One of the largest and most delightfu One of the largest and most delightful receptions took place at the residence of Rev. A. H. Orr on Thursday evening, Mar. 31, 1985, tendered by his Troy congregation and many other friends. The Ladiest Missionary Society helds farewell meeting in the afternoon, and the congregation and riceds to the number of Dw sulgest in such conversation the worthy couple in the evening. After a short, time specific solid conversation the company were invited to the basement the company were invited to the basement and the company were invited to the basement and the company were invited to the basement of the company were invited to the basement of the company were invited to the basement of the company which all did ample justice. After supper, Mr. and Mrs. Or were presented by Rev. Joseph McCracken in a few choice and appropriate remarks, with a sented by Rev. Joseph McCracken in a few choice and appropriate remarks, with it beautiful-silver tea set as a token of the love and esteem of the congregation and relends. The presentation was followed by recitations and sizing, and after these came the remarks of different members o the congregation which was the saddest part of all, as there was not hardly a dry even in the house. The remarks all tended part of all, as there was not hard; gee in the house. The remarks all to show the love and esteem with both Mr. and Mrs. Orr were held members of the congregation, and years they had-been connected we church they had both worked har interest and for its stycess.
