A postal from our old friend W N. McKee says:

Hats and Shirts!

We have received direct from the manufacturers the new styles and shapes of stiff hats for the fall of 1897. The popular colors this year will be prown and black, the brown being highest in favor. If you want the very newest and most fashionable hat send in your size and the price you want to pay and we will return you a hat by the first express out of Detroit.

We also be a support to the manufacturers the manufacturers the properties of the properties of the support of the properties.

out of Detroit.

We also bought a fine of madras cloth shirts which we wanted to offer for sale on the first day of August. The shipment got tangled up on the way and did not reach us until last Saturday. We bought these shirts to sell regularly for $1.25, but owing to the advanced season we have decided to forage profits and suffer a loss on them in order to sell them out. You can buy them at 63 cents apiece. Send in your order for a half-dozen with accompanying cash and the shirts in any color you may name will be sent by the first express leaving Detroit for your place. the first express leaving Detroit for your place.
