

IN OUR GREAT STATE.

THE HAPPENINGS IN MICHIGAN BRIEFLY RELATED.

Sugar Beet Contracts Being Made With Farmers Who Are Not According to the Honesty Law—A Severe Blow Struck Against Such Dealings.

About Sugar Beet Contracts. Land Commissioner French, who is charged with the enforcement of the best sugar law passed by the legislature in 1917, that contracts which parties are making with the farmers of Monroe and Oakland and adjoining counties, for the growing of sugar beets, are according to that law, which offers a bounty of one cent a pound on all sugar manufactured from Michigan beets grown in the state. That law provides that "the manufacturer shall produce good and sufficient receipts and vouchers for the beets that at least $4 per ton of 2,000 pounds has actually been paid for the beets purchased, containing 19 per cent of sugar," and "in sum proportionate to that amount for all beets containing a greater or less per cent of sugar." The law makes no discrimination as to the coefficient of purity of the beets, but the price is paid for beets with a coefficient of purity of 75 as for those of a purity of 85, should the per cent of sugar be less than 75.

U. P. Pine Forests Disappearing. Lumbering will be the chief industry in the upper peninsula of Michigan and in Marquette county; the cut of the jobbers in that section of the state for the county will aggregate 167,000 cords. There are 500 men employed in the camps now established. Wages this year are about the same as last year, since the panic. Lumbering operations which will be carried on in Alger, Leelanau and Schoolcraft counties will be the largest in the history of the region. It is estimated by old time lumbermen that the output in those counties will exceed that of any other section of the state. At present the already thinned forests, of which was once considered an almost inexhaustible supply of pine, will soon disappear.

Battling Flooding in Election Region. In recounting the vote for county treasurer in Saginaw county, the errors have been turned upon which greatly affect other candidates, including those of the Democratic party. When the 11th ward was reached, a peculiar condition of affairs was disclosed. While the ward was entitled to 738 votes, 743 were counted, the count according to this tally loses 59 to H. M. Schmidt, Democrat, nominee for representative from the First Saginaw District, who has a majority of six over Gardner, the Republican nominee. Gardner will therefore contest Schmidt's election.

In the Grip of King Storm. What was undoubtedly the worst snow storm Michigan has experienced in several years swept over the southeastern portion of the state on its way from New York, Ohio and Indiana to Canada. Probably the greatest damage was caused by the destruction of telegraph and telephone connections that by the delay of trains, and the latter becoming stalled. At Detroit street railway business was paralyzed and over 5,000 telephones rendered useless. Telegraph communications were cut off from the entire outside world.

Want to go to Cuba. Now that the 13th Michigan is bound for the applications for enlistment are numerous. Col. Gardner has offered two full companies of Spanish-American war veterans, one coming from Michigan, and another from the 19th, and the other from a town in southwestern Michigan. But he can accept neither, as he is only authorized to fill the 100 men of his regiment. Many boys of Michigan and Georgia regiments have already been transferred and others from mustered back troops are waiting.

STATE GOSSIP. Michigan cartmen makers held their annual convention at Pontiac. The Macebaes at Pinesong have just completed a $3,000 temple and opera house.

Prof. R. S. Avann, for 13 years head of the Latin department of Albion college, is dead.

Dr. M. E. Wadsworth had resigned the presidency of the Michigan College of Mines, at Houghton.

The 10th Michigan regiment is practicing marching 13 miles from Camp McKenzie to Bel Air, Co.

Life imprisonment in Wm. Senusky's trial for the murder of his young wife, Georgia, at Detroit.

Twelve Centerville girls have formed an Old Maid's club, and style themselves "deserted doves."

Ed Gillman, of Detroit, was arrested at Alpena charged with hunting deer with dogs and out of season.

The 7-year-old son of T. O'Leary, near Millington, was accidentally killed by his father's automobile.

New Michigan postmasters: Drake, Leeper county, Josiah McGinnis; Popple, Huron county, Donald McLeod.

Gov. Fingers visited Lent-Gov. Adams, Richmond, at Marquette and talked over the senatorial situation.

Wm. Warner, of Ludington shot a buck deer weighing 500 pounds, near Channing, in Michigan.

The Michigan Game association will prepare a bill to present to the state legislature for a revision of the state game law.

Neither shell apples nor watermelon will be raised in Michigan this year.

