

A WESTERN ROMANCE.

STORY OF BEAUTIFUL INEZ AND HER CAREER.

A heart to the Death between the Combats—From the Frontiers of the Impassable Sierras.

Years and years ago back in that distant period known to history as the days of a distant past, when the world was still possessed in the death of the dual was a love affair, the men being rivals for the affections of a Spanish girl who lived here and who had a reputation for beauty that stretched as far east as the foot of the Sierra and French Canada to the south.

The fame of her loveliness spread over all Spain and the pioneers were not averse to learning their eyes on the beautiful girl.
There was not a man in the frontier in those days—date uncertain—who was willing to admit that his black eyes were more lustrous than the lashes longer, her lute more searly and her form more undulating and graceful than that of any girl he had seen in those parts or even to see. There was a rumor circulating in the frontier that there were two girls who were that were worth going to look an opportunity to know.

The spot that her loveliness captivated the men who were her to the death of the dual was a love affair, the men being rivals for the affections of a Spanish girl who lived here and who had a reputation for beauty that stretched as far east as the foot of the Sierra and French Canada to the south.

These men who were military men, some from the pioneers memory had become so obscure that he could not remember their names.
here when Inez was in the zenith of her life, two young men, men, and the third was of the of life. Two of them became with the girl, and the third impulsive temperament, each sought to win her for himself, and take her. Curiously enough, the man the three who retained his composure, even when her face flashed on his eyes, was one of the younger soldiers.

They were soldiers of fortune, such as are not so often seen nowadays as of old. The two rivals quarreled over the girl, and then their dispute turned to a question of honor, the having been passing a challenge for a bloody encounter given and immediately accepted.

But what most excited our ambition was the fact that that almost every one of them is double, but it has a parallel noble, it was a man of . This has thoroughly perplexed all investigators. The earth has no analogies to aid us to a solution.

Apart from the scientific interest of the matter, the centuries prompted man to regard the earth as the one inhabited world. It is now known that for all planets appears to be the of nature, which certainly has not been the case for a long time.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to return our sincere and benefit thanks to our many friends who by their faithful letters and their many acts of loving kindness all through the sickness of our daughter, Miss Horace, have secured for her a restful, for which we feel deeply grateful. Such acts never are forgotten.
MRS. B. SHAW,
Miss Clara Shaw.

August 11th is the date of the Red Ribbon picnic. It will be in Gillett's grove if the weather is pleasant, if not, it will be in the hall. We are bound to have a picnic anyway.
Miss May Chamberlain, of Lee's corner, is the guest of Miss Jennie Ebling.
Quite a number of our good people attend camp meetings at Racine this week. They report having had a very enjoyable time.

Franklin's Meetings.
Purity of faith is needed in this part of the country.
The next missionary meeting is to be held at Mrs. C. Cummings' and a large attendance is desired.
New houses were dedicated by the Rev. Mr. on the streets of Farmington last Saturday evening.

BEDDOW'S CHEESE-FACTORY MUST HAVE MORE MILK!

The demand for our cheese has gone far beyond the limit of what we are able to supply, although our daily output of cheese has now risen to 1,000 pounds per day. This is an early rise in price, and with the provision market in its present condition, the prospect is exceedingly bright.

We want all the milk we can get, and we can make it profit the farmers more than any other branch of farming; and the more it rains, the better it pays.

Do not forget the fact that our general store and will sell you anything you want in any part of Detroit prices.

A mail route has been established from Birmingham to Southfield by way of the post office and the office is frankly established.

Miss Mary Gale, Manager.
We know that we address a community of well-informed and literary people, and in the English language of to-day, which we intend to do in our Ladies' Column, we will give you the most interesting and useful information of the day.
