TOWN MEETING

Monday of this week was a typical 9-puller day, if the old adage is true that a rainy, steady, drizzly, cool, daisy day is the democracy's ideal of victory, then of course they had no show.

Supervisor, Andrew H. Porter, 124; clerk, Thomas H. Cobb, 150; treasurer, Nathan C. Herbold, 16; highway commissioner, Thaddeus Swaley, 10; justice of the peace, (full term), J. Frank Herbold, 125; justice of the peace, (to fill vacancy), Wm. Williamson, 128; school inspector, Wm. E. McCellan, 128; member of board of directors, John H. Snow, 119; constables, Durward B. Wilkinson, 122; George W. Fay, 119; Nathan C. Herbold, 67; Marvell P. Haines, 121. Total number of votes cast, 493.

Help Beautify Our Village.

See put trees in the spring at the earliest opportunity," says Joseph Meekam in the Pioneer Farmer. They get settled and ready to grow with the warm weather.

A BAD BLAZE!

Geo. Brady's Barn With All its Contents Goes up in Smoke.

About 11:30 Tuesday night the crew on the electric line returning from Pontiac discovered a fire and hastened in the direction of the barn. Despite the heroic efforts of the D. & N. E. employees and others to remove the horses and cattle from the burning building the barn, with all its contents was completely destroyed.

*GREAT ACQUISITION TO BIRMINGHAM.

The new structure erected by C. H. Schlaack & Co. to be used for a hardware store, is now ready for occupancy.

WHEN TOMMY COMES MARCHING HOME!

A Surprise From Klondike--After an Absence of Over One Year he Returns.

Had the residence of George Purdy been shaken from its very foundation by an earthquake the inmates would not have sustained a much greater shock than they did last Sunday evening at 8 o'clock.

ADVERTISED LETTERS.

The following is a list of letters remaining unclaimed in the postoffice at Birmingham, Mich., for the week ending April 1, 1899.

Mr. Pirsh, Henry Miller, Wm. Anamand, Arthur Voorhes, Wm. Spencer.

Persons calling for any of the above will please say "advertised."

JOHN HANNA, P. M.

A Republican Explosion.

Monday morning it looked as if a cyclone had struck Whitehead & Mitchell's store--the postoffice, which once flourished like a green bay tree in the northwest corner was gone. Its place, however, was quickly filled in as before the advent of the postoffice and the business as of old is resumed at the old stand.

The public is supplied with plenty of rooms, a nice deck on the east side on which to write their letters and address them, and pens furnished without money and without charge. DISGRACEFUL!

Last Saturday evening the Senior class of our High School gave a supper at the library building. All went off pleasantly until a band of young men appeared upon the scene, behaving more like highwaymen than like gentlemen.

OBITUARY.