The farmer, was fined $25 for horsewhipping Libbie Pearson, aged three, whom he took with his intention of adoption.

NEWSY GENERALITIES.

ITEMS GATHERED FROM ALL DIRECTIONS.

Peace Commissioners Proceeding With Their Labors Without Serious Differences of Opinion—Canada and Cuba Are Making Mutual Concessions.

Peace Commission Completing the Work. The peace commission, which is rapidly completing their work on the ratification of the treaty, 6. Their Labors Without Serious Differences of Opinion—Canada and Cuba Are Making Mutual Concessions.

3. The relinquishment of sovereignty over and claim of title to Cuba. 2. The ratification of the treaty, 6. Their Labors Without Serious Differences of Opinion—Canada and Cuba Are Making Mutual Concessions.

Israel Daniels, aged 69, an eminent lawyer, died at his home in Cleveland by jumping from the steamer City of Cleveland into Lake Erie.

Aggie O'Phannigan came all the way from Ireland to Michigan, to see her old friend, Mrs. Munn, but found that she had a wife and four children.

Rudolph Hawke, a sailor on the schooner West Side, was killed in a condition when he attempted to climb on board the boat.

Christian Larson, aged 72, an old farmer, died near Charlotte, was struck by a Michigan Central engine while driving across the tracks, and he cannot recover.

Fire in Calis destroyed the store occupied by Caine & Bensch, milliners, and several other places were damaged. The total loss is over $14,000, with $2,000 insured.

Frank Debor, aged 23, Co. G, 35th Michigan died at Grand Rapids from consumption. He was a very excellent soldier and his death was a great loss.

J. V. Barry, of Lansing, will not succeed W. K. Bush as private secretary to the governor, but will be appointed to the position.

Col. John E. Tyrrell, of Jackson, has been appointed to the position of chief of the Michigan National Guard for two years, to succeed Gen. Lyon, of Calumet, whose term has expired.

John DeWitt, aged 67, of St. Louis, was drowned in the millpond. He broke through the ice while skating and could not be rescued by his companions. He made several attempts to do so.

Bertha North, aged 20, daughter of a farmer of North Holly, accidentally shot herself in the chest with a revolver. The shot entered above the heart and doctors say her recovery is doubtful.

The death of young Mrs. Rudolph Sanderson, of Battle Creek, on a charge of killing her aged and wealthy husband by putting powdered glass in his food, has attracted much attention.

Last spring Joseph and Barnard Blissett, who own a large tract of land, planted six acres to sugar beets as an experiment. They harvested 110 tons, which analyzed 13 1/2 per cent sugar, and netted $27,000.

John Marble, aged 83, an eccentric citizen of Buchanan township, Berrien county, died from a dose of morphine. In his younger days he was a Methodist minister, but he deserted his church and became a mystic.

Editor Dingley, of Kalamazoo, was elected a representative, but held a second office in the legislature.

There are many reports of violations of the law limiting to five the number of automobiles owned by any one person. One sportsman at Alpena is said to have boasted of the fact that he bagged 15 deer, and another claims to have killed 20.

The 1,000 employees of the Norrie, Pabst and Tilden mines, near Irons, are on strike against the mining Co. (a large corporation), has been given an advance in wages averaging fully 10 per cent. Further advances are expected by the strikers.

Low Barclay, of Jacksonville, was hunting with a companion named Fred Outer, when the latter's gun was accidentally discharged, striking Barclay in the left leg below the knee. He was taken home and amputation decided upon, but before the operation Barclay had died from the shock. He was 22 years old.

Andrew J. Smith, of the Nineteenth U. S. Infantry, who is home at Lansing on a furlough, reports the death of a young man, of Ponsa, Porto Rico, Wm. Walters, of Mulletta, and Ed Talmadge, of Bath, of the 19th Michigan, who were killed in action.

The D. G. H. & M. railway has discontinued its operation. The Commissioner Wessellus and has paid disputed taxes into the state treasury. The company was assessed under the Merriam law, but the commissioner claimed that its charter provided for a lump sum of $25,000. The Merriam law asked it for $87,700.

A powder explosion at Gogebic Powder Co., prevented an explosion which would have caused several deaths and would have shaken up the entire city of Painesville. The explosion was caused by the fact that the powder was not properly stored.

The cruiser New York sailed for Havana, where Admiral Sampson will go aboard to assume his duties as commander of the North Atlantic squadron.

