddow and Hanna, was well rendered and loudly cheered. Miss Campbell, as a soprano singer, needs no praise from us, and she acquitted herself very handsomely indeed.

We would not fail to mention F. W. Sherman, who added a great deal to the enjoyment of the evening with his wicked little fiddle, nor Monsieur Willyumi Taberski who gracefully assisted with his cornet. Altogether the entertainment was a grand success. The finances of the society will be strengthened by over $20, which is very satisfactory to the indomitable, energetic and persevering manageress, Mamie E. Utter.

You cannot afford to waste time in experimenting when your lungs are in danger. Consumption always seems at first only a cold. Do not allow any dealer to impose upon you with some cheap imitation of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, coughs and colds, but be sure you get the genuine. Because he can make more profit he may tell you he has something just as good, or just the same. Don't be deceived, but insist on getting Dr. King's New Discovery, which is guaranteed to give relief in all throat lung and chest affections. Honor to Whom Honor is Due.

Alvin Hibbard, who resides on Fort street west, in the Sixteenth Ward, was arrested at the Grand Trunk Junction yesterday by Deputy Sheriff John Harrington on a warrant issued some months ago by Justice Franklin A. Crawford, of Pontiac, charging Hibbard with larceny, on the 10th of May, stolen a cow belonging to Eli G. Sautelle, of Southfield, Oakland Co. Hibbard was lodged in the County jail, and in the evening was taken to Pontiac by Deputy Sheriff Bloomberg, of Oakland County. The cow which Hibbard is alleged to have taken was recovered last June on the Gratiot road and returned to the owner.

[Free Press. The above is slightly mixed and gives the credit to Deputy Harrington which should be shared, at least by James O. Beattie of this place. In the first place, the cow belonged to George Sherman of Southfield and when it was stolen he notified Beattie, who soon recovered the animal and returned it to its rightful owner. The thief escaped to Canada, however, and after leaving a minute description of him at police headquarters, Beattie gave up the chase for the time being. Mr. Harrington took Hibbard to jail at Pontiac on Friday last. Just where they haul Eli Sawtell in as a farmer of Southfield is a conundrum.
