BIRMINGHAM, FRIDAY, OCT. 15, '94

Brown university to E. Benjamin Andrews—"Come back and all will be forgiven."

President Faure remarked nervously, when the noise of the bomb exploded with the cheers with which he was received on his return from Russia, "I say don't be so deucedly enthusiastic."

The latest rules of the postoffice department require employes to use the utmost civility in all their dealings with the public. Civil service will have no room for a demand for civil service reform.

They told how he ate, drank, slept, talked, walked, and smiled. He had undressed. The result, we believe, was the supreme disgust the city ever felt. If it was any fun, however, it was the silliest of all. It was a display of personal revenge or political opposition; and the only man of the crowd who didn't suffer from it was Mr. Croker.

Wilhelmina, the young girl who will presently be queen of Holland, refuses to marry the prince her mother picked out for her and insists on choosing her own time for marrying and likewise the man who is to be her husband. That is sheer rebellion. No proprietary queen and no royal crown has a right to such privileges. They are reserved solely for the young sovereigns of the world who have nothing to do with affairs of state.

An east end of London boy of eight years who was put on the witness stand said he did not know what a log was. "Do you go to school?" "Yes, sir." "Don't they teach you that it is wrong to tell lies?" "No, sir." "What do they teach you, then?" "Sums, sir. What is a piece of a mechanical calculation which carries for figures and not for faith; for marks and not for manliness; for catch questions more than for a clear setting forth of the fundamentals of morality?"

The Boston subway, one of the most interesting experiments in underground rapid transit, was opened in part, September first. The section in use is somewhat less than a mile long, and extends from the entrance in the Public Garden to the corner of Third and Fremont streets. It is practically an underground street, holding a part of the way four tracks, and a part of the way two, so constructed that there is no crossing of tracks at the same grade. Fourteen street car lines, running ninety cars an hour, are using it, to the great relief of surface travel on Tremont and Boylston streets.

The "Mad Mullah." The great mutiny in India forty years ago was largely instigated by the preaching of a national priest, the Mohive of Fyzabad. Another fanatical priest, the so-called "Mad Mullah," or Mohive of Haddah, is the most conspicuous leader in the present troubles on the northwestern frontier of India. He preaches a powerful influence over the Mohand and other Mohammedan tribes, and the British agent in Cabul estimates his disciples at five hundred thousand. The home of the Mullah, who is otherwise known as Najm-uddin Ahmad-zada, is a small village of the Alkohud, in Haddah, in the Jeholabad district. He was active in fomenting the hostility to the English which was the cause of the Chitral expedition of 1893. Later he has been preaching a holy war against them, and he led in person the tribesmen who attacked Malakand last month.

It has been estimated, says the Locomotive Engineer Magazine, that the present producing capacity of the world is equal to the demand for iron and machinery that is operated at the rate of ten hours per day sufficient to supply the world's demand for one year. This being the condition with which the people are confronted, it remains for them to provide some means of greatly increasing these demands, or else some other methods of production that all who depend upon labor for means of subsistence shall have an opportunity to secure employment. If half of the population by working ten hours or more a day can produce sufficient to supply the demand of the entire population, and this half insists on retaining a monopoly of employment, what is to become of the other half—the half who are unemployed? There are three courses to pursue: Those who earn wages must contribute as charity sufficient to sustain the unemployed; the employed must join with the unemployed in dividing such employment so that all may work ten hours or more per day for half the number of days; or the new advocates of the work-rest system, the remedy can be found by reducing the hours of labor, so that all the people can find some employment all the time.

Before the Woman's Temple in Chicago stands a charming fountain known as "the little old water girl," of whom it is said that though her face is hard and her heart stone, she has done more good than any other little Chicago girl of the same age.

The editor of the Brooklyn Eagle puts the new woman in bloomers and then, oddly enough, calls her a rowdy and a scold. One ought to know the difference between bloomers and skirts if one is going to discuss such a subject as that.

There is a ring of genuine manliness in the opening sentence of President Andrew's statement to the corporation of Brown university regarding a recent difference upon a question of economics: "Wishing to retain your esteem as I deserve it, I beg to submit to you the following statement."

"That an Italian prince should accomplish the remarkable feat of ascending Mount Salsit Elias may effect our country's history less than the arrival of a single Italian immigrant at the port of New York."

HOME NOTES.

Welcome, little showerlets.
 D-e-d-i-c-a-t-o-r-y Sunday next.
 Pontiac has an epidemic of burglary.

Clover seed threshing is in fashion.

Mrs. T. Blumberg spent Sunday at Pontiac.

Junior social at High School building tonight.

O. H. P. Green is Orion's new pastor.

Reception at M. E. church Monday evening.

Pontiac's Masonic Temple is up to the second floor.

One hundred bushels to the acre is Waterford's potato yield.

Hon. Samuel W. Smith is home again from Washington, D. C.

House to rent, partly furnished. Enquire of Mitchell at postoffice.

Frank Kigger had the misfortune to break a rib one day last week.

WANTED—Dining room girl at the National House. $2.00 per week.

Geo. C. Aldrich is enjoying Battle Creek air. Cause—a steady position.

