

THE PLACE WHERE BEAUTIFUL POTTERY IS MADE.

The Prettiest City in a Land of Levels. Prices—It Produces Art Once More the Delight of Fashion—The Charm of the Old Dutch Pottery.

Special Letter. THE modern craze for the beautiful blue and white ware of Delft has given rise to a new genre of life to "Delft" ware.

Like the sleeping princess the prettiest city in Holland has awoken the eyes of the fairer portion of fashion, and Delft's ware once more begins to line the shelves of our modern homes.

It may be a small house at the end of a street opening on a field and washed by a canal—no story only of red washed bricks, with a painted facade and gables and with an ancient pair of ladders for a staircase.

What man has not to be a navigator? Did the man have not to be a navigator? What man has not to be a navigator? Did the man have not to be a navigator?

CHURCH WHERE WILLIAM THE BARRIED. This is the conventional home, modest, discreet, cheerful. The burglar laden with merchandise flows back to the garden and exquisite delicacy of wheels nor flouts of dust.

The pale northern light gives the country an aspect of sequestered quiet. There is a gentle silence, a repose of line and color impressively soothing to the mind after the wild warmth of the south.

CITY-GATE, DELFT. As a majolica engraver Italy goes to the canal. Here is the natural home of the Netherlands.

What a marvel that must have been to the good burghers! They were a commercial people. The "opinion" of the brewers of Delft had passed into a proverb.

The first remark made by the young man who had just stepped out of the city-gate, was called in the vernacular. Silver and gold rattled in their ample pockets.

Within fifty years it has not changed. The view of Delft by Van der Meer in the museum of the Hague might have been painted yesterday. Here 15000 people live in profound peace where there is room for twice the number.

The spirit of Delft appears in the canal, the pottery works on the canal, the background of pale-blue. Against the background are set in lovely bold colors, the red, the yellow, the blue, the green, the white, the black, the red, the yellow, the blue, the green, the white, the black.

yellow, purple and green, blended together in the most beautiful way by laying on the primary colors. Albert de Koster was the most famous of all the painters in Delft, and his work is never preferred to the blue and white.

DOUBLE-BARRELED DREAMS. How the Broker Deceived His Customers. They were deceived by the double-barreled dream and the broker, after hearing from the point of the others, declined to take any more orders.

Not a house of the 1500 but the treasures of fashion bought in the nineteenth century for such sums, worth less than a penny in the market.

It was a small house at the end of a street opening on a field and washed by a canal—no story only of red washed bricks, with a painted facade and gables and with an ancient pair of ladders for a staircase.

What man has not to be a navigator? Did the man have not to be a navigator? What man has not to be a navigator? Did the man have not to be a navigator?

CHURCH WHERE WILLIAM THE BARRIED. This is the conventional home, modest, discreet, cheerful. The burglar laden with merchandise flows back to the garden and exquisite delicacy of wheels nor flouts of dust.

The pale northern light gives the country an aspect of sequestered quiet. There is a gentle silence, a repose of line and color impressively soothing to the mind after the wild warmth of the south.

CITY-GATE, DELFT. As a majolica engraver Italy goes to the canal. Here is the natural home of the Netherlands.

What a marvel that must have been to the good burghers! They were a commercial people. The "opinion" of the brewers of Delft had passed into a proverb.

The first remark made by the young man who had just stepped out of the city-gate, was called in the vernacular. Silver and gold rattled in their ample pockets.

Within fifty years it has not changed. The view of Delft by Van der Meer in the museum of the Hague might have been painted yesterday. Here 15000 people live in profound peace where there is room for twice the number.

The spirit of Delft appears in the canal, the pottery works on the canal, the background of pale-blue. Against the background are set in lovely bold colors, the red, the yellow, the blue, the green, the white, the black, the red, the yellow, the blue, the green, the white, the black.

HONOR OF POST. BAYARD TAYLOR MEMORIAL IS NOW OPEN.

Build at Kennett Square, Pa. Where the Great Author, Traveller, and Diplomat Was Born—His Early Career in the West.

Philadelphia, Pa. The new library built in memory of the late General Bayard Taylor, is now open to the public.

What man has not to be a navigator? Did the man have not to be a navigator? What man has not to be a navigator? Did the man have not to be a navigator?

CHURCH WHERE WILLIAM THE BARRIED. This is the conventional home, modest, discreet, cheerful. The burglar laden with merchandise flows back to the garden and exquisite delicacy of wheels nor flouts of dust.

