

The spirit of the nation is still panting from it, is in brief, a dissolution of the profound peace throughout Europe, and intimates that adjacent powers have their choice of preserving this peace or being shot full of holes.

Wasn't Woodard Kipling? This literary comet that flashed across the sky could hardly disappear from the literary heaven as will the comet which is said to be sweeping its tail across the earth's pathway.

A weight of responsibility for human anguish, broken hearts and butchered thousands Bismarck is willing to assume in the eyes of God and man when he has the right to do it, but he fears the dispatch which precipitated the Franco-Prussian war!

This situation that is warranted to stop the arm of Coriolis, after it shall have dipped its gloved extremity in the gore of Mitchell, is quite touching. It will be approved by all who give it credence save Mitchell himself. He is a man of the people, and the filial devotion he has been so beautifully produced to go into immediate effect.

This used to be a clause in the constitution of Massachusetts declaring that no man should be elected for governor "unless he shall declare himself to be of the Christian religion." But the people voted that one year ago, and when they did it, they did it to prevent a Mohammedan or a Confucian or an infidel from being elected governor.

An Olympia judge surprised a bit of raw material for citizenship by refusing to accept it. He objected to the fact that the candidates could not read the constitution, and that the effectual voter was not read to them they nodded their warmest approval. All comment that seems necessary was made on the spot in the various languages of the rejected.

A CINCINNATI police officer thinks the force ought to be supplied with kodaks, so that they would take a memorandum and file it at different reproductions and subsequently hunt them up at their leisure. The racists might retaliate by taking a picture of the pedler in the act of naming a newspaper, or the act of selling a brief mail, and send the results of their facious industry to the chief of police.

ASSURANCE OF the safety of a second-hand handbag in Mexico full to the brim with cigar gold waiting for somebody to come and cart it away, does not create the furor that might have been expected. Hope in the safety of the bag, however, remains before now, and has been enriched only by the acquisition of an experience that, while of some value, was insufficient recognition for the work and tear on sole leather.

The anarchists, who are epidemic in Paris, are much grieved because France, one of their strongest bases, has refused to drop the head of a basket, has been surrendered by the English to the French authorities. The grief of France himself is little short of anguish. The sense of dying in the cause of anarchy seems dreadfully disagreeable with some other man does the dying. Even the prospect of being a martyr does not buoy up Francis markedly.

Vital men, whose love of life is great, hesitate to concur in the conventional assertion that the suicide is always a wise measure. It is the fear that it would require a great deal of effort for them to blow their brains out. The suicide, however, is nearly always a weakness. Some men of good energy, and robust minds do undoubtably make away with themselves in the despair of a sudden calamity or the fury of a balked passion, but the average self-murderer is simply an incapable whose dread of the effort required to live overcomes his repugnance to death.

It would seem to be high time for Germans to investigate the army expenditure themselves and not take the word of the emperor and his cabinet.

At this time, the war with France, the German army amounted to 1,350,000 soldiers, while the army upon a war footing reaches nearly 4,000,000 men and yet the emperor says that relations with foreign powers are to be maintained.

The old emperor, William I, considered 1,250,000 men as a good army on a war footing.

The young emperor, William II, considered 1,000,000 a model army on a peace footing. It would be interesting to know what the emperors should be the number of soldiers in an army on a war footing.

Treasor of Michael Sullivan offers many chances for conjecture. Just why a man would enter a magazine of explosives with his pipe lighted and smoke a box of giant powder should be reserved till the day never to be quite clear. It is true that there are great possibilities in such a man, but so there are in an earth.

Yet one can make Providence march in Michael Sullivan trifling terms of a part of pantaloon, never very sensible and rarely the worse for wear.

The Leib rifle which sends a bullet through a forest tree and kills the man behind it appears a most horrible instrument of invention, and likely to add indefinitely to the misery of man, leaving the whole ranks of men, leaving the field clear of everything but a ghastly harvest. To this point has the practice of destructive weapons arrived. And having arrived there, the humanitarians who sit at such a thought may take to himself indefinite consolation in the fact that through just such inventions as these all come the abolition of war.

Experts who have investigated the subject say that not more than $100,000 was expended on the plant, buildings and equipment of the Panama canal, and some agree that the total does not exceed $600,000,000, and yet $600,000,000 in bonds were issued and sold for $200,000,000. There is a place where the speculators have got the money? No wonder the French government proposes to prosecute the projectors of this stupendous swindle, rivaling in magnitude the swindles which John Law once perpetrated.

HIS LAST MESSAGE

PRESIDENT HARRISON SENDS A LONG AND STRONG

Message to the Last Session of the 53d Congress—Recitation Upon Canada Is Advised—A Characteristic Stand on Tariff and Silver—Department Reports

To the Senate and House of Representatives in Extraordinary Session:

I have the honor to present to you my last message, in which I, in brief, condense the profound peace throughout Europe, and intimates that adjacent powers have their choice of preserving this peace or being shot full of holes.

