THE BIRMINGHAM ECCENTRIC.
PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY WHITEHEAD & MITCHELL
Entered at the postoffice at Birmingham, Mich., as second class matter.

THROUGHOUT MICHIGAN.

The Doings and Happening, in Our Two Peninsulas Which are of Much Importance.

State Labor Commissioner's Report on Women Wage Workers is a Very Interesting Showing.

Three Children Burned to Death.—"Capt. Cherley" Shot at Frankfort.—Other Michigan News.

Michigan Women Wage Workers.

The state labor commissioner has issued his annual report of 500 pages upon the governor's desk. The first 188 pages cover the commissioner's investigations, in in regard to the wages of women of the state, in which 12,436 statements were secured. The average wage of these laborers is 79 cents a day. Of the number only 2,388 reported having anything from their wages, and these averaged $62.37 each. But while these wages were the $216.45, the average expense was $202.71, leaving as average saving of $14.34—about three weeks' wages. Of the total, 11 were under 15 years of age, while 5,569 were between the ages of 15 and 18. Five commenced work at 6 years of age and one commenced at the age of 58 years. Thirty-four commenced work at the age of 40 and over.

Three Children Cremated.

A store building occupied below by Charles Bedard as a saloon and above by Charles Delongchamps and family, burned at Ironwood. The fire originated in the kitchen up by the explosion of kerosene. Mrs. Delongchamps barely escaped with a two weeks old babe in her arms and the two children perished. Three children were burned to death: Albert, aged 7; Marie, aged 5, and Charles, aged 2. The firemen and citizens worked hard and almost dangerously to rescue the babies and a number were quite seriously burned in the attempt, but to no avail.

A Detroit Man Honored.

Harry B. Newberry, of Detroit, for three years past secretary of the American legation at Madrid, has been removed by the United States government. His removal is merely for the purpose of giving him a better and more responsible position in the diplomatic service, that of secretary of the American legation at Constantinople, Turkey. President Harrison sent the nomination to the Senate, and the nomination will doubtless be confirmed immediately. Minister Hurlbut, of Washington, will fill his place at Madrid.

Tried to Burn the Town.

Business men and citizens generally of Wayland are wrought up over the discovery of a bold attempt to burn the entire business portion of the village. The was discovered in a small shed at the rear of A. Sessions' store, in which were stored pine boxes filled with excelsior. The boxes and shed were saturated with oil. The discovery was timely and the flames were extinguished before much damage had been done. Several arrests in the center of the business section and one wooden store adjoin it.

Well-Known Lake Captain Killed.

E. B. Straubie, a saloonkeeper, was below tantalized by a lot of boys at Frankfort when he rushed out of his saloon, encountering Capt. Chas. Sutherland before to shoot him, thinking he was one of the tormentors. Sutherland fell dead, Straubie and in return was shot through the brain, being fatally injured. Sutherland was known in marine circles as "Captain Charley." He and Straubie had been old enemies.

MICHIGAN STATE ITEMS.

Otsego's new library building is nearly ready for dedication.

C. G. Ericson has been chosen president of the Manistique paper mill.

Bay City has $85,000 subscribed to the stock of an improvement company.

A new hotel, four stories high and 100 feet square, will be built at Benton Harbor.

A society in behalf of homeless girls in Wexford county has been organized at Cadillac.

The sixth annual Sunday school convention of Calhoun county has just been held at Albion.

Perry, Shiawassee county, is to have a new bank to be known as the Perry state savings bank.

People's party followers in Jackson county will meet in Jackson to complete the country organization.

There are 35 pensioners in the Jackson prison, and the records show from $10,000 to $12,000 to their credit.

Mrs. M. S. Bridge, of Muskegon, aged 81, was burned to death. Her clothes caught on a stove, they say.

Catherine Diedrich, 74 years old, was struck by a Michigan Central train at Delray and died within a few minutes.

Edward J. Hara, brakeman, lost both legs at Detroit. A yard engine caught him after a foot had been caught between rails.

Samuel Goodenough, of Sherman, was caught between two logs and so severely injured that he died a few hours afterwards.

All the bankers in Detroit have joined in a petition to congress against the passage of the anti-option bills now before that body.

Henry Hollenbery, son of George Hollenbery, of Dundee, was burned to death in a barn near Floodwood, Minn. Burial at Dundee.

The special local option election to be held in Branch county is going to result in a great victory for the anti-saloon people, unless all signs fail.

