

A FARM JOURNAL
Great Offer
From now to December, 1903.
Nearly 5 years.

By special arrangement made with the publishers of the Farm Journal we are enabled to offer that paper to every subscriber who pays for the Birmingham Eccentric, all arrears, and one year ahead, both papers for the price of ours only, our paper one year and the Farm Journal from now to December, 1903, nearly 5 years. The Farm Journal is an old established paper, enjoying great popularity, one of the best and most useful farm papers published. This offer should be accepted without delay.

HOME NOTES

Today is Arbor Day.
Fish! Fish! is once more a familiar sound in this vicinity.

FOR SALE—Light Brahma eggs. Enquire Raynale Whitehead.
Edertainment in Presbyterian church this (Friday) evening.

WANTED—A girl for housework in a family of three. Mrs. Harvey C. Wilson.

Time to look over garden seeds. A good rule is to make garden when the cherries bloom.

The Library Club will meet with Miss Baldwin next Tuesday evening. First lesson in Book XII.

Do you want to have a pleasant time this evening? Then attend the entertainment at the Presbyterian church.

F. Blakeslee, our popular dry goods and boot and shoe dealer, has shoes to burn. If you don't believe it, ask him.

Howard Montgomery has some handsome young rabbits for sale cheap. Call and see them, they are beauties.

If the members of the B. H. S. Alumni want the coming banquet to be a success, they should attend the business meetings.

On and after Sunday, May 7, the evening service at the Presbyterian church begins at 7:30, and the Y. P. S. C. E. meets at 6:30.

The first M. M. A. dress parade of the season, occurred at Orchard Lake Sunday and attracted many of our citizens in that direction.

For sale—A good cook stove, a canopy top buggy and a harness. Enquire of Mrs. Edwin Baldwin, Birmingham, Mich. 5213.

On careful examination it is found that nearly all the peach trees survived the cold snap, altho' some apple trees froze so hard that the bark burst.

FOR SALE—Fine Jersey heifer, 10 months old. A. B. Seltzer, 1 1/4 miles south of Birmingham on Pierce Street. 5172.

Ladies have you seen the new goods which have just arrived at Miss R. DeLancey's millinery store, Pontiac? Take the children in and get them a dainty little hat. Prices cheap.

A little stranger arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Parks, in Troy, Sunday, April 23. It was a baby girl and she weighed ten pounds. Dr. Townsend is attending physician.

For Rent—An eight-room house, furnace heated, bath room, on best street in Birmingham, convenient to electric cars. Will lease for one year. Terms very reasonable! Mrs. Flora Beattie. 5212.

The last meeting of the "Novel Club" was held at the Library room last Saturday when Mrs. Cooper gave the last half of "Old Curiosity Shop." A committee was appointed to select book for next session.

The historical lecture given in the Baptist church last Friday evening, by Rev. Hudson of Detroit, was a scholarly production and much enjoyed by his hearers. Mr. Hudson has a very pleasing style of delivery.

Mrs. E. S. Wooster has rented her home on Maple avenue east to Mr. Mason and family, formerly occupants of the Houghton house on Merrill street, and is now occupying her house recently vacated by Dr. Shaw.

Married, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Melissa Palmer, of Southfield, April 4, 1899, by Rev. N. Dickey, Daniel Hughes and Erna May Palmer. Mr. and Mrs. Hughes have made Ypsilanti their home.

FOR RENT—Improved farm of 90 acres, known as the H. C. Hyde estate. Enquire F. W. Hyde, near Franklin (on angling road), Malen Michael, (from across the way), or Frank L. Hyde, 162 Jefferson Ave., Detroit. 5212.

Everybody turn out this (Friday) evening and help a good cause—entertainment under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society. Moving pictures by a first-class company and a good program, composed of music, both vocal and instrumental and elocutionary productions by some of our best home talents. Admission 10c and 15c.

E. N. Auten has purchased the Tomlinson photo car and will remain in Birmingham two weeks or more to do business. Mr. Auten can furnish all kinds of pictures in all sizes, from the stamp photo up, at prices as reasonable as any one. Now is your opportunity to get "hook" at home. Give him a call.

TO RENT—The Quick residence on Saginaw street. Large frontage on electric line. Cars for Detroit and Pontiac every one-half hour. Fine barn, garden, furnace, bath, hot and cold water, and every convenience for good family. Inquire at Exchange Bank, Birmingham, Mich. 5211.

We wish to inform our readers that we have directed sample copies of the Farm Journal sent to your address. They are sent free for your inspection and we trust you will give them a thorough perusal. No other copies will be sent you unless we receive your subscription through the Eccentric, which we hope to do.

The Farm Journal is chock full of gumption and has the largest circulation of any farm paper in the world. It is good everywhere. We offer it for a short time as a prize to advance paying subscribers to the Birmingham Eccentric a year ahead and the Farm Journal for the balance of 1899 and all of 1900, 1901, 1902 and 1903, nearly five years, all for the price of one paper alone.

On Sunday last the attendance at the M. E. church were privileged to listen to the most inspiring address by Rev. Eugene Allen in the morning, the theme of the sermon was regarding the necessity of concentration and energy of purpose. In the evening Mr. Allen delivered a lecture on Comradeship, for which if we were to pay any Lecture Bureau in the country the sum of $50 we would have been well repaid.

