HOME NOTES.

Gay C. Wallace is home for a short vacation. Fred D. Smith has been in town for a few days.

A light snow storm on Friday last—quite a March day indeed. A full file of the Legislative Journal can be found at the Library room.

The Library opens Saturdays from two to five, and from 9:30 to 10:30 p. m. Wanted: A girl for general house work. Apply to W. H. Hawkes, Maple avenue.

Mr. Ira Chaffield has moved from Maple street to his new home on Southfield avenue. The plot of the new ground at the cemetery is in the hands of the treasurer.

Some of our farmer friends began plowing over two weeks ago—a very unusual thing in March. Only half of the candidates nominated last night of the week just passed were elected.

W. H. Martin has moved with his family from Fostoria to Otter Lake, Mich. Please remember that the officers of the Cemetery Association will be glad of any shrubs, vines, or trees, you may have to spare.

Editor Kelley of the Bill Poster urges the ball boys to get a regular club that the club can be organized before the new fine sport turkey time. Riches along with honor and glory shine upon the forces of Rochester, Wis., as they have money to loan on good security.

Laranda Wooster has moved from Carrollton to Prospect, Okemaw Co., Mich. Mr. Mayor best wishes for his good luck in the new location.

Fred Stockwell is in the wholesale dry goods house of Strong, Lee & Co. of Detroit, with every prospect of becoming one of Detroit's first business men.

The Ladies' Working society of the Mrs. Hunter Friday afternoon, April 5th, Mrs. Nellie Calk, secretary.

Our thanks are due to Mr. H. H. Wibr of South Dak., Beadle Co., for an interesting pamphlet, giving the growth of that flourishing county.

The postage year is $10,000 on the Detroit Free Press, and at its one cent per pound outside of Wayne County, means a big circulation and a good paper.

Wm. Parks is going to quit farming and has for sale a horse, wagon, harness, chickens, etc. Anyone having use for anything in this line should see Will at once.

The genial and clever James Hill last week sold his span of thoroughbred bay mares to Doctor Boy for the round sum of $475, after which we noticed Mr. Hill examining closely into the mysteries of Paycol.

The regular annual meeting of the Birmingham Cemetery Association will be held at Library hall, Saturday, April 5, at three p. m.

Miss Fanny Kuder returned home from Washington last week on a visit to her father and mother, who are both on the sick list.

Mr. J. Allen Bigelow of Birmingham, late gentlemanly and efficient county treasurer, is a candidate for U. S. Senator against Dr. Detroit, Va. hope that Mr. Bigelow may be appointed as he is a man who would fill the office with honor and trust.

The railroads of Michigan have all agreed to run two half-day excursions to Detroit during the April 2, 3, 4, and 5 Floral Exhibition.

Last Monday's work at the polls was a surprise to each town, but Royal Oak capped the climax when the elected the entire democratic ticket with one exception.

The following from the Adrian Press speaks volumes for the orthodoxy of that locality: "A special contest at the blizzard wendy nite or last week the west-side candidate the east side ones were that the east side was all placed out in a bustle there was fire up them west side writers all stand up a spell for all their war in an them nothing like a neigkusham."

The first annual meeting of the Oakland County Sunday School Association will be held in Pontiac, Thursday and Friday, April 11 and 12, 1930.

Speaking of advertising it is often observed that some of the business people, whose announcements are seldom ever found in local papers, are always to be found in such catchall schemes as clocks, hotel registers, desks, mirrors and other devices put up in places, which only attract momentary attention and they are at once forgotten.

The philosophy class of the high school and a few others met at the laboratory on Tuesday evening of last week, and witnessed some very fine experiments in electricity under the supervision of Prof. Hawkes.

The Toledo, Saginaw & Mackinac train No. 2, arriving at Muskegon at 3:30 p. m., and the Detroit, Grand Haven & Milwaukee "night" train No. 3, arriving at Grand Haven at 6:25 p. m., both make close connection with these boats.

A Good Girl and a Bad Boy, by Myrtle B. Paine. From the Detroit Sunday News.

Once upon a time there was a good girl and a very good boy. She had lovely blue eyes and long light curls. She lived with a lame aunt. She was goodly, good, and was too cute for nothing.

Once upon another time there was a boy and a girl. He was in swimming on Sunday when it thundered and the lightning didn't hit him.

There will be a meeting in the basement of the M. E. church, Birmingham, on Saturday night, at 7:30, to make arrangements for Memorial day. Let us all be bold of this and do it with the best of the cause.

The towns of Troy, Royal Oak, Southfield and Bloomfield have many brave boys in memory, who are dead heroes, and the universal feeling to "honor the brave" is being felt. Many hands to this day work.

The old retailers are especially invited, and let us see to it that the advance is well supported.
