He returned for his man early Friday morning, and at once started on the Cincinnati, Saginaw & Mackinaw train at 8 a. m., with his prisoner in charge of a deputy named Lloyd. Frederick Woolfenden, cashier of the Dime Savings bank of Detroit, and highly respected and prominent citizen and member of society, was drowned while bathing with his two sons in Orion Lake, about 40 miles from the city, Sunday. The reports from Lansing indicate that the weather conditions for the past week have been unfavorable to corn and potatoes and it has been too dry. Harvesting has progressed finely, and the acreage of oats are out, and some thrashing has been done. The yield is good. The effect of the continued dry spell will be beginning to seriously affect corn and potatoes, and unless a good rainfall occurs soon the yield will be much materially reduced. There was little or no rainfall in any section of the state except in Manistee and Ottawa counties, where local showers occurred. With good rains the coming week the yield of corn and potatoes will be considerably increased.

Killed by Her Rejected Lover.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 10.—About 9 o'clock Sunday an affair of love, disappointment and jealously terminated in the murder of a girl by her rejected lover. The victim, Miss Ida Kipp, had September promised to marry Lewis Levi, but afterward rejected him. Since then Levi has been inflamed with rage and wounded pride. Tonight he met Miss Kipp going with an escort and he followed her on Sixth street to Fifth and John streets, near the Fifth street garden. There he emptied three shots from his revolver in Miss Kipp's body, killing her on the spot. Levi was arrested. He has been working on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad and is an applicant for appointment on the police force.

Another Railroad Monopoly.

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 12.—The Manitoba & Northern railway will absorb the Manitoba system of railways. The latter line will in turn be swallowed up by the Canadian Pacific. This will give the corporation every mile of railway in Manitoba. The only difficulty in the way of a direct fusion of the Canadian Pacific and the Northern Pacific is that the constitution of the two companies is forbidden by the charter of the latter company. Mr. Van Horne's trip to England is said to have been in conjunction with the project.

Wrecked by a Landslide.

DENVER, Col., Aug. 10.—A crowded passenger train on the Denver & Rio Grande railroad was wrecked by a most peculiar accident Friday morning at Debeque, 400 hundred miles west of here. As the train was passing through a deep cut near the station a landslide nearly a quarter of a mile in length came down the side of the mountain into the cut, sweeping the train from the track and nearly burying a portion of it. The passengers were badly frightened but luckily none of them were injured.

THE GRAND ARMY.

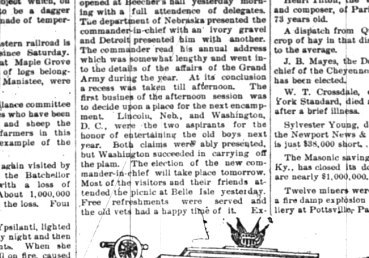
The Silver Encampment at Detroit the Best in the History of the Organization.

Washington Chosen for the Next Encampment.—The Picnic at the Island.

John H. Palmer, of New York, Elected Commander-in-Chief For This Year.

Washington Next Year.

DETROIT, Aug. 6.—The proceedings of the Grand Army convention of 1891 were opened at Beecher's hall yesterday morning with a full attendance of delegates. The department of Nebraska presented the commander-in-chief with an ivory gravel and Detroit presented him with another. The commander read his annual address which was somewhat lengthy and went into the details of the affairs of the Grand Army during the year. At its conclusion a recess was taken till afternoon. The first business of the afternoon session was to decide upon a place for the next encampment. Lincoln, Neb., and Washington, D. C., were the two aspirants for the honor of entertaining the old boys next year. Both claims were ably presented, but Washington succeeded in carrying off the palm. The election of the new commander-in-chief will take place tomorrow. Most of the visitors and their friends attended the picnic at Belle Isle yesterday. Free refreshments were served and the old vets had a happy time of it. Ex-



THE TRIUMPHAL ARCH ON WOODWARD AVENUE.

Senator Palmer presided at the speechmaking and addresses were made by several well-known men. A great part of the day was spent in marching, and the parade ended in campfires throughout the city. In the evening nearly everybody witnessed the fine firework display on the river, and afterwards many of the visitors prepared to take their departure for their respective homes.

Elected New Officers.

DETROIT, August 7.—Yesterday the grand army organization elected officers for the ensuing year, as follows: Commander-in-chief, John Palmer, New York; senior vice-commander-in-chief, H. M. Duffield, Michigan; junior vice-commander-in-chief, R. S. Carlson, Nebraska; surgeon-general, B. F. Stevenson, Kentucky; chaplain-in-chief, S. B. Paine, Florida. The encampment refused to establish a color line. In the evening a grand banquet was tendered to the delegates to the encampment at the Detroit rink, which had been handsomely fitted for the occasion. Upwards of 1,200 people participated in the banquet. The menu was elaborate and the banquet jolly. Ike Alger presided and some half-dozen speeches were made. Yesterday was the last day of the encampment, and the city is now being rapidly deserted by the visitors. The event of the encampment will be long remembered in the annals of the city, as it will be long ere Detroit will see its like again. The veterans will carry away with them only the pleasantest memories of the city of the straits.

