

THE OLD STYLE.

When Freedom from her mountain
Unfurled her standard to the air,
She tore the curse from his mansion
And set the stars of glory there;
She mingled with his gorgeous dyes
The milky path of the skies,
And scribbled the purest white
With streakings of the morning light;
Then, from his mansion on the roof,
She called her eagle bearer down,
And gave into his mighty hand,
The symbol of her chosen land.

THE NEW STYLE.

to be free and independent states, that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown, and that all political connection between them and the state of Great Britain is and ought to be totally dissolved; and that, as full and independent states, they have, as of right, assumed the name and style of free, sovereign, and independent states, and that, as such, they have, as of right, assumed the name and style of free, sovereign, and independent states, and that, as such, they have, as of right, assumed the name and style of free, sovereign, and independent states.

THE OLD STYLE.

When Freedom from her mountain
Unfurled her standard to the air,
She tore the curse from his mansion
And set the stars of glory there;
She mingled with his gorgeous dyes
The milky path of the skies,
And scribbled the purest white
With streakings of the morning light;
Then, from his mansion on the roof,
She called her eagle bearer down,
And gave into his mighty hand,
The symbol of her chosen land.

THE NEW STYLE.

to be free and independent states, that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown, and that all political connection between them and the state of Great Britain is and ought to be totally dissolved; and that, as full and independent states, they have, as of right, assumed the name and style of free, sovereign, and independent states, and that, as such, they have, as of right, assumed the name and style of free, sovereign, and independent states.

THE OLD STYLE.

When Freedom from her mountain
Unfurled her standard to the air,
She tore the curse from his mansion
And set the stars of glory there;
She mingled with his gorgeous dyes
The milky path of the skies,
And scribbled the purest white
With streakings of the morning light;
Then, from his mansion on the roof,
She called her eagle bearer down,
And gave into his mighty hand,
The symbol of her chosen land.

WHY SO MANY PHYSICIANS FAIL.
To Cure Female Ills—Some True Reasons Why Mrs. Pinkham is More Successful Than the Family Doctor.
A woman is sick; some disease peculiar to her sex is fast developing in her system, and she goes to her family physician and tells him a story, but not the whole story.
She has been troubled back, been nervous, becomes agitated, forgets what she wants to say, and finally conceals what she sought to have told, and thus completely misleads the doctor.
Is it any wonder, therefore, that the doctor fails to cure the disease? Still, we cannot blame the physician for his failure, for he is not to be blamed for the ailment which he is called upon to cure. It is the woman's fault, for she does not tell the doctor the whole truth.
It is the woman's fault, for she does not tell the doctor the whole truth.
Mrs. Pinkham is more successful than the family doctor because she tells the doctor the whole truth. She tells him all the symptoms of her suffering, even to her family physician.
It is the woman's fault, for she does not tell the doctor the whole truth.
Mrs. Pinkham is more successful than the family doctor because she tells the doctor the whole truth. She tells him all the symptoms of her suffering, even to her family physician.
It is the woman's fault, for she does not tell the doctor the whole truth.

PREDICTIONS OF JOHN ADAMS

Extract from a Letter to His Wife, July 3, 1776.
Philadelphia, July 3, 1776.
Had a declaration of independence been made seven months ago, it would have been attended with more great and glorious effects. We might, before this hour, have formed alliance with foreign states. We should have mastered the ocean, and been in possession of Canada.
You will, perhaps, wonder how such a declaration would have influenced our affairs in Canada; but if I could write with freedom, I could easily convince you that it would, and explain to you the manner how. Many nations in high station, and of great influence have been duped, by the ministerial bubble of commissioner, to treat; and in real, sincere expectation of peace, when they are fondly wished, they have been so languid in promoting measures for the reduction of that province. Others there are in the colonies who really wish that our enterprise in Canada might be defeated; that the colonies might be brought into danger and distressed, and on that point they are induced to submit. If I could wish to defeat the expedition to Canada, I should be glad to see the people so much to hearken to those who are so inclined to submit. I should be glad to see the people so much to hearken to those who are so inclined to submit.

THE SAME OLD STORY.

When Freedom from her mountain
Unfurled her standard to the air,
She tore the curse from his mansion
And set the stars of glory there;
She mingled with his gorgeous dyes
The milky path of the skies,
And scribbled the purest white
With streakings of the morning light;
Then, from his mansion on the roof,
She called her eagle bearer down,
And gave into his mighty hand,
The symbol of her chosen land.

THE OLD STYLE.

When Freedom from her mountain
Unfurled her standard to the air,
She tore the curse from his mansion
And set the stars of glory there;
She mingled with his gorgeous dyes
The milky path of the skies,
And scribbled the purest white
With streakings of the morning light;
Then, from his mansion on the roof,
She called her eagle bearer down,
And gave into his mighty hand,
The symbol of her chosen land.

THE NEW STYLE.

to be free and independent states, that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown, and that all political connection between them and the state of Great Britain is and ought to be totally dissolved; and that, as full and independent states, they have, as of right, assumed the name and style of free, sovereign, and independent states, and that, as such, they have, as of right, assumed the name and style of free, sovereign, and independent states.

THE OLD STYLE.

