Our people will be pleased to find we have a wide awake reliable audience... Mr. J. P. Fletcher and family will occupy the Mrs. Fredericks house on Maple...

The first of April Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Blackwell visited the old gate, which they attended for the past fourteen years. The worthy couple will move into the John Beattie house on the farm owned by Mr. Wm. Allen, and William Cobb and family will tend the gate hereafter.

Mr. O. L. Robinson is at her old home on her farm in Troy where she will stay until the place is rented or sold. This place contains 14 acres, is only 3/4 of a mile from the Birmingham sidewalk and can be bought very reasonably.

We were buying a basket at a stand near the market in Detroit the other day, and an old woman stepped up to the stand and asked the price of a basket.

Having decided to discontinue business, and desiring to condense it as much as possible before doing so, we hereby give notice that we shall positively give no credit to anyone on or after April 1st, 1901, but we will give 10 per cent off on every purchase on and after said date.

PHYSIC SCIENCE. For the purpose of laying this much heard of but generally little understood subject, psychic science, before our readers, we have engaged our fellow-townsman, Mr. S. Alexander, to write a series of articles on the subject, which will be published from time to time.

At the present time the subject of psychic science is attracting a great deal of attention from all thinking people. The word psychic is from the Greek language and means soul or mind.

In the past these experiences have been treated, scorned, ridiculed by those who have not had them and for this reason unheeded and unrecorded by the world. This condition of things has applied quite to our modern limitations of fear of scorn or obloquy, prying into the mysteries of the soul.
