OUR SYRIAN LETTER.

LATAKIA, Syria, April 17, 1891.

DEAR CLYDE:—Your good letter deserves a prompt reply and while my trip to Eldasy is fresh in my mind I will write you about it.

The place is 13 or 14 miles from Latakia or as they say here 4 1-2 hours away. We went along the only made road there is, until we crossed a bridge, then struck across the country on a narrow bridle-path. Like the brook "it wound about and in and out" over plowed ground across grain fields and streams, up hill and down. We saw barley fields, white unto the harvest, and other fields being plowed for the second crop. The plowing was done with yokes of oxen just as they did in the long ago times when Elijah found Elisha plowing with twelve yoke of oxen before him. You would be surprised to think they could turn up the ground with their crude plows. We saw the good ground, the thorns, the stony ground and one day a sower "sowing the seed." There are no fences in this country. Around town there are fierce looking barriers of cactus, but in the country there is nothing to obscure the view or keep out cattle but the "herders." We saw several herds of cows and flocks of sheep and goats. We passed a string of young camels linked together one after the other each one having a burden to carry. The man or leader in front riding a large camel. The camels have soft feet like sponges, Their owners put tar all over them to keep away the flies. When we got to Eldasy all the folks came out to welcome us. On Sabbath we held our communion services in the school room. This is a long, narrow room and in the farther end is a loom which gives employment to one of our boys. There were a great many outsiders who came that day to see the "Frange" more than to hear the word of God. Our communion table was a narrow bench only a foot from the floor, the members sitting on either side on the floor. Everything was so strange and curious to me, I had hard work to keep my mind from wandering, but I noticed that the people were sincere and earnest in their worship and I trust it was acceptable in God's sight. Between these people, who are Christ's followers, who live soberly and uprightly, dress decently and live comfortably, and their neighbors, who are lawless and wicked, the difference is so great one cannot but feel that the years spent among the "poor Fellaheen," have not been in vain. I realized more than ever that the religion of Christ is a living reality, and not an empty form. So much for our visit.

We are having very warm weather now and plenty of new vegetables. One called "Koosa" is about the size of a large green cucumber, sliced and fried in butter, it is quite nice vegetable oysters. After it gets old the seeds are taken out and the skins dried for winter use and are stuffed with rice and meat. We have an early Persian fruit resembling the "medlar," which grows in England, this is only good to eat raw. It has from 3 to 5 large round seeds. Soon we will have "egneris," a delicious fruit, half cherry and half plum. These people are always eating something, seeds generally. Water melon seeds are much liked. They boil them in salted water and eat them when dry. Pulse, what Daniel thrived so well on, is another favorite. It tastes like dried peas only not quite so hard. Any green fruit they like, green peaches, apricots, olives and almonds, the latter eaten with salt.

In one of my home letters I wrote of my trip by sea to Light house. A strong wind was blowing that day and the sea was rough; every once in a while we would go through places as smooth as glass and so clear that we could observe the sponges at the bottom of the sea. The boatmen told us that the smoothness was caused by oil which the fishermen pour on the water to make it quiet, so they can see the fish. The sponges I have seen are great curiosities. Dr. Balph has one 20 inches in diameter and 6 inches thick. We are having our spring vacation. Next Sabbath is Easter Sabbath, but we do not let our girls go home until the grand feast day is over. On Friday preceding they have the burial of Christ, a coffin is borne around from the bishop's house to the church and the people think if they can only touch it, they will be cured of whatever sickness they may have. But I fear I weary you. With "salaams" to you and friends generally. Yours,

MARY R. MCCARROLL.

NOW TRY THIS.

It will cost you nothing and will surely do you good, if you have a Cough, Cold, or any trouble with Throat, Chest or Lungs. A Happy Accident.

Willie—My pa was struck by lightning once.

Johnnie—Did it kill him?

Willie—No, not quite.

Johnnie—Then that wasn't nothin'. My pa was run over by the cars and my ma got damages enough to buy him a tombstone and furnished the parlor in red plush.

Science on the Slum.

Doctor—Troubled with insomnia, eh? Eat something before going to bed.

Patient—Why, doctor, you once told me never to eat anything before going to bed.

