Wm O'Neil has been sick for a number of days with a fever. Dr. Campbell will pull him through all right and as soon as it is consistent we hope to see him back in his accustomed place as everybody misses the genial WILL.

Burglars broke into Theron B. Smith's home at four o'clock Friday evening last, getting in through the kitchen. Theron heard them and movements alarmed the robbers who beat on hastily retreating nothing.

G. A. Watkins has a few words to say in his new advent this week that are right in the point. He gives some good advice and if you have not already prepared for the future welfare of your dear one, you will do well to look up what he says and act accordingly.

Mrs. J. Loeb has returned from her visit at Marquette, Mich. After leaving her daughter, and returning there all well and happy with the addition of a little daughter, Fieda Clara, who is being reared at the home of J. G. Spooner, Jan. 18.

A card has been received by Mr. and Mrs. J. Baldwin from Mr. and Mrs. S. Neeland, New Alabaster, New Mexico, and beautifully attended with ribbon a card bearing the name of Lloyd Raymond Neeland, born Feb. 10, 1895. Thanks and congratulations.

Thirty votes were lost in our village election by men who failed to vote right. Being only one tick on the paper they failed to put the magical X in the circle and hence disfranchised themselves. Report says they all came from Frank Blakeslee's ward.

Mr. Hunt does not just right about the show last week. When the manager told Henry to raise the curtain to go on with the show, Henry replied, no use—no use there so he is impossible, said Hunter, the show is his, not yours. That may be so, said Henry, but the audience is all out—and don't you forget it!

All kinds of conveying and notary public business done correctly and promptly at the Exchange Bank. Don't forget this when you are thinking about having that farm lease, deed, mortgage or agreement of any kind made out this spring.

One of this winter's most enjoyable entertainments was given at Library Hall last Thursday evening and the dancing school of the dancing school. Mrs. Foster and Mr. Percy Chapman, Ann Arbor, were the guests of Miss Foster and Miss Loretta teachers, while nearly every pupil had some friends present. The dancing school was a decided success and more than one is sorry it is over.
