It is inpleasant news to hear that Loch Leven, the most romantic among the law- of Scotland, is in danger of becoming covered with an obsolution weed, which is spreading in an already of the state of the contract in the faing interest of the loch. For some two years past the lock. For some two years past the lock. For some two years past the lock was the lock with the lock was the lock. For some two years past the was the lock was the expressed the opinion that it was in-troduced with some goldfish which were purchased and turned out into the loct. The fish were bught from hawkers, in globes, in which it was supposed there were supplies of this foreign seed. Others assert that it was bought into the vicinity by an Americau timber ship. Be this as it may, the inconvenience to which the ever-increasing masses of weed give rise is very, considerable. Anglers and others are viewing with keen interest the step, that are being taken to de-stroy the encroaching plant.

Castlereugh is a lieutenant in the royal horse guards. He is a keen aportshorse guards. He is a keen aportsthough the second of the second plant pridling, and he is also a first-rate across-country. His histronic talents are above the sevenge, as he has proved at several amateur dramatic entertainments at Wynyard park and played conspicuous parts. Festivities in connection with Lord Castereagh's coming of age are postponed till August, when the family will be in residence at Wynyard park. The marquis and marchinoses of Londonderry are, of course, both influential personages in society and the heir is a great favesteen to be a second of the heir is a great favestates. He holds a commission in the Durham artillery volunteers, of which his father is colonel, and which resident, formed from Lord Londonderry's employes, is a particularly fine one.

Cillization of Prairie Grata.

The corn stalk has been redeemed from the fire, and now the prairie grass is in the line of deliverance from cremation. The tough, wire-shered grasses are being made into binding twine and it seems to be but a question of time when rugs, matting, rope and cotton bagging will follow.
