ONE MAN'S SUFFERING.

The Trials and Tribulations of a Battle Creek Citizen—How He Comes to Tell This Story.

(From the Battle Creek Moon.)

Among the moulders at the works of the Michigan foundry company can be found Mr. Amos Maynard; he has lived in Battle Creek for over ten years, is honored and respected by all who know him; such is the man who makes this statement, he says: "I have had kidney trouble for years, and it has made my life miserable. The heavy lifting, necessary in my business, made me worse. I have been compelled to be in bed in a helpless condition for as long as nine days at a time; the greatest pain was from my back, which sometimes felt as though a bayonet was being run through me in the region of my kidneys; many citizens of Battle Creek knew how bad I was. I could not move without the greatest caution, for as soon as I attempted to stoop over, bend to one side, or even turn in bed, the pain was simply unbearable. I wore porous plasters constantly for the little temporary relief they brought me. Whenever I caught the slightest cold it went straight to my kidneys and made me worse. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and get some. I have taken in all four boxes of them, and I now feel as active as ever. A few months ago I would have ridiculed the idea of being cured so quickly, and being able to work as I can now. All the long standing pains are gone, and the former cases of kidney disorders found in my urine have disappeared. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to many friends who were troubled as I was, and in every case I have learned they proved as beneficial as with me. Doan's Kidney Pills would be cheap to me at almost any price."

Wm. Wright and Charles Orth were rivals for the hand of Miss Olive Webb, a pretty young lady of Muir. The rivalry grew intense and bitter feeling existed between the young men. Wright was the favored one, however, and all arrangements were made for the wedding. The aged mother of Miss Webb is totally blind and needed her daughter's services at home. A struggle between love and duty led Miss Webb to change her mind and she told Wright she could not marry him while her mother lived. Wright went to his home near North Plain in a very despondent frame of mind. Soon afterward his father, upon going to the barn, was horrified to see his son's body hanging from a beam.

The Cleveland Press publishes interview with Mayor McKisson to the effect that Senator Hanna, president of the Cleveland City Railroad Co., and H. E. Andrews, president of the Cleveland Electric Railway Co., spent four hours in his private office trying without avail to get his support for a measure to be produced in the council to grant 50-year franchises to the street railways in consideration of 4-cent fares. The major says large personal inducements were held out to him but he refused. Andrews says the conversation took place, but that there was no suggestion of bribery in it.

The Dread Yellow Fever Appears in the South and Quarantine is Being Established—Nitro-Glycerine Explosion Kills Six People at Cygnet, O.

Yellow Fever Appears in the South.

"Yellow Jack," the dreaded yellow fever which has in years past caused such fearful devastation in portions of the southern coast and gulf states, has again made its appearance. Ocean Springs, Miss., the aristocratic summer resort of New Orleans' wealthy classes is the first point on United States soil to feel the grasp of the terrible, visitant, and as a result New Orleans is now practically in quarantine. There were several hundred cases at Ocean Springs with frequent deaths and the boards of health of Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana took precautions to prevent its spread, but Raoul Gelpi, who had been spending the summer at Ocean Springs, was taken to his home in New Orleans and died the next morning. Dr. R. Walmsley, acting president of the board of health there, after an autopsy, announced that Gelpi had died of yellow fever. The death of young Gelpi naturally caused much excitement in the city.

All of the principal cities of the south are now quarantining against, Ocean Springs, Biloxi and other gulf points and should there be the least sign of a spread of the disease in New Orleans, that city will be declared against that city.

A telegram from Edwards, Miss., states that Hon. S. S. Champion, a member of the state legislature since 1880, and a prominent politician, died from yellow fever supposed to be relapse of fever after having visited a neighboring family, seven of whom were ill—soon after the refugees from Ocean Springs.

The U. S. authorities have ordered Dr. John Guiteras, of the University of Pennsylvania, at Cuban and a yellow fever expert, to visit the infected districts and report the condition of affairs as soon as possible.

Terrible Nitro-Glycerine Explosion.