One day last week the residents of Fremont street were treated to the queer spectacle of seeing a big push its head through the bay window in Melvin Buel's house, cutting itself quite bodily with the broken glass. The horse belongs to Chauncey Nixon, of Southfield, and was being driven to town by its owner. The beast was taken with a sudden attack of "blind staggers" and became unmanageable. The letting of blood was just what was needed and no serious harm was done.

The family of Will Benedict is a happy one now, since the return of the distinguished Klondiker last Sunday evening. He was not expected there and surprised them all in a manner similar to the way Tom Hanna did a few weeks ago. It will be remembered, however, that he returned with Tom as far as Seattle, Wash. Mr. Benedict is in excellent health. His experience and hardships did not change his looks materially and he speaks in glowing terms of his eventful trip. His return home was of a business nature and he expects and looks forward to the more far distant future.

The craziest scheme yet enacted by the two-fifths power of our school board, Prof. W. D. Clark and Alfred Johnston, livernary, is the hiring of a room in the Ford block and placing therein the 4th grade under the teaching of Miss C. Leonard for the next eight weeks of school. When it is known as a fact that there is not one scholar more now than one year ago, that the change is out of all proportion in expense compared with the time to end of school year, the school district tax payers have the right to feel outraged beyond expression. Why wasn't this change made last fall as voted for by the district taxpayers at their annual meeting?

Alexander McKinney, an esteemed resident of Southfield, died Thursday, April 20, aged 76 years. It will be remembered that less than a week prior to his death the old gentleman fell from the church steps and received what proved to be his death blow, altho' at the time of accident he was not considered in a dangerous condition. For over 40 years deceased was a faithful elder in the Reformed Presbyterian church of Southfield. The funeral occurred from the family residence Monday, Rev. J. McCracken officiating. Mr. McKinney leaves a host of relatives and friends to mourn his demise. Further particulars pertaining to the life and death of deceased will appear in these columns next week.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

His Side of It.
ERRORS ECCENTRIC.
Knowing that you would not intentionally make any erroneous statements through the columns of your valuable paper, and thinking that you must have been misinformed in regard to the facts of my late trouble with Mr. Bray, I would like to say that the only weapons used on him were those given me by nature, and that as to the clause, "While it is to be explored that it happened, as far as the requirements of the law are concerned I have complied with them all and do not care to be placed before the public in a wrong light."
I hope you will allow space in your columns for a short story and I am, Yours most respectfully,
WM. ROBINSON.

THE STAGE.
AT THE LYCEUM.
Dumas' play, "Camille," is an eminently satisfying presentation by the Cummings stock company at the Lyceum theater. Played as it has been, by all sorts and conditions of actors, it is unnecessary to dilate upon the merits or demerits of the piece. The distribution of the characters has been made with a conscientious regard for the fitness of the actors to the roles assigned them, and the result is that the performance is particularly free of the annoying and irritating qualities that have at times marked a first presentation of the Cummings company.

AT WHITNEY'S.
On the night of August 31, 1885, the first representation in Detroit of C. A. T. Murphy's "The Ivy Leaf," was given in the Whitney Opera House, which then stood at the corner of Fort and Shelby streets. Thelma W. H. Power was manager of the enterprise and for several years the play yielded a large revenue. It has since been here many times and it is again revived in the Whitney Grand. The well equipped and elegant stage, together with a child in its teens, and Marty Keegan's leap from the ruined tower do not seem to have lost any of their potency to this day. The scene of imminent execution of the hero, the performance might take rank in essentials with the original production. An Irish piper provides a bit of national music, cleverly and with a lively Irish jig and four-year-old little Ivy gives imitations of her elders in "Coon and other songs."

COUNTY LINE.
A. Harwood is around on crutches.
L. Pressel is cultivating up 40 acres of wheat and sowing oats.
Harmon Bartels returned to Roadside Wednesday.
Otto Howler has moved into K. Hawthorne's tenant house.
Mr. Paine is setting out a large number of trees on his farm.
Wilson Bros have the basement of the new mill about completed.
R. Russell of Royal Oak, did some surveying for C. Wilson last Saturday.
John Muller has sold 20 binders and mowers up to date. Eight went away Saturday.
A. White, of Royal Oak, is doing considerable work in his line around Warren.

"A House Neatly Papered is Half Furnished."

You will save money by buying your Wall Paper and Window Shades, Room Molding, etc. of us.

All the latest styles in Grains, Stripes, Tapestries, White Blanks, Gills, Granites, Sanitary Papers, Tinted Papers for ceiling, etc. Call and see us.

Do not buy old, out-of-date papers when the newest and best can be bought for less money. Do not buy of peddlers, unless you want to get soaked. We have the goods in stock and always will take back what you do not need. The peddler can't do this. He buys his goods of the retailer to whom he pays a profit and also a profit for himself, and think of the express charges! We buy direct from the factory, pay no middleman's profit or express charges. Call and see us, don't forget.

Have You Heard of It?

You may have heard about SCOTT'S EMULSION and have a vague notion that it is cod-liver oil with its bad taste and smell and all its other repulsive features. It is cod-liver oil, the purest and the best in the world, but made so palatable that almost everybody can take it. Nearly all children like it and ask for more.

SCOTT'S EMULSION looks like cream; it nourishes the wasted body of the baby, child or adult better than cream or any other food in existence. It bears about the same relation to other emulsions that cream does to milk. If you have had any experience with other so-called "just as good" preparations, you will find that this is a fact.

The hypophosphites that are combined with the cod-liver oil give additional value to it because they tone up the nervous system and impart strength to the whole body.

SCOTT'S EMULSION, all druggists. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York.