It has practically been decided by Secretary of War Taft that the 19th and 20th regiments of the army of occupation for Cuba and Porto Rico. The army which will be sent to Cuba will consist of the 19th and 20th regiments.

The D. G. H. & M. railway has discontinued its operation. The Commissioner Wessellus and has paid disputed taxes into the state treasury. The company was assessed under the Merriam law, but the commissioner claimed that its charter provided for a lump sum of $25,000.

A powder explosion at Gogebic Powder Co., prevented an explosion which would have caused several deaths and would have shaken up the entire city of Painesville. The explosion was caused by the fact that the powder was not properly stored.

The cruiser New York sailed for Havana, where Admiral Sampson will go aboard to assume his duties as commander of the North Atlantic squadron.

It has practically been decided by Secretary of War Taft that the 19th and 20th regiments of the army of occupation for Cuba and Porto Rico. The army which will be sent to Cuba will consist of the 19th and 20th regiments.

The D. G. H. & M. railway has discontinued its operation. The Commissioner Wessellus and has paid disputed taxes into the state treasury. The company was assessed under the Merriam law, but the commissioner claimed that its charter provided for a lump sum of $25,000.

A powder explosion at Gogebic Powder Co., prevented an explosion which would have caused several deaths and would have shaken up the entire city of Painesville. The explosion was caused by the fact that the powder was not properly stored.

CONGRESS AT WORK AGAIN.

Session of the 52nd Congress. Amplely Opened.

With immense crowds filling the galleries and the desks of the members of both houses loaded with flowers the opening of the new session of the 52nd congress was almost a gala event.

The diplomatic gallery of the senate was filled with the representatives of the various foreign governments and on the floor of the house were the representatives of Great Britain on the joint high commission, accompanied by T. G. B. Smith, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Richard Cartwright, Sir Louis Davies and Mr. Charlton, members of the high commission.

At 10 o'clock the session opened with the reading of the President's message. The House promptly with 267 yeas and 167 nays passed the resolution.

The first three articles were mutually agreed upon in one day's sitting, as well as the article extending the term of the evacuation of the Philippines, 6. Pledge of the U. S. to preserve order in the Philippines pending the ratification of the treaty.

8. Religious freedom of the Carolines, assuring the rights of American missionaries there. 10. Cable landing rights at points within the Philippine archipelago.

11. Release by Spain of political prisoners for offenses in Cuba and the Philippines. 12. Pledge of the U. S. to inaugurate in the Philippines an "open door" policy and to guarantee the same to Spain for at least 12 years.

The first three articles were mutually agreed upon in one day's sitting, as well as the article extending the term of the evacuation of the Philippines, 6. Pledge of the U. S. to preserve order in the Philippines pending the ratification of the treaty.

8. Religious freedom of the Carolines, assuring the rights of American missionaries there. 10. Cable landing rights at points within the Philippine archipelago.

11. Release by Spain of political prisoners for offenses in Cuba and the Philippines. 12. Pledge of the U. S. to inaugurate in the Philippines an "open door" policy and to guarantee the same to Spain for at least 12 years.

The first three articles were mutually agreed upon in one day's sitting, as well as the article extending the term of the evacuation of the Philippines, 6. Pledge of the U. S. to preserve order in the Philippines pending the ratification of the treaty.

8. Religious freedom of the Carolines, assuring the rights of American missionaries there. 10. Cable landing rights at points within the Philippine archipelago.

11. Release by Spain of political prisoners for offenses in Cuba and the Philippines. 12. Pledge of the U. S. to inaugurate in the Philippines an "open door" policy and to guarantee the same to Spain for at least 12 years.

The first three articles were mutually agreed upon in one day's sitting, as well as the article extending the term of the evacuation of the Philippines, 6. Pledge of the U. S. to preserve order in the Philippines pending the ratification of the treaty.

8. Religious freedom of the Carolines, assuring the rights of American missionaries there. 10. Cable landing rights at points within the Philippine archipelago.

11. Release by Spain of political prisoners for offenses in Cuba and the Philippines. 12. Pledge of the U. S. to inaugurate in the Philippines an "open door" policy and to guarantee the same to Spain for at least 12 years.

The first three articles were mutually agreed upon in one day's sitting, as well as the article extending the term of the evacuation of the Philippines, 6. Pledge of the U. S. to preserve order in the Philippines pending the ratification of the treaty.

