"You can never walk it. I must try." He went close to her. "You must let me help you."

WHY SOME PEOPLE ARE BLACK.

It is Claimed That Wearing of Clothes Affects the Complexion. Why are some races on this earth darker-skinned than others?

YOUTH TERRORIZES A TOWN.

Crazed with drink, young H. Willard Field, of K. K. Field, a well-known insurance man of Alameda, Cal., came amuck through the streets of that town the other morning.

IN THE CAVE.

Wealthy, and he started his son-in-law out in the cattle business. Ten days after the wedding Jack Madaris died.

WITH HIS HANDS BEHIND HIM VALDANE SAUNTERED UP AND DOWN.

All day had Valdane absented himself, and she could not understand it. It must be jealousy, of course—that was clear; but it was possible that she had gone too far, and alienated where she had but meant to incite!

AFTER MANY DAYS.

In January, 1881, Emma Ransom and Francis Nash were married in Tusculum, Ohio. They lived happily together for ten years.

LABORER HANGED BY LIGHTNING.

Frank Zotozia, employed by the Alton Electric, Chicago, was strangled to death by a rope which became entangled around his neck.

PROTECTING SHADE TREES FROM INSECTS.

Dr. Howard, the entomologist of the department of agriculture, has been making some investigations as to the insects which so seriously affect American shade trees.

CLIPPING THE FORELOCK.

The American Stock Farm has this sensible advice on clipping the forelock: "Our advice is to have the horse's head and neck shorn as they have been offered to farmers and dealers who put their horses on the public market."

NECESSITY FOR SHADE.

The season of the year when we must provide the proper shade or cool places for our fowls is again here. The poultry raiser who neglects this heating is very considerable. Loss from heat differs from loss by sickness.

CENSUS OF JEWS.

There are about 11,000,000 Jews in the world, half of them under Russian jurisdiction. In the United States, the census of Jews is about 100,000.

THE PERSONALITY.

It is not in return, he led to his heart and vowed that he was her slave? It was a humiliating position, said he written under it, but determined to put off the evil day of confession.

THE PERSONALITY.

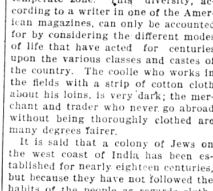

While Bernard was thinking thus at Clarinda, Martineau the irresistible, the heartless, for whom the woman stately countess was suffering all the pangs of jealousy, was pacing the dreary length of a street in East London.
