Best Sugar Bounty.

What will the legislature do with the beet sugar bounty laws is a question which is interesting phe legal fraternity. It means much to the state, as in view of the expected enormous production of beet sugar, the question arises whether the factories question arises whether the factories claim the bounty for the entire seven years, or, in other words, if the law is not a contract of the state with the manufacturers. Prominent lawyers are of the opinion that all factories built in view of the law could hold the state for the bounty.