8. Religious freedom of the Carolines, assuring the rights of American missionaries there. 10. Cable landing rights at points within the Philippine archipelago.

11. Release by Spain of political prisoners for offenses in Cuba and the Philippines. 12. Pledge of the U. S. to inaugurate in the Philippines an "open door" policy and to guarantee the same to Spain for at least 12 years.

The first three articles were mutually agreed upon in one day's sitting, as well as the article extending the term of the evacuation of the Philippines, 6. Pledge of the U. S. to preserve order in the Philippines pending the ratification of the treaty.

8. Religious freedom of the Carolines, assuring the rights of American missionaries there. 10. Cable landing rights at points within the Philippine archipelago.

11. Release by Spain of political prisoners for offenses in Cuba and the Philippines. 12. Pledge of the U. S. to inaugurate in the Philippines an "open door" policy and to guarantee the same to Spain for at least 12 years.

The first three articles were mutually agreed upon in one day's sitting, as well as the article extending the term of the evacuation of the Philippines, 6. Pledge of the U. S. to preserve order in the Philippines pending the ratification of the treaty.

8. Religious freedom of the Carolines, assuring the rights of American missionaries there. 10. Cable landing rights at points within the Philippine archipelago.

11. Release by Spain of political prisoners for offenses in Cuba and the Philippines. 12. Pledge of the U. S. to inaugurate in the Philippines an "open door" policy and to guarantee the same to Spain for at least 12 years.

The first three articles were mutually agreed upon in one day's sitting, as well as the article extending the term of the evacuation of the Philippines, 6. Pledge of the U. S. to preserve order in the Philippines pending the ratification of the treaty.

8. Religious freedom of the Carolines, assuring the rights of American missionaries there. 10. Cable landing rights at points within the Philippine archipelago.

11. Release by Spain of political prisoners for offenses in Cuba and the Philippines. 12. Pledge of the U. S. to inaugurate in the Philippines an "open door" policy and to guarantee the same to Spain for at least 12 years.

The first three articles were mutually agreed upon in one day's sitting, as well as the article extending the term of the evacuation of the Philippines, 6. Pledge of the U. S. to preserve order in the Philippines pending the ratification of the treaty.

8. Religious freedom of the Carolines, assuring the rights of American missionaries there. 10. Cable landing rights at points within the Philippine archipelago.

11. Release by Spain of political prisoners for offenses in Cuba and the Philippines. 12. Pledge of the U. S. to inaugurate in the Philippines an "open door" policy and to guarantee the same to Spain for at least 12 years.

The first three articles were mutually agreed upon in one day's sitting, as well as the article extending the term of the evacuation of the Philippines, 6. Pledge of the U. S. to preserve order in the Philippines pending the ratification of the treaty.

SOME WAYS OF LOVE.

Mr. Singleton—Falling in love is nonsense. It doesn't follow that a fellow won't do it all the same. I was very difficult to get me once upon a time. She had a way of looking down when you were talking to her and of looking up when she wasn't looking at you. It was a very different look. Here was the domesticated. "You really must try this salad," "Singleton," her mother would say. "Look at my hair. It's just like the other piece of Louisiana; if you do get me, you'll be so disappointed if you don't. My hair is cooking."

"As Louisiana's pasty," well, it needed no pressing. If I had started the courting business seriously and gone on for a long time, I should have become a confirmed dyspeptic, so irresistible were its attractions. Unfortunately we are so constructed that we like everything that is not good for us and I—, but I am digressing. Also, Louisiana was singularly accomplished at sewing. Putting on a couple of buttons was nothing to her. You see, you may smile. Perhaps you haven't tried sewing on buttons? I have and I know the reverse of this, that is not good for us and I—, but I am digressing.

What with the cooking and the sewing and the looking up and the looking down, it was nearly a case with me, got to going there three times a week. I was thinking of an excuse for making it four, when an aunt fell ill and I had to go to her. I went as a nurse. The night after my departure I went to supper as usual. There was no oil in the salad, the pie wasn't baked, and the coffee was so strong I couldn't bear to think of it! Then the truth dawned upon me. Louisiana's pasty was made by Louisiana's mother.

Then I rallied. At any rate, Louisiana couldn't be so stupid. You see, I wanted some excuse to marry her, so I went there again. She greeted me with a reproachful coolness. "I thought at any rate you would come round for your shirt," she said. "I have sewn the buttons on the collar."