John Medlin, aged 39, fell 175 feet down the shaft of the Hue mine at Negaunee and was instantly killed. He leaves a widow and one child.

New Michigan postmasters: F. M. Towle vice G. A. Padrou, deceased, Gaylord, Otsego county; A. Larmie vice M. Full, resigned, Sand, Marquette county.

Judge Arnold, of the judges' circuit is in Philadelphia receiving medical treatment for the heart difficulty that has caused his family and friends much anxiety.

A Kingsley firm has shipped five car loads of bandsome maple logs to Glasgow, Scotland, where they will be the manufacture of rolls with which to stamp prints and other cloths.

Rev. Isaac Bennett, oldest member of the Michigan M. E. conference, died at his home in Quincy, Branch county. He had been pastor of churches near Quincy for nearly 50 years.

Michael Dibble, aged 19, was found hanging lifeless in a barn upon his father's farm in Tittabawassee township, Saginaw county. No reason for the suicide can be assigned.

A Michigan Central train struck a team of horses driven by Amos Shaw at a Decatur crossing. One horse was killed, and Mr. Shaw was thrown from the sleigh and badly injured.

The stock and grain barn of Frank Garrett, in Deerfield township, Lenawee county, burned together with 75 sheep, 600 bushels of wheat, hay, straw, stalks, etc. Loss, $6,500; partially covered by insurance.

Joseph Hambitzer's friends at Hancock and in the whole copper region are trying to secure for the state board of pardons his having been a very able county treasurer for two terms, and indorsed at the second election by the people.

George Blakely carried passengers and mail between Northport and Traverse City, and on July last made a felonious assault upon a young lady passenger. He has been convicted and sentenced to five years' imprisonment at Jackson.

William Bowman, the Twin Lakes farmer who mysteriously disappeared, has returned to his mourning lady love, and to his farm he left in the hands of mortgage society. He says he had the grip and did not realize what he was doing.

At the special election held at Dowagiac in preparation of P. A. Beckwith, to build a $50,000 memorial building and opera house was carried by a majority of 96. The city is to remit the taxes for 30 years.

William H. Dunn, well-known veteran of louia, died suddenly on the 21st of overfight of the heart. He had attended church with Borden Post, G. A. R., in the morning. Dunn was sergeant of Company H, Eighth Michigan cavalry, during the war.

Michigan's mining school has 69 students This is a larger number than is enrolled at any other institution in the country in mining engineering courses. The question of lengthening the course to be of four years, instead of three as now, is agitating the minds of the faculty.

Several boys were skating at Saginaw when one of the number struck a small pasteboard box with a stake and broke it open, when a number of bills fell out in a curious eyes. In it was the stiffened form of a little child to which death had come some months before. Coroner Hill.

Collector Steketee, of the western Michigan district, is busy selecting deputy weighers of sugars to give farmers the benefit of the bounty under the law. Applications have been appointed at Charlotte, Hastings, Nashville, Allegan, Hopkins and other leading cities and villages of the district.

Rev. Dr. D. F. Barnes, of Kalamazoo, created a small sensation in religious circles by severing his connection with the city in making a five years' contract with the Borgess hospital, and by wading into Catholic communion. Dr. Barnes says that the absence other than he has become temporarily insane.

Tekonsha citizens gave the Williams Bros. a bonus to establish a heading factory in their village. The factory operates on Sundays and the citizens are wondering why the authorities do not shut down heading, when they failed to exact an anti-Sunday clause from the recipients of their bounty.

Humane citizens have posted the following notice, in large, black letters, upon an Oakes-st. telegraph pole in Grand Rapids: "Owing to the poisoning of the city's never intended it as a means to kill horses, and probably did not know who were doing to be arrested by the commissioners. Please go one street north."

The breach of promise case of Mrs. Jennie Van Huning against Matthew Barton, the Kalamazoo peach king, has been begun. The sensational feature of the case is the testimony of the plaintiff that was overcome by the promise of marriage. The plaintiff produces means, as well as the defendant, and is a well-known school teacher.

Officer Eugene Engle, went to Kalamazoo and arrested Harry Barnard, aged 19, and Edward Holdship, aged 17, who are wanted for robbery and jail-breaking. The robbery occurred a year ago in the Elyria, and after escaping into Indiana they were arrested and returned, but the same night broke jail with eight others. They turned to Kalamazoo six weeks ago and were living there with their parents.

