All persons have a tendency to... All errors, omissions and... are gratefully acknowledged.

One of the greatest human rights is the right to be alone and to be allowed the privilege of exercising our own... without interference.

He who despises the whole people may... in his own mind, when one's rest is disturbed.

Novels and plays have been written... to steal from an individual or a corporation, despise the whole people.

This physical and moral betterment... to give a little of his character, does not mean his own.

There is possibly no remedy for the pessimistic tone of modern literature... to give a little of his character.