"Oh, Louisiana! I began—I was about to go to your mother. You see, my eyes lighted on the button. It was black; it was made of metal; it was not like the buttons I had seen in shops. The kind that my tailor uses for—other garments! So I escaped. It was providential. But sometimes I think—no, it was a very nice way of looking up—and down.

GRACE AFTER GRACE. A curate once courted a nice little miss. Grace by name, and by nature a sinner. He never dared ask for "Just one little kiss."

Grace thought by his preaching of his most passionate speech, when they sat down together. "What a very dry day," or "Most singular weather!"

"Ah, me! He is vowed unto silence," she cried; "I'm obliged to make him abjure it."

And I really should think I could cure it!"

So he came, and they all tried their hardest to make it come. He was seated by Grace, and his silence broke.

Said her father, who couldn't endure it: "I intend to offer a marriage between the states of Nicaragua, Honduras and Salvador, to be conducted under a common administration and known as the United States of Central America, has failed completely. The federal organizers have formally dissolved the union dissolved, the three republics retaining their separate sovereignty. The collapse is due to the failure of the troops at Honduras, acting in behalf of the federal organization, to suppress the rebellion of Salvador against the proposed federation and to force Salvador into the union. Gen. Tomas Regalado, the head of the revolutionary movement, has declared himself president and proclaimed himself chief executive of the republic of Salvador. President Gutierrez has fled.

Central American Union Doubtful. His attempt to effect a coalition between the states of Nicaragua, Honduras and Salvador, to be conducted under a common administration and known as the United States of Central America, has failed completely. The federal organizers have formally dissolved the union dissolved, the three republics retaining their separate sovereignty. The collapse is due to the failure of the troops at Honduras, acting in behalf of the federal organization, to suppress the rebellion of Salvador against the proposed federation and to force Salvador into the union. Gen. Tomas Regalado, the head of the revolutionary movement, has declared himself president and proclaimed himself chief executive of the republic of Salvador. President Gutierrez has fled.

Reports from Washington say the U. S. Canadian commissioners have reached an understanding on questions relating to the Great Lakes. The main points of dispute as to the lakes are: (1) The right of navigation, (2) the maintenance and building of warships on the inland waters. As to the lake fisheries it is understood that the agreement will make no provision for the same. The main points of dispute as to the lakes are: (1) The right of navigation, (2) the maintenance and building of warships on the inland waters. As to the lake fisheries it is understood that the agreement will make no provision for the same.

Blanco Returns to Spain. Blanco, the last Spanish captain-general to rule Cuba, has returned to his native Spain. There was no demonstration on his departure, and in fact only those visited him to bid adieu whose military duty compelled them to do so and instead of the commotion which would have been expected if his visitation is now heard from his erstwhile associates who openly denounce him as being responsible for the disaster which befell the island. He is openly accused of weakness and lack of character. He had been ordered to return to this country to face the campaign and the final result of the war, as the corrupt instrument of the corrupt and unprincipled few who rule Spain.

800 Houses Unroofed in Baltimore. Baltimore, Md., was struck by a severe storm which did considerable damage to buildings on Broadway, Nos. 253 to 259, between Murray and Warren streets, New York City, was almost entirely destroyed. The five-story brick building occupied by the men's furnishing firm of Rogers, Peet & Co., on the southwest corner of Broadway and Warren streets, was destroyed. The Rogers-Peet building and south of it was the magnificent 16-story building of the Home Life Insurance Co., which was also destroyed. The three-story building of the Postal Telegraph Co. The three buildings were practically destroyed. The loss will run up $1,250,000.

I LOOKED UP, AND— love-making when I'm two or three years older and when I'm made more stupid about such things, you know; but I can't help laughing. Why, it was a great big fellow, like a bear. He's a great big fellow, like a bear. He's a great big fellow, like a bear.

He's a great big fellow, like a bear. He's a great big fellow, like a bear. He's a great big fellow, like a bear.

He's a great big fellow, like a bear. He's a great big fellow, like a bear. He's a great big fellow, like a bear.

He's a great big fellow, like a bear. He's a great big fellow, like a bear. He's a great big fellow, like a bear.

He's a great big fellow, like a bear. He's a great big fellow, like a bear. He's a great big fellow, like a bear.

He's a great big fellow, like a bear. He's a great big fellow, like a bear. He's a great big fellow, like a bear.