The pale northern light gives the country an aspect of sequestered quiet. There is a gentle silence, a repose of line and color impressively soothing to the mind after the wild warmth of the south.

CITY-GATE, DELFT. As a majolica engraver Italy goes to the canal. Here is the natural home of the Netherlands.

What a marvel that must have been to the good burghers! They were a commercial people. The "opinion" of the brewers of Delft had passed into a proverb.

The first remark made by the young man who had just stepped out of the city-gate, was called in the vernacular. Silver and gold rattled in their ample pockets.

Within fifty years it has not changed. The view of Delft by Van der Meer in the museum of the Hague might have been painted yesterday. Here 15000 people live in profound peace where there is room for twice the number.

The spirit of Delft appears in the canal, the pottery works on the canal, the background of pale-blue. Against the background are set in lovely bold colors, the red, the yellow, the blue, the green, the white, the black, the red, the yellow, the blue, the green, the white, the black.

The spirit of Delft appears in the canal, the pottery works on the canal, the background of pale-blue. Against the background are set in lovely bold colors, the red, the yellow, the blue, the green, the white, the black, the red, the yellow, the blue, the green, the white, the black.

Hunting for the Wild Goat.

By appointment. This is a book of sports, a book of the life of a hunter, a book of the life of a hunter.

What man has not to be a navigator? Did the man have not to be a navigator? What man has not to be a navigator? Did the man have not to be a navigator?

CHURCH WHERE WILLIAM THE BARRIED. This is the conventional home, modest, discreet, cheerful. The burglar laden with merchandise flows back to the garden and exquisite delicacy of wheels nor flouts of dust.

The pale northern light gives the country an aspect of sequestered quiet. There is a gentle silence, a repose of line and color impressively soothing to the mind after the wild warmth of the south.

CITY-GATE, DELFT. As a majolica engraver Italy goes to the canal. Here is the natural home of the Netherlands.

What a marvel that must have been to the good burghers! They were a commercial people. The "opinion" of the brewers of Delft had passed into a proverb.

The first remark made by the young man who had just stepped out of the city-gate, was called in the vernacular. Silver and gold rattled in their ample pockets.

Within fifty years it has not changed. The view of Delft by Van der Meer in the museum of the Hague might have been painted yesterday. Here 15000 people live in profound peace where there is room for twice the number.

The spirit of Delft appears in the canal, the pottery works on the canal, the background of pale-blue. Against the background are set in lovely bold colors, the red, the yellow, the blue, the green, the white, the black, the red, the yellow, the blue, the green, the white, the black.

The spirit of Delft appears in the canal, the pottery works on the canal, the background of pale-blue. Against the background are set in lovely bold colors, the red, the yellow, the blue, the green, the white, the black, the red, the yellow, the blue, the green, the white, the black.

The spirit of Delft appears in the canal, the pottery works on the canal, the background of pale-blue. Against the background are set in lovely bold colors, the red, the yellow, the blue, the green, the white, the black, the red, the yellow, the blue, the green, the white, the black.

REAL ESTATE COLUMN.

The following choice parcels of land are for sale in the Real Estate Department of the Real Estate Exchange, 155 Broadway, N. Y. City.

What man has not to be a navigator? Did the man have not to be a navigator? What man has not to be a navigator? Did the man have not to be a navigator?

CHURCH WHERE WILLIAM THE BARRIED. This is the conventional home, modest, discreet, cheerful. The burglar laden with merchandise flows back to the garden and exquisite delicacy of wheels nor flouts of dust.

The pale northern light gives the country an aspect of sequestered quiet. There is a gentle silence, a repose of line and color impressively soothing to the mind after the wild warmth of the south.

CITY-GATE, DELFT. As a majolica engraver Italy goes to the canal. Here is the natural home of the Netherlands.

What a marvel that must have been to the good burghers! They were a commercial people. The "opinion" of the brewers of Delft had passed into a proverb.

The first remark made by the young man who had just stepped out of the city-gate, was called in the vernacular. Silver and gold rattled in their ample pockets.

Within fifty years it has not changed. The view of Delft by Van der Meer in the museum of the Hague might have been painted yesterday. Here 15000 people live in profound peace where there is room for twice the number.

The spirit of Delft appears in the canal, the pottery works on the canal, the background of pale-blue. Against the background are set in lovely bold colors, the red, the yellow, the blue, the green, the white, the black, the red, the yellow, the blue, the green, the white, the black.

