MERE MENTION OF VIOLENCE MATTERS.

German Farmer of Macomb County Shot and Killed by His Own Daughter—Grand Rapids Train Kills His Wife—Jackson Convict Stabs a Keeper.

Farmer Murdered by His Daughter.

Frederick Heide, a well-to-do German farmer living in Warren township, Macomb county, after spending a day drinking at a saloon two miles from his place started for home; his wife ran away and he was the only one in the ditch, where he was found by his wife and son-in-law, Ralph W. Hays. When they attempted to assist he made an assault on his wife with the butt of a whip scold. Upon reaching home Heide began to abuse his daughter Minnie aged 17, and threatened to kill her as he had done many times before. She secured the weapon, but he became so violent that she was afraid he would do her harm. She went to the woodshed, procured a gun and returning to the kitchen took deliberate aim at her father, who was sitting in a chair at the time, and fired, the charge striking him in the head and killing him. Heide was 37 years of age and his wife is 45.

The coroner's jury in the inquest returned a verdict of justifiable homicide, finding that his daughter Minnie shot Heide in self defense. Minnie is a bright and remarkably good-looking girl. In the neighborhood she is a great favorite and all sympathize with her.

A Cowardly Wife Murders.

Jacob Welsh, aged 29, a stationary engineer of Grand Rapids, had a quarrel some time ago with his wife's daughter, the latter aged 18. He left the house and did not return until evening, when he was very drunk. Without a word to his wife he drew a revolver from his pocket and fired it in the neck. The daughter, hearing the shot, placed a chair against the door and fled screaming out of the front door. The father pursued, but was unable to overtake her, and returning to the house found that she had become alive and conscious. He lifted her from the floor, and placed the revolver to her head, firing again, and then left the house. Mrs. Welsh died the next day and the murderer was locked up.

The anti-saloon league at Grand Rapids intends to make complaint against the saloonkeeper who sold Welsh the liquor which made him drunk. They claim that the saloon bondsmen are liable and that they can be held to provide for the children of the dead woman. This will serve as an excellent test case under which they propose to work.

Convict Carley Assaults Another Keeper.

Convict Wm. Carley made a desperate assault upon Keeper Geo. Southwick at Jackson prison. When the keeper came to take Carley to breakfast dishes the convict leaped against the door, knocking Southwick down. Carley then leaped upon him and began to stab him with a knife. He needed use in sewing brooms. Notwithstanding a score of wounds the keeper regained his feet and fought Carley back into his cell and locked the door. He then summoned help and was taken to the hospital where Dr. Gilchrist dressed the wounds, some of which are very serious.

This is the third assault Carley has made upon his keepers within three years. His first victim was Keeper McCleary in the steno shop whom he nearly killed with a knife; next Deputy Warden Northrup in a "several" quarrel was badly injured in a "several" fight by Carley, Huntley and Boote, for which Carley had 10 years added to the sentence he was already serving.

THE TWO PENINSULAS.

George Stantz, a farmer living northeast of Tipton, shot and killed his wife with a shot gun.

George Banaski, aged 13, while playing on logs at the upper dam at Big Rapids was drowned. His companions said nothing about the accident for several hours.

In a fit of jealousy, Wm. Fitzpatrick, state foreman on the D. S. S. & A. railway, at Au Train, made seven attempts to take the life of a woman who was on a train with a Jackknife. His recovery is doubtful.

Albert Wilkes, commanding the Michigan state naval brigade, sent a letter from the secretary of the navy telling him that it is about settled that he is to be sent to the United States Navy. Mr. Wilkes is a son-in-law of Wm. Hartshorn, formerly customs officer at Port Huron, had taken orders for many months, agreeing to get them, through the customs collector. After Currie's arrest the customs officials induced his customers to pay the duties on their clothing, which they did. The call has been issued for the tenth annual convention of the National League Republican clubs, to be held at Detroit, July 13.

Julian Tercey de Orives, aged 17, son of Seneca de Orives, merchant and psychologist, was found dead in bed at his residence, 66 Chiffins street, at Detroit. The body, which was half clad, was still warm when found. The teeth were set together, and the tongue was almost bitten in by the victim. The father thinks the boy was murdered, but can assign no reason.

Myron Northrup was fined $3 at Port Huron for covering glass on the pavement. The cyclist rejoiced.

THE 29TH CONGRESS AT WORK.

SENATE—1905 day.—The first vote on the tariff bill came after a two hours debate of the committee in the field, which, although comparatively unimportant, afforded an opportunity for the first alignment of the forces. Mr. Weyler, a Democratic member of the finance committee, moved to make the rate on legacis three cents. The majority of the committee is in favor of a rate of one cent per pound as provided by the committee. This presented a direct issue between the committee and the opposition of the day. The vote was 19-18, defeated, June 30, says 34. The vote was largely on party lines. Seven yeas and five nays were cast for the committee. The day the committee held its session, the tariff bill was sustained by each instance. The resolution was agreed to authorizing the secretary of the treasury to purchase suitable stock in forwarding relief supplies to India. House—No session.

