

PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY WHITEHEAD & MITCHELL.

THE LAW OF SELF-SACRIFICE SUNDAY'S SUBJECT.

"War is hell," but human slavery is worse.

From the following Text, Heb. 9:12-17: "No Redeemer"—An Echo of War Times—Pictures of Carnage.

The times that have rained fire upon those on your wife's new Easter bonnet.

John G. Whittier, the last of the great school American poets that made the latter part of the century brilliant, asked me in the White Mountains, one morning after prayers, in which I had given the following hymn as a theme: "The Fountain Filled with Blood," "Do you really believe there is a literal application of the blood of Christ to the soul?"

The grocer, it is said, wants but little here—little drops of water and little grains of sand.

Every advance in war engines is a swift advance toward hell.

The Canadian parliament has killed a bill designed to prevent the circulation of Sunday newspapers.

In order to understand this red word of my text, we only have to exercise as much common sense in religion as we do in other things.

The Anatolian continent is for everything indicates that the great leap of the south pole covers land area not less than that of the entire earth.

There is a serious question in our mind whether the practice of christianizing ships should be perpetuated.

A prominent publisher died recently who was also a large manufacturer of paper.

At 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon go among the places of business or to it will be no difficult thing for you to find a man who will not look upon you as a nuisance.

of men to do battle. All the poetry of the world is in the air. They thought but the terrible power, they would kneel-deep in mud. They slept in snow-banks. They marched till their feet were black with mud. They were under the eye of the honest rays, and lived on meat not fit for a dog. But we need not go so far. What is that monument in the cemetery? It is to the doctors who fell in the southern epidemics. Why go? Were there not doctors here who had been in the northern latitudes? Oh, yes; but the doctor puts a few medical books in his valise, and some vials of medicine, and leaves his patients here to their fate.

No wonder a great mound has been reared there hundreds of feet high—a mound of the expense of millions of dollars and many years in the building of the great English lion of bronze, and a grand old lion it is. But the great Astor was in Palestine.