An explosion of nitro-glycerine occurred at Cygnet, O., which resulted in the death of at least six persons. Preparations were made for shooting an oil well which was a gusher and when the 120 quarts of glycerine was let down into the well and exploded the gas ignited and with a roar the flames shot high above the derrick. As soon as the derrikers saw the flames several gallons of liquor the derrick boss shut off the gas, but they had hardly gotten there when there was a second terrific explosion. The burning gas had started the remaining glycerine in the empty cans standing in a wagon near the derrick. The wagon and wagon shed was another 120 quarts of the stuff and this was exploded. The second was blended with the first in a mighty roar and the town and surrounding country for miles trembled from the shock. The wood supply and oil building was completely demolished and nothing remains but a big hole where the wagons stood. There is not a whole pane of glass in any window in the town and every house and store was shaken to its foundations.

The known killed are Sam Barber, Allen Fallis, John Thompson, Charles Bartel, Henry Lansdale and ——— Havens, a boy.

The damage to the Ohio Oil Co. will amount to $20,000. Eight buildings are a total wreck and many others damaged.

Farmers' National Congress.

The farmers' national congress was held in Wichita, Kan. Dr. A. A. Sobelle, of Venezuela congratulated the farmers on the return of prosperity and reflected the products and possibilities of his own country. He hoped soon to see the establishment of a colony of American farmers in Venezuela. Senor Romero, Mexican minister to the United States, expressed the belief that American farmers would do well to turn their attention that way. Ex-Gov. Hoard, of Wisconsin, was chosen president. Secretary Stahl was re-elected, and S. G. Spalding, of New York, was made treasurer. Samuel Gibson was elected vice-president for Michigan, and Alex. Dunlap, of Mansfield, Mich., was elected second assistant secretary.

Seven Killed by Natural Gas Explosion.

Broad Ripple, a suburb of Indianapolis, was the scene of two of the most horrible explosions that has ever visited the state. Seven persons were burned to death and thirty people are lying in the homes of neighbors, burned, scarred and racked with pain from broken bones. Four buildings, occupied by Frank Reed and others are in ruins, of the seven dead nothing remains, but charred and blackened bones with hanging strips of foul smelling flesh. The disaster was caused by natural gas leaking into the cellar of Reed's residence from a three inch main that ran in the street from which the houses were supplied.

It is reported that Haddah Mullah has abandoned the idea of attacking the Khan Dir and is concentrating his forces for an attack upon Peshawur.

The corporation of Brown university at Providence, R. I., voted to request President Andrews to withdraw his resignation. The trustees came down from their high horse and declared that they made a mistake in their previous action censuring President Andrews for expressing his views on certain political questions. It is not likely that Prof. Andrews will withdraw his resignation.

A London cable says: The secretary of state for India, in council, gives notice that the sale of bills of exchange on Calcutta Bombay and Madras has been suspended for a period of not less than 10 weeks. The governor has very little money in India to draw on, owing to the famine and the plague having rendered the collection of taxes slow. The council may refuse to draw altogether, thus sending exchange up to the gold point and rendering possible the establishment of the gold standard in India."

Bad Case of La Grippe Quickly Cured.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure Does the Work.

It Acts Like Magic—Speedy and Permanent Cure the Result.

PNEUMONIA PREVENTED.

A few weeks ago the editor was taken with a very severe cold that caused him to be in a most miserable condition. It was undoubtedly a bad case of la grippe and recognizing it as dangerous he took immediate steps to bring about a speedy cure. From the nature of the case it was necessary to procure the very best and most speedy cure. From the advertisement of Shiloh's Consumption Cure and the many good recommendations included therein, we concluded to make a first trial of the medicine. To say that it was satisfactory in its results, is putting it very mildly, indeed. It acted like magic and the result was a speedy and permanent cure. We have no hesitancy in recommending this excellent remedy to anyone afflicted with a cough or cold in any form. Its use has proved a paying investment—through a thorough and speedy cure—to us and we are sure all who use it according to directions will fifid it to be what we claim. Shiloh's remedies are all good—at least that is the reputation they have around here.—The Examiner, Vincent, N. J.

The great danger from the grip as well as severe cold is from its tendency to result in pneumonia. Shiloh's Consumption Cure prevents this.