He's a great big fellow, like a bear. He's a great big fellow, like a bear. He's a great big fellow, like a bear.

He's a great big fellow, like a bear. He's a great big fellow, like a bear. He's a great big fellow, like a bear.

He's a great big fellow, like a bear. He's a great big fellow, like a bear. He's a great big fellow, like a bear.

He's a great big fellow, like a bear. He's a great big fellow, like a bear. He's a great big fellow, like a bear.

He's a great big fellow, like a bear. He's a great big fellow, like a bear. He's a great big fellow, like a bear.

He's a great big fellow, like a bear. He's a great big fellow, like a bear. He's a great big fellow, like a bear.

He's a great big fellow, like a bear. He's a great big fellow, like a bear. He's a great big fellow, like a bear.

He's a great big fellow, like a bear. He's a great big fellow, like a bear. He's a great big fellow, like a bear.

He's a great big fellow, like a bear. He's a great big fellow, like a bear. He's a great big fellow, like a bear.

He's a great big fellow, like a bear. He's a great big fellow, like a bear. He's a great big fellow, like a bear.

He's a great big fellow, like a bear. He's a great big fellow, like a bear. He's a great big fellow, like a bear.

STRANGE SEARCH BY POLICE.

Stealing Paris Not for a Criminal, but an Honest Man.

At the present moment the police of Paris are engaged on rather an unusual task. They are in search of a noted thief, the Greek painter, the painter of old, in a skeptical spirit, for the very reason that he has furnished striking evidence of his integrity. The fact, however, that an interesting individual shall be found to be provided with a post in the service of the prefecture. It is a curious case, and one which reflects most credit on all concerned.