SENATE—1905 day.—Good progress was made on the tariff bill. Several votes were taken; the finance committee was sustained in its report. AFFAIRS IN GENERAL.

The State Legislature Does Its Session for the Year.—The Michigan Legislature for the year 1905 has finished after five months of labor and the besapere representatives and the Senators and Representatives and lobbyists and pluggers and clerks and messengers and, and Well, all the rest of the crew which has been battering away at making and unmaking laws through nearly half a year, and less to the advantage or disadvantage of the people, have gone home apparently satisfied with their work, and ready to begin again in just a few days.

Special Commissioner Calhoun Finds a Serious Condition of Affairs Throughout Cuba.—Weyler's Claim That the War is Over Denied.

While the legislature recognizes the matter in Cuba. The special commissioner Calhoun is being held up by the national house of representatives after being passed by the senate. The committee held its session, the tariff bill was sustained by each instance. The resolution was agreed to authorizing the secretary of the treasury to purchase suitable stock in forwarding relief supplies to India. House—No session.

Gov. Pingree recently threatened that unless the legislature did some thing to make railway corporations more equal, stand a larger share, and more just share, as he believes, of the tax of the state that he would call them together in a special session for that purpose and see if they'd dare neglect "the people's interests" then. There's where the "if" comes in.

Consul-General Lee's report that the war is no nearer an end than two years ago, and that there is no prospect of either side triumphing so long as the dispute continues, has been grounded and the other narrow mouth is fully proved to Mr. Calhoun's satisfaction. The poor people who have been driven from their homes by Weyler's orders have been seen by Commissioner Calhoun and their terrible miseries he will relate to the President upon his return. Mr. Calhoun has saved 1,000 starving centenarians, and was told that 3,000 more had just been driven into the streets of Havana, and that the situation there, where their plight was hopeless.

Gen. Lee and Mr. Calhoun, with their retinue of 200 soldiers, are in Havana. Two years ago they were 365 House and about 260 Senate bills. The much-talked-of antagonism between the governor and the legislature is not accounted for the entire falling off, but that it does for a good proportion of it there is no doubt. The number of bills reported to the legislature in 1905 is 1,477, as compared with 1,100 in 1904. The number of bills reported to the legislature in 1905 is 1,477, as compared with 1,100 in 1904.

It has been openly stated in Washington that the President will not support the tariff bill. The tariff bill is a measure of protection for the sugar industry. The tariff bill is a measure of protection for the sugar industry. The tariff bill is a measure of protection for the sugar industry.

Michigan News Items.—Col. Fred Schneider and Gen. Dix's great success has resulted in a letter mailed to the governor on March 2, 1905. In some way the letter came to Michigan and got into the files of the Michigan State Journal. A DISAPPOINTED BANDMASTER.

He did His Best and Was Ignorant of the Result.—The Michigan Legislature for the year 1905 has finished after five months of labor and the besapere representatives and the Senators and Representatives and lobbyists and pluggers and clerks and messengers and, and Well, all the rest of the crew which has been battering away at making and unmaking laws through nearly half a year, and less to the advantage or disadvantage of the people, have gone home apparently satisfied with their work, and ready to begin again in just a few days.

About the third evening after the band had begun its performances, the program was interrupted by the music. "I've noticed that that band always begin its noise just about the time I am sitting down to dinner and when I get up to go to bed they are going to make a noise to express it and see whether it would obey an order to stop firing, and my services were promptly refused. The men were promptly informed and the band seemed to embrace every sort of brass instrument ever invented, from a dimly remembered tuba to a grand old bombass horn. The performer who played the latter instrument was looked within its ample twists, and looked out upon a standing line of the coils of a whisky-staff. The broad-belted bandmaster was puffing with his pipe a floor of a quack-medicine advertisement. The music was then riddled with the music and it was not an easy task to attract his attention. Like a sperm whale, he had come up to blow and was not going to go down till he had finished, but finally he was made to understand that, like the hand-organ man, he was desired to move on.

On my return the general said: "I fear that bandmaster standing there with his mouth open and his eyes wide open, but I didn't want him to be wasting his time upon a man who has no ear for music." A staff officer who had been present at the performance, but who was not a musician, said: "I have never seen a man who has no ear for music." A staff officer who had been present at the performance, but who was not a musician, said: "I have never seen a man who has no ear for music."

Working on the Book 25 Years.—The Michigan Legislature for the year 1905 has finished after five months of labor and the besapere representatives and the Senators and Representatives and lobbyists and pluggers and clerks and messengers and, and Well, all the rest of the crew which has been battering away at making and unmaking laws through nearly half a year, and less to the advantage or disadvantage of the people, have gone home apparently satisfied with their work, and ready to begin again in just a few days.
