

ADVERTISED LETTERS.

The following is a list of letters remaining unclaimed at the Birmingham P. O. for the month ending Dec. 31, 1939.

James Adams, 7; Rosa Cole, John J. Snook, Rev. Wm. Tilley, Mrs. Nancy Welfare.

Persons calling for any of the above will please say "advertised."

F. HAGEMAN, P. M.

MISS BEAVER REZARSKI.

Elihu Hill and wife are visiting friends in Geasson county.

James Biekeley and wife are recovering from a severe and prolonged illness. Mrs. Louisa is slowly regaining her health.

Mrs. Campbell received a paralytic shock two weeks ago but her recovery is so rapid that she will regain her accustomed health.

Mrs. Dr. Woodruff has been suffering from neuritis but is now some better.

Warren James and Thelma Taylor are in the lumber business, also F. A. Judd, Mrs. J. R. Giddings and Miss J. Ehling spent their New Years with Mr. Brougham and wife, of Frostburg, Md.

Between Elder Jones and James O. Beattie they have changed the completion of this section of the country. They have converted or taken to full credit a few of the worst miners of the place. Elder T. C. Jones has converted over one half and gone home to spend New Year and to let Beattie catch up and then he is going to come back and have a "high old time" converting every miner that Beattie don't put in jail. This is a work that ought to have been done years ago. Come back, Beattie, it may be too long, but the good work goes on.

The following officers were elected at the Red Ribbon hall last Saturday evening:

President—Mr. H. B. ...
 First Vice President—L. B. ...
 Second Vice President—Dr. Woodruff ...
 Secretary—Miss C. M. ...
 Financial Secretary—Miss L. E. ...
 Treasurer—E. W. ...
 Organist—Mrs. J. E. ...
 11th Street—Miss H. ...
 1st Street—Miss ...
 Second Marshal—Miss ...

Reflections.

"In a multitude of counselors there is safety," wrote King Solomon, thereby strengthening his title to be called the King of Kings of all time. But he omitted to state in whose favor the safety accrued. There is much to indicate that the conclusion of our day is that it is the counselors themselves who reap the principal benefits of aggregation. In municipal matters, for example, the multiplication of government has been found so convenient for the evasion of responsibility that it is now where the reform spirit is irascible the tendency has been to return to the one-man power.

When these little laws have so many cooks that the broth has been impured it is a satisfaction, now and then, to have one of them turn state's evidence and make it hot for the rest. Of this nature is the action of Dr. Mackenzie, whose book about the Emperor Frederick has proved almost as valuable a source of contention among the "insiders" of this town as its unfortunate subject was to the Germans.

It is understood that Frederick's German doctors made some sort of a statement which was reflected, with extraordinary Mackenzie's skill. What they said, being conveyed by their favored and unfamiliar tongue, possessed no great interest to English speaking people, but Mackenzie's reply, written in clear and convincing English, has given great satisfaction to the patron class of that tongue. All that has been done and all that has been said about it may be considered important to the statement that Frederick's physicians, having disagreed with the usual English ones, many have a new respect and regard for his opinion of German Physicians.