THE SPirit of the kaboom is still panting from it, is in brief, a dissolution of the profound peace throughout Europe, and intimates that adjacent powers have their choice of preserving this peace or being shot full of holes.

WASN'T Woodard Kipling? This literary comet that flashed across the sky could hardly disappear from the literary heaven as will the comet which is said to be sweeping its tail across the earth's pathway.

A weight of responsibility for human anguish, broken hearts and butchered thousands Bismarck is willing to assume in the eyes of God and man when he has the right to do it, but he fears the dispatch which precipitated the Franco-Prussian war!

This situation that is warranted to stop the arm of Coriolis, after it shall have dipped its gloved extremity in the gore of Mitchell, is quite touching.

It will be approved by all who give it credence save Mitchell himself. He is a man of the people, and the filial devotion he has been so beautifully produced to go into immediate effect.

This used to be a clause in the constitution of Massachusetts declaring that no man should be elected for governor "unless he shall declare himself to be of the Christian religion."

But the people voted that one year ago, and when they did it, they did it to prevent a Mohammedan or a Confucian or an infidel from being elected governor.

An Olympia judge surprised a bit of raw material for citizenship by refusing to accept it.

He objected to the fact that the candidates could not read the constitution, and that the effectual voter was not read to them they nodded their warmest approval. All comment that seems necessary was made on the spot in the various languages of the rejected.

A CINCINNATI police officer thinks the force ought to be supplied with kodaks, so that they would take a memorandum and file it at different reproductions and subsequently hunt them up at their leisure. The racists might retaliate by taking a picture of the pedler in the act of naming a newspaper, or the act of selling a brief mail, and send the results of their facious industry to the chief of police.

ASSURANCE OF the safety of a second-hand handbag in Mexico full to the brim with cigar gold waiting for somebody to come and cart it away, does not create the furor that might have been expected. Hope in the safety of the bag, however, remains before now, and has been enriched only by the acquisition of an experience that, while of some value, was insufficient recognition for the work and tear on sole leather.

The anarchists, who are epidemic in Paris, are much grieved because France, one of their strongest bases, has refused to drop the head of a basket, has been surrendered by the English to the French authorities. The grief of France himself is little short of anguish. The sense of dying in the cause of anarchy seems dreadfully disagreeable with some other man does the dying. Even the prospect of being a martyr does not buoy up Francis markedly.

Vital men, whose love of life is great, hesitate to concur in the conventional assertion that the suicide is always a wise measure. It is the fear that it would require a great deal of effort for them to blow their brains out. The suicide, however, is nearly always a weakness. Some men of good energy, and robust minds do undoubtably make away with themselves in the despair of a sudden calamity or the fury of a balked passion, but the average self-murderer is simply an incapable whose dread of the effort required to live overcomes his repugnance to death.

It would seem to be high time for Germans to investigate the army expenditure themselves and not take the word of the emperor and his cabinet.

At this time, the war with France, the German army amounted to 1,350,000 soldiers, while the army upon a war footing reaches nearly 4,000,000 men and yet the emperor says that relations with foreign powers are to be maintained.

The old emperor, William I, considered 1,250,000 men as a good army on a war footing.

The young emperor, William II, considered 1,000,000 a model army on a peace footing. It would be interesting to know what the emperors should be the number of soldiers in an army on a war footing.

Treasor of Michael Sullivan offers many chances for conjecture. Just why a man would enter a magazine of explosives with his pipe lighted and smoke a box of giant powder should be reserved till the day never to be quite clear. It is true that there are great possibilities in such a man, but so there are in an earth.

Yet one can make Providence march in Michael Sullivan trifling terms of a part of pantaloon, never very sensible and rarely the worse for wear.

The Leib rifle which sends a bullet through a forest tree and kills the man behind it appears a most horrible instrument of invention, and likely to add indefinitely to the misery of man, leaving the whole ranks of men, leaving the field clear of everything but a ghastly harvest. To this point has the practice of destructive weapons arrived. And having arrived there, the humanitarians who sit at such a thought may take to himself indefinite consolation in the fact that through just such inventions as these all come the abolition of war.

Experts who have investigated the subject say that not more than $100,000 was expended on the plant, buildings and equipment of the Panama canal, and some agree that the total does not exceed $600,000,000, and yet $600,000,000 in bonds were issued and sold for $200,000,000. There is a place where the speculators have got the money? No wonder the French government proposes to prosecute the projectors of this stupendous swindle, rivaling in magnitude the swindles which John Law once perpetrated.

They will take effect. Those who have a right to do it, will do it, and we can afford to have their disastrous forecasts of the future.

That the amount of customs duties can be framed so as to meet the needs of our country, and not to injure our foreign trade, is a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from foreign workers upon products to be sent to us, will be sufficient to pay the amount of customs duties that will be levied upon the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.

That the amount of revenue to be derived from the foreign products, that will compete with our own products, is also a fact that we have known for a long time.