In the Wicked City.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—Sunday was the hottest day of the year, the signal service thermometer marking 97 degrees. About 5 o'clock dark storm clouds gathered and a brisk wind storm came from the northwest, accompanied by rain and heavy peals of thunder. The temperature dropped 20 degrees in 15 minutes. Several houses were struck by lightning and the fire alarm was fired by a bolt and destroyed. William Collins, a teamster, was struck by lightning and killed. Williams, manager of the Union News company, was unpacking a box of peaches which he had received from southern Texas, a tarantula leaped from the box and fastened its fangs in the middle finger of his right hand. He threw it from him and the reptile was killed. In half an hour from the time he was bitten Williams began to get wild and his pain was so great that it took three men to hold him. Three doctors are in attendance, but no hope is entertained of saving the man's life.

Another Whitechapel Murder.

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—At an early hour Friday morning a woman named Wolfe was found in the notorious Whitechapel district with her throat cut and many other wounds on her body. She was found in a seventy years of age, and though unconscious when found has since recovered. She did not see her assailant, who jumped from a doorway and, bending her head back, cut her throat. Many believe it was the work of "Jack the Ripper."

Killed His Brother.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 10.—John Huff, an extensive land owner, was shot and killed miles north of Willis, I. T., shot and instantly killed his crazy brother, who lives with him, and mortally wounded his own wife. The insane man attacked him with a knife and John, in self-defense, shot him three times with a Winchester and one of the bullets passed through the man's body and struck Huff's wife with the above result.

The steamship Cachemire, which arrived at New York last week with 160 Italian emigrants passengers aboard, had a most peculiar experience. One day out from Marseilles it was reported to the captain that the soft coal in the bunkers was on fire. He immediately gave orders that the strictest secrecy should be maintained in order to prevent a panic among the passengers and water was then turned upon the burning mass. It took 10 days to put out the fire, and during that time the passengers were unaware of their danger.

FEMININITIES.

Envy shoots at others and wounds herself.

The man who prays loudest and longest usually has something on his conscience.

To clean willow furniture use salt and water. Apply it with a nail-brush, scrub well, and dry thoroughly.

If idleness be the root of all evil, then matrimony is good for something, for it sets many a poor woman to work.

Every man who has had the key to the situation has lost it because he was not in a condition to discover the keyhole.

An old gentleman of great experience says he is never satisfied that a lady understands a kiss unless he has it from her own mouth.

A New Englander boasts of a bed spread that was woven in 1759, and has been handed down from generation to generation ever since.

Queen Victoria has in her possession a dress woven entirely of spiders' webs, which for fineness and beauty is said to surpass the most splendid silk. It was a gift from the Empress of Brazil in 1877.

Veils are injurious to the eyes, especially black veils of crape and those which are spotted or figured. A veil should never be worn, except to protect the eyes from dust or dirt, and then for as short a time as possible.

"It has invariably been observed in public bodies," says a certain statesman, "that the more you talk the less you believe. They may not have a chance to talk much at home, but they have unexampled opportunities to observe and think."

The frequency of pulse-beat is increased by drinking hot water or tea, diminished by drinking ithese cold. Adding a woolen covering to the clothing of the body increases the pulse by about ten beats a minute. Mental activity diminishes it more or less.

There is a widow in Camden who is thinking seriously of marrying again; but she is so afraid her first husband will be offended that she visits his grave and prays him to forgive her. His grave has been better attended to the last six months than ever before.

"Now, little Marie," said a French lady to her godchild, as they passed a confectioner's shop in which a variety of sweetmeats was displayed "shall I give you Faith, Hope and Charity in chocolate?" Marie reflected for a moment and then rose to the occasion: "Merci, but I should like the twelve apostles, because they will be more to eat."

There is only one woman member of the British national rifle association, Miss Leale, but there are few better marksmen, if the term will apply. At a contest in London she made a total score of 32—many of them bull's eyes—out of a possible 35.

John Adams in his old age went to Faneuil hall to see Stuart's Washington, near which stood his own bust. Pointing to the hero's firmly closed mouth he said: "That great man could hold his tongue, which that fool," tapping the bow bust with his cane, "never could learn."

"There's nothing like leather"
When well put together.

Detroit is to-day the leading tobacco manufacturing city of the great northwest, and for nearly a quarter of a century the Globe Tobacco company, of that city has contributed, by the high standard of its goods, to make this fact possible. The new factory of the company, located on east Fort street, is a model establishment and a credit to the city of the straits. It is from this factory that the popular "Hand Made" flake cut tobacco is now distributed to the thousands of retail dealers handling this popular brand of goods. The claim that "Hand Made" flake cut is the best pipe smoking tobacco ever made for general use is now backed by many hundred thousand pipe smokers over this broad land. It is made from choice leaf tobacco, free from all foreign or deleterious substances, prepared under the most perfect formulas and handled by careful operatives with the latest improved special processes. The fact that it is the perfection of smoking tobacco, and that it does not injure the brain or nerves, but that it does strengthen, sooth and satisfy, is now acknowledged by all connoisseurs who have given the goods a single trial.