Hiram Hood and wife have been visiting friends in Detroit for a few days.

The Beddoe chess factory is now sold to Henry Lavery of Royal Oak.

Say Dr. Fisher what do you do. The electric cure don't seem to catch on at it were.

Money to loan on farm property to $2500 up, three to five years. J. R. Corson, 1717 1/2.

They do the really fashionable potato work in getting its work in and around Farmington.

A Stafford and Aaron Parr, of Springfield, made a pleasant call on Jas. Marble last Saturday.

Base ball 23 to 15 is just about its sure death to the base ball interest, as 16 to 1 was a short time ago.

The L. L. C. meet next Monday evening at 7:30 with Mrs. Marsh. Current events for roll call.

A Harpley, of Detroit, visited the Marble place Sunday. There must be some attraction there, Am?

The thanks of the community are due to Mr. Casey for taking a drunk man off the streets last Saturday.

John R. Johnston, of Traverse City, a brother of Mrs. Hiram Hood of this place, was in town last Saturday.

TO RENT—A good desirable house on the Campbell subdivision. For particulars enquire of A. W. Campbell, 2317.

Mrs. Fred A. Kelley, of Wayne, visited John Wilkinson and wife over Sunday last and had a nice time.

Alle Stanley is still quite low with that rheumatic disease—consumption. No hope of his recovery is entertained.

John Ruby, of near Utica, has potatoes that count 30 to the bushel, and brags of one that weighs 2 1/4 pounds.

Miss Sarah Partridge, of Flushing briefly visited Birmingham friends last week on her way home from Detroit.

Rev. A. H. Orr united in marriage in Detroit last week, James Reenie and Miss Lila Simpson, both of Detroit.

A cook stove with reservoir and warming closet for sale for $5. Also a heating stove. Apply to E. F. Waldo, 2414.

Farmington will soon have a live rattling telephone exchange and connected with the new State Telephone Co.

Ladies wishing hats trimmed or remodeled will do well to call upon Miss Minnie Hunt at her home on Fremont St.

Mrs. Jas. Button, wife of Postmaster Button of Flint, called on Birmingham friends the latter part of last week.

"It has got all over town" that R. H. Traver has bargained till you can't rest, and we believe it, for his ad says so this week.

A Northville milk seller delivers his milk to his patrons from a can strapped to his back while making his rounds on a bicycle.

Eli Baker and wife are visiting old friends and neighbors and their former home away down east and will be gone for quite a little visit.

Mrs. John O'Connell left with us a magnificent potato, weight 2 1/2 pounds, perfect in shape, color and quality. John would be a rich man if he had about 4000 bushels of "such."

Mrs. Will T. Taler will give a reception to the church members and friends in the basement of the M. E. church Monday evening, Oct. 18, for the purpose of becoming better acquainted with each other. No charge for admission, everybody welcome.

The L. O. T. M.'s of Detroit Hive will be with the Birmingham Hive on Saturday evening, Oct. 16. All members are requested to bring refreshments.

R. K. Don't forget the date of the Junior social—tonight, Oct. 15—at the High School building. Tickets 25c, two for 50c. Everybody invited.

What more can be said about the old reliable J. E. Hudson Co.? We all know that Detroit would not be complete without it. New bargains there this week.

The Jackson bridge in Southfield failed to hold up Harry Russell's big engine and down she went. With a block and tackle it was drawn out and went its way puffing.

Mrs. Roland Gillet, of South Bend, Ind., and Mrs. Thos. Eathes, of Port Huron, are the guests of Mrs. James Shain this week. Verily our small town must be attractive to break a rib one day last week.

FOR SALE CHEAP—One second hand survey, good as new; one top and one open buggy. One block south M. E. church. Van-Every & Kelly, Painters, Birmingham, 227.

The Ladies' Library Society have just had to pay $3 for a light of glass broken by an argon for slung shot, a result of one of the many idiotic acts of the Michigan legislature.

Thad Riet and Tom Doyle went out for a quiet hunt and near Elizabeth Lake got a crack at two wild turkeys. Their hit 'em and next morning paid Ed. Voorhies $5 each for his turkeys.

Mr. Clemens has longed eyes on next year's militia state troop equipment. We think Pontiac would furnish the nicest location for the gathering and would like to see it held there next season.

Wm. H. Osmon, Jr., won out and is the successful bidder for the Stout Memorial building at Pontiac. Fisher Bros., of Pontiac, made the plans and the edifice must be completed by August 1, 1898.

A rare chance—Three pleasant rooms, suitable for light house-keeping, with closet and bath room attachments can be rented by applying at once to Mrs. James O. Beattie, Woodward Ave. 5212.

TO EXCHANGE—18,000 shingles, $1.50 per thousand and one double barrelled shotgun, $75. one new barrel Arms Co. bicycle. Will take farm stock for any or all the above. Address—Box 344, Birmingham, 473.

It is an optical illusion that Dr. R. K. Frank is here every Saturday at the National hotel, where he is prepared to give his patients all due attention. Constantly taken has and consult him for more "right" on the subject.

