

LOVE BETRAYED

An Aged Father Shoots His Daughter's Lover.

HAD RUN AWAY

But a Marriage Ceremony Had Been Neglected.

NELLIE HENSICKER'S SAD FATE.

From the Cincinnati Enquirer.

The National Hotel, at Birmingham, Miss., was the scene of a most exciting and tragic scene...

A week ago there arrived in Birmingham a tall, aristocratic-looking man, possibly thirty years of age...

The man who was identified by letters postmarked Frankfort, Ky. Two nights after his arrival Dr. Chas. M. Raynolds was hastily summoned...

Without a word and before anyone could interfere, the old man drew a revolver and fired point blank at Harding...

The man who was identified by letters postmarked Frankfort, Ky. He was disappointed, apparently, after looking over the register, and turned to the clerk to ask some questions...

Harding was not at the hotel, as he had taken a night train for Memphis. The man who was identified by letters postmarked Frankfort, Ky. He was disappointed, apparently, after looking over the register...

When her condition became known he persuaded her to go to Detroit and have medical attention performed on her...

When she returned to her father's home she was found lying on the floor in a serious condition and may die. If she recovers, her father will take her back home...

Some of the New York hotels provide chaplains. For female guests unaccompanied they usually provide a nurse in their rooms, under the guidance of one of their women familiarizers...

A French dealer in fuel, not having been able to clear out his stock during the holidays, has had a lady who he had discovered at West Haverhill, Eng., in one of his letters to his sweetheart...

When a man writes a letter to his sweetheart he usually writes "my dear" or "my love" and it is not surprising that he should write "my darling"...

A few of our young people made it interesting for the buckskin swamps last week. A wedding in the near future.

Miss Lizzie Parker and daughter, Miss Lilly, were the guests of Mrs. H. H. Wanles, last week.

Miss Mable Jarvis will visit friends and relatives at Royal Oak this week. She will be accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Wm. L. Jarvis, and her sister, Miss Lillian.

Some of the best of our young people made it interesting for the buckskin swamps last week. A wedding in the near future.