Doctor (with dignity)—That, madam, was away back in 1888. Science has made great strides since then.

Pills vs. Mills.

Mr. Hacking Koff—"Doctor, didn't you make a mistake in going into medicine instead of the army?"

Mr. Eagle—"Why?"

Mr. Koff—"By the way you charge your bills made there wouldn't be much left of an enemy."

Making Him Ashamed.

"I—if you only knew what tse till was for," sobbed the young wife, "you would b-be ashamed to scold so about it."

"What was it for?" demanded John.

"My birthday present for you," said the sad little wife.

Always There.

Dashaway—Say, old man, I wish you would tell me where your tailor is. I like his work and I want to order some clothes." Travers (gloomily)—"You will find him at my house."

Gone Already.

"Do you expect to go away next summer?"

"Great Scott, no! Can't afford it—been ravaged for three months."

Bargain No. 49.

Rev. Jas. McCracken, of Southfield, offers his farm for sale and a right good piece of property it is, too. This farm has a good house, with five rooms and cellar, good barns, plenty of fruits etc., and described as follows. East half of the southeast quarter of section 34, town 2 N., range 10 E., less 10 acres; containing nearly 60 acres. The farm is 4 of a mile north of Erb's Mill, 2½ miles southwest of Birmingham, with ample buildings in good order, with never failing spring stream near the buildings, a good young orchard. Will be sold at his value. Call on Whitehead & Mitchell, or the owner, on the premises, Jas. McCracken.

Bargain No. No. 48.

Of course everyone [illegible] some Birmingham real estate just now, and we can offer them a bargain in the line this week. The house and lot formerly occupied by Cyrus Jarvis, will be sold at a ridiculously low figure. It is the third house west of the residence of J. O. Beattie's on Brown street, and will go very soon at the figure name we offer it. The premises can be found in shape and the house is convenient and comfortable. Don't buy in this village until you have looked this property up. You cannot lose money on it at the price we ask you. For particulars call on Whitehead & Mitchell.

"Please deliver at my residence, from your Nurseries, the varieties and the quantities of stock named (NO SUBSTITUTION TO BE MADE * * * All stock to be of your first-class grade and to be delivered in a healthy condition."

The above is a part of the order blank which our customers sign in ordering stock from us, and this shows the fair terms under which they are to receive stock from our Nurseries. But if we fail to deliver as per terms of this order, of course they are released from their obligation to pay. Our stock needs no ordering, if you want our pay. Notice that we agree not to substitute. Many firms have a clause in their order blank giving them the right to substitute other kinds, in case they have not the kinds selected by customers. This is not fair to the customer, and customers buying under such terms are not sure as to the varieties that they will receive. There is no complaint in regard to this; but all customers buying from us will have no cause for complaint; as the stock will be exactly what they order in each and every case.

THE BEE-HIVE,

Near Court House, Pontiac, Mich.

TO THE PUBLIC:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:—We have had this season the cream of the Carpet Trade of this city. We have in fact, had it for years, but this season more pronouncedly and in a more marked degree than ever before. Although on the Saturday since April 1st our great sale has only just been heard of by some, and many from the adjoining townships and neighboring counties are now visiting us and purchasing their Carpets, Curtains, Dress Goods and General Dry Goods.

and meanwhile we have enough on hand to supply all your wants, therefore we ask you all to continue to come to the Old Reliable Bee-Hive and make your spring and summer purchases of Dry Goods in all our well known lines, thus taking advantage of our great sale to get same at the CUT and SACRIFICE PRICES incident to this sale. Our store is open during all business hours and our stock has all been obtained from the leading jobbers, importers and manufactures of New York, Boston and Philadelphia and the other principal markets and business centers of the east, all our carpets coming to us directly from the mills, thus doing entirely away with agents' profits. Do not be deceived but examine well the qualities of the goods you buy; that is the main point, of our arguments, as the Bee-Hive never has in any manner dealt in shoddy goods and we are in every way up to the times and at it betimes as everyone knows one has to who lets the people know where to trade, what to get and how to buy good goods for a little money.

We remain yours,

JOHN POUND & BRO.