Recently Mme. Blanc, the wife of the prefect of police, discovered on her table a small package, which she had lost her purse, containing nearly 200 francs, and ascertained to her satisfaction on the following morning that it had been sent by a stranger to the office of the local commissary. The lady made kind inquiries about this person and an investigation showed that he had been living in a small hotel in the Faubourg St. Germain, but a few hours before he came across the money he had been obliged to leave the house, as all his funds had been exhausted. The Greek painter had been due to the utmost destitution, but he had manfully resisted the temptation. If, indeed, it occurred to him to give up the money, he would have done so, but he was not to be so easily won over. He had been obliged to leave the house, as all his funds had been exhausted. The Greek painter had been due to the utmost destitution, but he had manfully resisted the temptation. If, indeed, it occurred to him to give up the money, he would have done so, but he was not to be so easily won over. He had been obliged to leave the house, as all his funds had been exhausted. The Greek painter had been due to the utmost destitution, but he had manfully resisted the temptation. If, indeed, it occurred to him to give up the money, he would have done so, but he was not to be so easily won over. He had been obliged to leave the house, as all his funds had been exhausted. The Greek painter had been due to the utmost destitution, but he had manfully resisted the temptation. If, indeed, it occurred to him to give up the money, he would have done so, but he was not to be so easily won over. He had been obliged to leave the house, as all his funds had been exhausted. The Greek painter had been due to the utmost destitution, but he had manfully resisted the temptation. If, indeed, it occurred to him to give up the money, he would have done so, but he was not to be so easily won over. He had been obliged to leave the house, as all his funds had been exhausted. The Greek painter had been due to the utmost destitution, but he had manfully resisted the temptation. If, indeed, it occurred to him to give up the money, he would have done so, but he was not to be so easily won over. He had been obliged to leave the house, as all his funds had been exhausted. The Greek painter had been due to the utmost destitution, but he had manfully resisted the temptation. If, indeed, it occurred to him to give up the money, he would have done so, but he was not to be so easily won over. He had been obliged to leave the house, as all his funds had been exhausted. The Greek painter had been due to the utmost destitution, but he had manfully resisted the temptation. If, indeed, it occurred to him to give up the money, he would have done so, but he was not to be so easily won over. He had been obliged to leave the house, as all his funds had been exhausted. The Greek painter had been due to the utmost destitution, but he had manfully resisted the temptation. If, indeed, it occurred to him to give up the money, he would have done so, but he was not to be so easily won over. He had been obliged to leave the house, as all his funds had been exhausted. The Greek painter had been due to the utmost destitution, but he had manfully resisted the temptation. If, indeed, it occurred to him to give up the money, he would have done so, but he was not to be so easily won over. He had been obliged to leave the house, as all his funds had been exhausted. The Greek painter had been due to the utmost destitution, but he had manfully resisted the temptation. If, indeed, it occurred to him to give up the money, he would have done so, but he was not to be so easily won over. He had been obliged to leave the house, as all his funds had been exhausted. The Greek painter had been due to the utmost destitution, but he had manfully resisted the temptation. If, indeed, it occurred to him to give up the money, he would have done so, but he was not to be so easily won over. He had been obliged to leave the house, as all his funds had been exhausted. The Greek painter had been due to the utmost destitution, but he had manfully resisted the temptation. If, indeed, it occurred to him to give up the money, he would have done so, but he was not to be so easily won over. He had been obliged to leave the house, as all his funds had been exhausted. The Greek painter had been due to the utmost destitution, but he had manfully resisted the temptation. If, indeed, it occurred to him to give up the money, he would have done so, but he was not to be so easily won over. He had been obliged to leave the house, as all his funds had been exhausted. The Greek painter had been due to the utmost destitution, but he had manfully resisted the temptation. If, indeed, it occurred to him to give up the money, he would have done so, but he was not to be so easily won over. He had been obliged to leave the house, as all his funds had been exhausted. The Greek painter had been due to the utmost destitution, but he had manfully resisted the temptation. If, indeed, it occurred to him to give up the money, he would have done so, but he was not to be so easily won over. He had been obliged to leave the house, as all his funds had been exhausted. The Greek painter had been due to the utmost destitution, but he had manfully resisted the temptation. If, indeed, it occurred to him to give up the money, he would have done so, but he was not to be so easily won over. He had been obliged to leave the house, as all his funds had been exhausted. The Greek painter had been due to the utmost destitution, but he had manfully resisted the temptation. If, indeed, it occurred to him to give up the money, he would have done so, but he was not to be so easily won over. He had been obliged to leave the house, as all his funds had been exhausted. The Greek painter had been due to the utmost destitution, but he had manfully resisted the temptation. If, indeed, it occurred to him to give up the money, he would have done so, but he was not to be so easily won over. He had been obliged to leave the house, as all his funds had been exhausted. The Greek painter had been due to the utmost destitution, but he had manfully resisted the temptation. If, indeed, it occurred to him to give up the money, he would have done so, but he was not to be so easily won over. He had been obliged to leave the house, as all his funds had been exhausted. The Greek painter had been due to the utmost destitution, but he had manfully resisted the temptation. If, indeed, it occurred to him to give up the money, he would have done so, but he was not to be so easily won over. He had been obliged to leave the house, as all his funds had been exhausted. The Greek painter had been due to the utmost destitution, but he had manfully resisted the temptation. If, indeed, it occurred to him to give up the money, he would have done so, but he was not to be so easily won over. He had been obliged to leave the house, as all his funds had been exhausted. The Greek painter had been due to the utmost destitution, but he had manfully resisted the temptation. If, indeed, it occurred to him to give up the money, he would have done so, but he was not to be so easily won over. He had been obliged to leave the house, as all his funds had been exhausted. The Greek painter had been due to the utmost destitution, but he had manfully resisted the temptation. If, indeed, it occurred to him to give up the money, he would have done so, but he was not to be so easily won over. He had been obliged to leave the house, as all his funds had been exhausted. The Greek painter had been due to the utmost destitution, but he had manfully resisted the temptation. If, indeed, it occurred to him to give up the money, he would have done so, but he was not to be so easily won over. He had been obliged to leave the house, as all his funds had been exhausted. The Greek painter had been due to the utmost destitution, but he had manfully resisted the temptation. If, indeed, it occurred to him to give up the money, he would have done so, but he was not to be so easily won over. He had been obliged to leave the house, as all his funds had been exhausted. The Greek painter had been due to the utmost destitution, but he had manfully resisted the temptation. If, indeed, it occurred to him to give up the money, he would have done so, but he was not to be so easily won over. He had been obliged to leave the house, as all his funds had been exhausted. The Greek painter had been due to the utmost destitution, but he had manfully resisted the temptation. If, indeed, it occurred to him to give up the money, he would have done so, but he was not to be so easily won over. He had been obliged to leave the house, as all his funds had been exhausted. The Greek painter had been due to the utmost destitution, but he had manfully resisted the temptation. If, indeed, it occurred to him to give up the money, he would have done so, but he was not to be so easily won over. He had