Stephan of this place, who, among many competitors, showed the greatest skill and the best grain of all Goodrich.

Don't forget that Whithead & Mitchell have just received a large consignment of Hemmery's London purple especially adapted for spraying trees to kill the codling moth.

S. B. Wattle of Troy came up last week and took from Whithead & Mitchell over fifty gallons of Royall Bros' codling moth remedy.

Mrs. H. Hall of Royal Oak, who has been a long and patient sufferer with a marked limp, will receive a complimentary benefit concert by the Royal Oak band assisted by talent from this place.

Wm. Van Dusen, whose certificate of marriage was broken up, but what little time she was here was most heartily enjoyed by all her relatives in this vicinity.

The epidemic of the measles which has been raging in this place for the last few weeks, would seem to have reached the limit as nearly every family in the town has had a case of it.

George W. Ansell is around again after a spell of sickness, and we, with his numerous friends, hope soon to see him restored to full health.

Flowers, chickens, fancy work, painting, wood carving, embroidery, knitting, china painting, etc., will be on exhibition at the cemetery fair.

Money Remittances. The Proper Way to Send Money to Any Place on Earth.

Every day, the year 'round, there are thousands of letters sent through the mails to every imaginable place, for the purchase of goods, the payment of debts and for almost every imaginable purpose.

Another risk is the fact that the party to whom the remittance is made may not be the person who received the letter, and if the remittance is made in the usual manner the chances of the remitter's ability to prove that he sent the money are out in a thousand.

Now, to 'print a moral,' we would duly impress upon our readers the importance of using the safest, most rapid and most certain way of remitting money in large or small amounts.