The spirit of Delft appears in the canal, the pottery works on the canal, the background of pale-blue. Against the background are set in lovely bold colors, the red, the yellow, the blue, the green, the white, the black, the red, the yellow, the blue, the green, the white, the black.

The spirit of Delft appears in the canal, the pottery works on the canal, the background of pale-blue. Against the background are set in lovely bold colors, the red, the yellow, the blue, the green, the white, the black, the red, the yellow, the blue, the green, the white, the black.

Improvement in Manufactures is the Order of the Age!

John Pound, Near Court House, Pontiac. A genuine surprise on Saturday, Oct. 24th, all day and evening.

We shall submit 200 ready-made Garments for ladies' wear in new Autumn and Dark Styles. All these will go below manufacturers' cost.

JOHN POUND. Waite Bros., Robertson & Co., Saturday, Oct. 24, 1896.

Occurs our Fall and Winter opening. We will make the occasion an event worthy of your attendance. Fine music has been secured and a most excellent program promised.

Beautiful Flowers and Plants.

Will enhance the decorations which will be one of the features of the day. Extra salesmen have been engaged and everyone will be promptly served. We most cordially invite all to attend whether you purchase or not.

Waite Bros., Robertson & Co.

COMMISSIONERS NOTICE. In the matter of the estate of JOHN HOWLAND, deceased, the undersigned, Commissioners of the County of Hamilton, N. Y., do hereby certify that the following is a true and correct copy of the will of the said deceased.

STATE OF MICHIGAN. In the matter of the estate of JOHN HOWLAND, deceased, the undersigned, Commissioners of the County of Hamilton, N. Y., do hereby certify that the following is a true and correct copy of the will of the said deceased.

STATE OF MICHIGAN. In the matter of the estate of JOHN HOWLAND, deceased, the undersigned, Commissioners of the County of Hamilton, N. Y., do hereby certify that the following is a true and correct copy of the will of the said deceased.

STATE OF MICHIGAN. In the matter of the estate of JOHN HOWLAND, deceased, the undersigned, Commissioners of the County of Hamilton, N. Y., do hereby certify that the following is a true and correct copy of the will of the said deceased.

STATE OF MICHIGAN. In the matter of the estate of JOHN HOWLAND, deceased, the undersigned, Commissioners of the County of Hamilton, N. Y., do hereby certify that the following is a true and correct copy of the will of the said deceased.

STATE OF MICHIGAN. In the matter of the estate of JOHN HOWLAND, deceased, the undersigned, Commissioners of the County of Hamilton, N. Y., do hereby certify that the following is a true and correct copy of the will of the said deceased.

STATE OF MICHIGAN. In the matter of the estate of JOHN HOWLAND, deceased, the undersigned, Commissioners of the County of Hamilton, N. Y., do hereby certify that the following is a true and correct copy of the will of the said deceased.

STATE OF MICHIGAN. In the matter of the estate of JOHN HOWLAND, deceased, the undersigned, Commissioners of the County of Hamilton, N. Y., do hereby certify that the following is a true and correct copy of the will of the said deceased.

STATE OF MICHIGAN. In the matter of the estate of JOHN HOWLAND, deceased, the undersigned, Commissioners of the County of Hamilton, N. Y., do hereby certify that the following is a true and correct copy of the will of the said deceased.

STATE OF MICHIGAN. In the matter of the estate of JOHN HOWLAND, deceased, the undersigned, Commissioners of the County of Hamilton, N. Y., do hereby certify that the following is a true and correct copy of the will of the said deceased.

STATE OF MICHIGAN. In the matter of the estate of JOHN HOWLAND, deceased, the undersigned, Commissioners of the County of Hamilton, N. Y., do hereby certify that the following is a true and correct copy of the will of the said deceased.

STATE OF MICHIGAN. In the matter of the estate of JOHN HOWLAND, deceased, the undersigned, Commissioners of the County of Hamilton, N. Y., do hereby certify that the following is a true and correct copy of the will of the said deceased.

STATE OF MICHIGAN. In the matter of the estate of JOHN HOWLAND, deceased, the undersigned, Commissioners of the County of Hamilton, N. Y., do hereby certify that the following is a true and correct copy of the will of the said deceased.

STATE OF MICHIGAN. In the matter of the estate of JOHN HOWLAND, deceased, the undersigned, Commissioners of the County of Hamilton, N. Y., do hereby certify that the following is a true and correct copy of the will of the said deceased.