The supervisors of Ottawa county met in special session and by a vote of 9 to 8 revoked the charter of the Grand River bridge company. A new charter at a lower rate of toll will probably be granted to Robert Convey, of Spring Lake. The only free bridge between Grand Haven and Spring Lake is in a tottering condition and has long been marked as unsafe. It will collapse when the ice goes out.

Charles H. Goff received a divorce three years ago in Grand Rapids upon the grounds of extreme cruelty and desertion. He went to Bridgeport, Conn., his former home, and married a widow. The first wife did not hear of the divorce until a year ago, when she began to annoy her by hearing claiming fraud. The case was heard and the original decree was annulled and the wife was given a new trial on the grounds of infidelity and non-support. Goff went through the formalities of wedding to Miss Harlow proper the first second time, thus "legalizing" the marriage.

Almost Killed by Rats.

Miss Gertrude Hollingshead, of the Baptist church one day at Myrtle Hill, Conn., and in spirit of adventure climed into the belfry. She had been there only a few minutes when she was startled by a large rat approaching her. It was followed by another one within a few seconds, and back of him came a third and a fourth, the floor swarmed with the rodents. Miss Hull was too terrified to cry out, and when two drew back she was about to faint, when the leader rushed toward her with open mouth. The leader jumped for her face, biting her on the chin. She found that he had cut off his tongue. Nothing could be learned from him about his identity. He had plenty of money and paid his bills without question. After the doctor's work he disappeared. It now turns out that his name is George Wilson. He goes described as a professional gambler. His family is wealthy and lives in New York. His father has just died and left an estate of $1,000,000, one-fifth which goes to this man. The estate cannot be settled up until he has been found, and detectives from New York are now looking for him.

Wild Wolves in Buffalo.

Special from Buffalo, N. Y.: Between 15 and 20 wolves made their appearance in West Seneca, a suburb of Buffalo, and women and children are afraid to go out of doors. The varmints appear in the village at night and escape to the woods about a mile and a half away. Several have went upon the trail well armed. It would be very easy for the hungry horde to cross from the wilds of Canada on the ice when the frozen over and it is only 10 miles across the point. Children are kept from school and the men have their guns loaded.

BRIEFLY TOLD.

During a drunken quarrel at New York Edward McSorly cut his brother Peter's throat with a carving knife.

Telegrams to the Minneapolis chamber of commerce from farmers through the northwest show a most encouraging sentiment against the anti-option bills.

Col. James R. Simpson, of Dallas, Texas, who was reported to have fled with $300,000 of other people's money, is in Hot Springs, Ark., and denies the truthof the stories circulated about him.

One hundred acres of land have been displaced in Hocking county, Ohio, recently caused by a fire in an underground vein of coal, which has been burning for 13 years.

The imperial prohibition of the exportation of grain from Russia to Germany is suspended in favor of the owners of 10,000,000 poods, about 158,700 tons of oats and rye, now on the way for shipment.

Reports from the cotton growing states show that there will be a greatly diminished acreage. In North Carolina there will be a reduction of 30 per cent and the average reduction will be at least 30 per cent.

The German steamship companies are debating the possibility of refusing to transport Russian Hebrews to America. This discussion is the result of the typhus scares and the consequent ban to the entry of immigrants at New York.

SENATE AND HOUSE.

A Bold Robber Holds up an Express Train, Runs Away With an Engine and is Captured After All.

Daughters of the Revolution Hold Their First Congress.—Mrs. Benj. Harrison Presiding.

A Young Lady Has a Strange Adventure in a Church Belfry, Being Almost Devoured by Rats.

Rochester, N. Y., Special: The shooting of an express messenger on a Northern Hudson train, the rifling of a valuable safe, the flight of the robber on the engine of another train from the city, the pursuit by the crew at the point of a revolver, a running fight from the engine cab for miles chased by another engine with the railway men, and the final capture of the desperado by a sheriff's posse in a swamp after a wild pursuit across the country, are some of the sensational features of the most desperate attempt at train robbery in the history of the Central Hudson railroad, and which cast in the shade as an exhibition of coolness and nerve the famous exploits of the James-Younger band or other leaders of western fame.

The American Express company's special, or "money train" on that road from New York to Chicago had the usual number on the night of the 21st. When the train was near Weedsport the conductor heard a signal from the engine. He went on to arouse his suspicion. On looking through the hole where the bell cord runs through the car he saw a man with a gun and a mask in his face. The train was stopped and while waiting for the robber to make his appearance the engineer and fireman jumped