

THE BIRMINGHAM ECCENTRIC.
WHITFIELD STREET.
Published at Birmingham, Ala., every week.
The introduction of smokeless powder will immensely increase the horrors of war. It is said that smokeless powder smells more than cigarettes.

JAY GORDON'S first name is Jason. An evilest being of our age, now known as Jay Gordon, has been in the gold mines of the Wall Street.

GUESS
Whitehead & Mitchell are found to give lots of goods away. What with their Credit Checks free for all, and their free gift of a good watch to any customer who trades $10.00 (sugar excepted) unlimited, they are now up to a new scheme.

THIS IS WHAT IT IS.
For the one who guesses right the number of seeds in a pumpkin they have an expedition, on the first day of January, 1901, they will present a new and beautiful $25.00 drawer WHITE SEWING MACHINE in antique oak case. In case of a tie, the loser will win the machine equally. In case no one guesses the exact number the one nearest the number will win and if any tie on the nearest to the said guess, they will also win equally.

Now, Who Are Entitled To Guess?
Each and every customer who trades one dollar (sugar excepted) will be allowed one guess for each and every dollar's worth traded. Every subscriber to THE ECCENTRIC, who pays one dollar either paper or cash, on or before January 1st, 1901, will be entitled to five guesses. Anyone who settles up their bank account from now until the time expires will be allowed one guess on each dollar so paid. Now let the guessing begin.
