

Our guests, gentle spring, offered... A promptness equal to your year's performance by Harry writer...

A tall and elegant Russian nobleman is now engaging the attention of society in the East. Though tall he comes to this country to catch an elusive woman to whom he is devoted...

The theory which prevails in the Federal States to the effect that typhoons are caused by monstrous birds flapping their wings, renders the Kansas blizzard an object of sinister suspicion.

There is prospect of early legislation in the Australian colonies designed to put a stop to immigration. The labor situation is extremely unsatisfactory and the unemployed march almost everywhere to demand work.

An Oregon man was told that by smoking his hens in sheepskin he would induce them to lay more nibby the egg of commerce. He tried the experiment, but met with only partial success. The hens laid the eighty eggs he survived and the twenty do not lay with even their former zeal.

There is greater need of skilled labor in the construction of roads here than in any other part of the world. Our Western colonies are about to outstrip their curricula. It is the duty of the colleges to train ingeniously when there are trained specialists at hand ready to make good.

Mexico has been investigating the outbreak of Yaqui Indians and finds that it was due to systematic robbery by petty bandits. The Yaquis are the cause of the trouble and many more of them survived the putting down of the Yaqui rebellion. The Yaquis would doubtless have cheered them mightily.

Few people making an off-hand guess as to the healthiest occupation in life would have selected that of the statistician. Yet a recent compilation of statistics on this interesting and important subject finds the death rate in England and Wales lower among clergymen than among any other class of workers.

It is said that a movement has been started in Birmingham to substitute aluminum for copper in making small coins. The advantage of aluminum is that it is lighter and less liable than silver to become discolored. The disadvantage is that it is not so near the nominal value. The only serious objection to aluminum arises from the fact that it is not so hard as silver, as the color of the two metals are nearly identical.

The editors of the two leading newspapers of Memphis has been put under heavy bonds for libelous attacks after having called each other about all the names in the dictionary of obscenity. One of the newspapers called the editor of a contemporary paper, and the latter retorted by calling the editor a "blooming jackass." Meanwhile their readers have to look and wonder where the news is to be had for guidance as to their conduct.

It is at least doubtful whether heroes of antiquity, like Hector, Achilles, Samson, and Hercules, were physically superior to Corbett, Jackson and Mitchell. But it is a pity that there are no modern heroes who use the same weapons as the ancients they are comparatively ineffective. Samson's strength was in his hair, which was the only part of his body that was invulnerable. It is a matter of public regret that this weapon, as well as the other weapons of the ancients, are not only no fatal results, but is absolutely harmless.

Now if some one will look into the question of the floods of tears, and the tears of the world, which were indulged in by the novelists of the early part of our own century, it will be found that there is an interesting page of literary study. Doesn't everybody remember how the novelists of the early part of our own century were forever bursting into tears, so that one has a morbid feeling in reading the world of novels they ever kept on hand an adequate supply of dry pocket handkerchiefs?

The newspaper biographies which alleged that the late General Beauregard was the last of the confederate soldiers holding the banner of general were erroneous in this respect. General Kirby Smith was a full general in the confederate army and was the last to surrender his command.

Mr. C. M. C. but not half enough, is being said of the late General Beauregard. No instance is given to show all his heroes or other military features of hardship are present in the life of the late General. The late General's military record is a record of hard work and long hours. The late General's military record is a record of hard work and long hours.
