BIRMINGHAM, OAKLAND COUNTY, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1898. OUR KLONDIKE LETTER.

Written by Will Benedict to His Wife, of this Place.

DAWSON CTTV. July 26, 1898.

DEAR LITTAG GREE.—Well, here I am in Dawson and on a raft of 9999 feet, which we are trying to sell. We will dispose of it or, k., but we want a fancy price as they are tancy logs, see? they are tanched to the this letter (or note) another to St. Nichols and he has kindly consented to take this letter (or note) out for me, so maybe it will beat the mail. Tom and Boyes and Bodine are at the Stewart and have staked claims for us on Henderson Creek, and Black Hills Creek, which is a tributary of the Stewart. Henderson Creek empties into the Yukon two miles below the Stewart. We don't know as they are any good yet, but I have struck what I think is better here. Peabody and his partner, Govin, have offered me a chance to work a claim for half or we can buy it for $3,000, if it is any good.

The claim is situated on Prench Gulch.

should see the long faces some or treath ave and wear, some of them look desperate, some sad and desperate, and all those who have enough money are taking the boats out for home and the rest must wait until the river freezes, then they will "mush on" for Dyea and Skag-ranging to make something in this country lift it is here. The country has been overboomed through the Transportation Co. and the Outfitter and many a poor man has lost his last dollar and more while others have lost life and health in its man fare and the results of all their hard work is to be disappointment and defeat. Hundreds are selling out everything and all the boats are loaded to the water's edge and cannot accommodate the crowd, so lots of them are floating down the Yukon on their seows and boats. So you see the chances are not the brightest, yet I still believe thas we are the "luckiest dogs" down the Yukon.
