WHAT THE LAW DECIDES.

The special title acquired by an asignee of a mortgage assigned for the purpose of foreclosure only is held, in Taylor vs. Carroli (Md.), 44 L. R. A. 479, not to vest in or devolve upon his administrator upon his death.

The duty to put a label containing the word "Potson" on every poisonous liquid or substance, though imposed by the statute in general terms, is held, in Wise vs. Morgan (Tenn.), 44 L. R. A. (18), which is the substance of the proposition of the