The new vesting chair of St. James church seems to be greatly enjoyed by our Pontiac neighbors, several of whom were in attendance upon the Episcopal services again last Sunday. Came again brethering and sistering.

Charlie Porterfield, of Marine City, and Mattie Bradley, of Davisburg, were married at Bell Branch Wednesday. While on their wedding tour visited the Misses Nellie and Mattie Marble. We wish them a happy life.

Reports from all parts of the state are to the effect that the present drought is the most severe in 20 years. Forest fires are starting up everywhere, and farmers are kept busy fighting fire to save their property from destruction.

Time is the truest test. Survive it and it is an absolute guarantee of sterling worth. For 34 years the Domestic sewing machine has stood at the top. Careful buyers prefer the Domestic. It is always up-to-date. It is always the best.

Will Wright is home along with his wife and all the little Wrights for the winter. Will has had a very successful ball year and says base ball stock down in New Jersey is away up. "Taint so here in Birmingham since last Saturday."

It is a pathetic sight to see so many people shivering around with the cold when a fall or winter overcoat can be purchased for a mere song at Josh W. Bird's, in Pontiac. He can also "suit" you in various other ways. Entire change of ad.

A most delightful exhibition of a rainstorm came off Monday last. It had been so long since we had a rain storm that only our oldest residents knew what it was. The stuff felt seemed to strike the earth in drops of all sizes and was apparently quite damp—yes we might say very wet.

The Epworth League will give a reception to the church members and friends in the basement of the M. E. church Monday evening, Oct. 18, for the purpose of becoming better acquainted with each other. No charge for admission, everybody welcome.

Say, you ought to have seen the last game of ball of the season. Last Saturday was the date and the D. A. C.'s polished up the Birmingham aggregation to the queen's taste Score 23 to 1, and the Detroit boys would be getting runs yet if night hadn't come on.

On account of the dedication services at the U. P. church next Sunday there will be no preaching service at the Methodist church either morning or evening. Sunday School and Epworth League will be held as usual at noon and 6 p. m. respectively.

Mrs. Sarah Keyser, wife of Geo. Keyser of our town, has been sent to the insane asylum at Pontiac, violently insane. She became afflicted about two weeks before and this step had to be taken. The family and relatives have the sympathy of a large circle of friends.

FOR SALE—Two heavy draft horses, two light roadsters and five well-bred mares. These horses will be sold at prices to suit the times, as my farm is overstocked. Call or address Springfield Stock Farm, two miles north of Birmingham. T. R. Roberts, Proprietor. 2184.

Fall millinery is right in time, at Mrs. Boyd's neat and fine. Go straight ahead to Pontiac, for there you'll never find a lack of feathers, line and ribbons, but at prices that will just suit you. Mrs. Frank Boyd is one of our enterprising women. Pontiac advertisers: Look for her ad.

A petition to build a jail in our town has been circulated and numerously signed and ought to be acted upon at once. The rear end of the town hall is naturally adapted for a cage for two and they could be placed and ready for immediate use and with very little expense. Let's try it.

Engene Brooks has returned home from his visit with his brother Elmer in Denver, Colo., having had a most enjoyable visit taking in the three days' carnival, something akin to the New Orleans Mardi Gras exhibition. Gene says nothing like the slaves of the Silver Serpent ever has been seen or ever will be again.

About 50 couples of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Charles French, who live on the Burly subdivision, gave them a surprise party one evening last week and made a merry night of it by dancing, having card games, etc., etc. When the gathering broke up one of the men declared they had enjoyed a most delightful time.

Ladies and gentlemen, are you shod for fall and winter? If not, get a new one on you and keep it until you arrive at H. B. Merritt's shoe house, Pontiac, where you will find a glorious assortment to choose from, at prices adapted to all. Now you must not be frightened out by the crowd, but fall in line. Cautionously read every word of his ad this week.

Might have been a fire last Sunday morning about nine o'clock as a brick blaze was discovered on the sidewalk just east of Mrs. H. Blumberg's house. The neighbors rushed out and poured of water, extinguishing it in a short time. Had it not been seen just in time the whole yard would have been in flames. A lighted match or the stub end of a cigar was the cause.

It was recently reported that Jay Clark had purchased the Romeo Hydrant. Somehow the deal fell through, but the Farmington Enterprise, not knowing of the circumstance, says: "Jay Clark, late editor of the 'busted' Pontiac Republican, has again entered the newspaper field, having bought out the Romeo Hydrant. Jay's mouth and a hydrant ought to work together."

G. Samter, M. D., has a bran new ad in this issue. It is entirely different in every respect from anything ever inserted by the Dr. in his advertisements before. Be sure and read what he has to say to you, as he means business and wishes you to understand that he is prepared to meet you and work up a practice among you. His new ad will be found on one of the local pages.

"A cordial greeting to you all" appears in this issue from W. R. Owen, the popular bazaar proprietor of Pontiac, who makes his debut from the advertising platform of the Eccentric this week. Mr. Owen has a charming collection of everything and everything, and is always ready to entertain visitors whether they purchase or not. Give him a call. Read his greeting in another column.
