THE FIVE DOLLAR SCENE.

DETROIT, Mich., March 8, 1901.

GENTLEMEN: I have noticed letters from persons offering to be one in twenty to pay $5 each for village improvements. This is quite commendable, but the amount named is too small to do any material good.

The people of Birmingham must wake up and do something to make the village attractive or Detroit will become Detroit's favorite and Detroit suburb to which your village has aspired.

Our water works system is one big success and the pride of every Birminghamer's heart and with our Union School makes step high with pride and the consciousness of being right up with our sister villages as regards enterprise and advancement.
