Wm. Mauder sold the Woodward Avenue home across the River bridge to Albert H. Douglas, of Detroit, who pays $2,200 for this little home. It is located at 113 1/2 North and the rear view is very attractive.

HE IS RISEN.

J. J. Clark, a Birmingham, received an Envelope Written in the Great Canadian Paper, the Toronto Globe. The many friends of Mr. J. R. Quick will be more than pleased to know that he has risen in railroad circles to a very profitable, pleasant and responsible position as he is now General Baggage Agent for the Great Canadian Paper System, and has most general offices in Toronto, Ont. Below is a portion of what the Toronto Globe says of our own John R. Quick.