When Freedom from her mountain
Unfurled her standard to the air,
She tore the curse from his mansion
And set the stars of glory there;
She mingled with his gorgeous dyes
The milky path of the skies,
And scribbled the purest white
With streakings of the morning light;
Then, from his mansion on the roof,
She called her eagle bearer down,
And gave into his mighty hand,
The symbol of her chosen land.

WHY SO MANY PHYSICIANS FAIL.
To Cure Female Ills—Some True Reasons Why Mrs. Pinkham is More Successful Than the Family Doctor.
A woman is sick; some disease peculiar to her sex is fast developing in her system, and she goes to her family physician and tells him a story, but not the whole story.
She has been troubled back, been nervous, becomes agitated, forgets what she wants to say, and finally conceals what she sought to have told, and thus completely misleads the doctor.
Is it any wonder, therefore, that the doctor fails to cure the disease? Still, we cannot blame the physician for his failure, for he is not to be blamed for the ailment which he is called upon to cure. It is the woman's fault, for she does not tell the doctor the whole truth.
It is the woman's fault, for she does not tell the doctor the whole truth.
Mrs. Pinkham is more successful than the family doctor because she tells the doctor the whole truth. She tells him all the symptoms of her suffering, even to her family physician.
It is the woman's fault, for she does not tell the doctor the whole truth.
Mrs. Pinkham is more successful than the family doctor because she tells the doctor the whole truth. She tells him all the symptoms of her suffering, even to her family physician.
It is the woman's fault, for she does not tell the doctor the whole truth.

PROSPECTS OF JULY.

AY of glory! well come day!
Freedom's banners greet thy ray;
See! how cheerfully they play
With thy morn'g breeze.
On the rocks where pilgrims kneel,
On the heights where squadrons wheel,
When a tyrant's thunder peal
O'er the trembling sea.
God of armies! bid thy stars
In their courses' an'g's ears,
Blast his arm, and worst his bars
From the heavens' side!
On our standard, lo! they burn,
And when days like this return,
Sparkle o'er the soldier's urn
For freedom die!

IT KILLS

Pointo Bugs, Cabbage Worms, and other insects that destroy the crops.
Gray Mineral Ash
This is the best for killing insects. It is used in the garden and on the lawn. It is used in the garden and on the lawn. It is used in the garden and on the lawn. It is used in the garden and on the lawn.

HALL'S

Vegetable Sicilian HAIR RESTORER
Beautifuls and restores Gray Hair to its original color and vitality; prevents baldness; cures itching and dandruff. At fine hair dressing. E. P. Hall & Co., Proprietors, N. H. 304 N. Broadway, N. H.

Who opened that bottle of HIRES Rootbeer?

The pepping of a cold from a bottle of HIRES Rootbeer is a signal of good health and pleasure. A sound the child like to be HIRES Rootbeer.
Ask your grocer today to show you a package of GILGINO, the new food for the children. It is a perfect food for the children. It is a perfect food for the children. It is a perfect food for the children.

SIOO To Any Man.

WILL PAY $100 FOR ANY CASE OF Weakness in Men They Treat and Fall to Cure.
An Omaha Company places for the first time before the public a medicine most perfect for the cure of Loss of Vitality, Nervous and Debility, and all other ailments of the Life Force in old and young men. No woman or child should be without it. It is a perfect food for the children. It is a perfect food for the children. It is a perfect food for the children.

THE DECLARATION.

THE Declaration of Independence was the grandest document ever penned by human hand. The original document is still preserved in the government archives at Washington where it is guarded night and day as the most sacred relic of our infancy as a nation. It has been printed and reprinted as it should be. Every American should know it by heart. Every foreigner coming to our shores should familiarize himself with it before entering upon the privileges of citizenship. Yet it is safe to say that it is not read much nowadays. Fifty years ago the reading of the declaration was a part of the part of every independence day celebration. Of late decades the custom has disappeared almost entirely. No celebration of the day should pass without its being read and without its history being related.

THE OLD STYLE.

When Freedom from her mountain
Unfurled her standard to the air,
She tore the curse from his mansion
And set the stars of glory there;
She mingled with his gorgeous dyes
The milky path of the skies,
And scribbled the purest white
With streakings of the morning light;
Then, from his mansion on the roof,
She called her eagle bearer down,
And gave into his mighty hand,
The symbol of her chosen land.

THE NEW STYLE.

to be free and independent states, that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown, and that all political connection between them and the state of Great Britain is and ought to be totally dissolved; and that, as full and independent states, they have, as of right, assumed the name and style of free, sovereign, and independent states, and that, as such, they have, as of right, assumed the name and style of free, sovereign, and independent states.

THE OLD STYLE.

When Freedom from her mountain
Unfurled her standard to the air,
She tore the curse from his mansion
And set the stars of glory there;
She mingled with his gorgeous dyes
The milky path of the skies,
And scribbled the purest white
With streakings of the morning light;
Then, from his mansion on the roof,
She called her eagle bearer down,
And gave into his mighty hand,
The symbol of her chosen land.

THE NEW STYLE.

to be free and independent states, that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown, and that all political connection between them and the state of Great Britain is and ought to be totally dissolved; and that, as full and independent states, they have, as of right, assumed the name and style of free, sovereign, and independent states, and that, as such, they have, as of right, assumed the name and style of free, sovereign, and independent states.