TO DRESS WELL

Does not necessarily mean to dress expensively. A high price does not necessarily denote extra style, nor a low price the other extreme. It all depends upon where you buy your shoes. If you buy your shoes of us you will get a much style in our cheaper shoes as you will in those of higher price, all the difference is in the quality. This is particularly true of our line of Fall Shoes. In Women's the prices range from $1.50 to $4.00, Men's $2.00 to $4.00, Boys' $1.50 to $2.00, Misses' $1.00 to $1.75, Youths' $1.00 to $1.75.

Feel perfectly free to come in and look these shoes over. If you wish to buy all right, it not come just the same.

HONORS ALL.

An Honored and Respected Couple Will Be Tendered a Public Reception at Masonic Hall, Tuesday Evening, Sept. 26, 1899.

Mr. A. Partridge and wife. Hon. A. Partridge and wife, returned to Birmingham after having spent some time in Europe. They were accompanied by their daughter, Miss Ella Weeber, and her husband, Mr. John F. Utter. They will be tendered a public reception at Masonic Hall, Tuesday evening, September 26, 1899, at 8 o'clock. The reception will be tendered by the Grand Lodge of Masons of this city. The party will consist of the following: Mr. Partridge, wife, daughter, Mr. Utter, wife, daughter, and a number of friends.

Robinson, was married in East Tawas, Mich. Miss Chatfield became an expert school teacher, teaching at East Tawas for four years, then later came to Birmingham and taught in our schools. Joseph Robinson is a bright business man, came here some time ago. He has a fine home at East Tawas until his death, when he was succeeded by his wife, Mrs. Robinson. She was a happy in seeing her children grow up and good like their mother.

7. Flora Keyes, a bright and shining light in Ludington schools with lives in her own home at Woodward Ave. happy in seeing her children grow up and good like their mother.

8. Mary E. Utter, now there's a truly good girl. A popular and successful Detroit school-marm. Her late husband, Mr. John F. Utter, was a Detroit teacher and she is now a teacher in the same school.

9. Hattie C. Drake and still Hattie C. Drake with the grace and dignity of a queen lives with her mother and sister, Miss John H. Street in Detroit, owns their own home and Miss Hattie is a Detroit teacher in one of the best schools in the city. She is a fine woman, a bright and shining light in the school.

There is great complaint all over town that the way our laws are enforced. Horse kicking, and tramping, and all the other things, and general lawlessness everywhere.

We have a law against knocking a ball in our streets. It is done every day at the risk of life, limb and windows, and not a wheel coolly orders a lady off the way so he can pass.

The Library and the School.

There are many books in the library that are useful, yes, almost necessary, to the pupils in the school and it is the earnest wish of the ladies of the Library Society to do all in their power to help on the work of the school.

Michigan State Fair, Grand Rapids, Sept. 25th to 30th.

For the show, the Grand Truck Highway System, Michigan, Sept. 25th to 30th. The show is a fine one and is well worth a visit. It is held at the Michigan State Fair Grounds, Grand Rapids, Mich.

A TRAGIC EVENT.

Stephen Dewey, of White Lake, Killed and Charles Everett, of Same Township, Badly Hurt in a Runaway.

Last week Wednesday about midnight while on their way to Detroit with a load of farm produce Stephen Dewey, of White Lake, met his death and Charles Everett, of the same town, came very near same end. Mr. Everett was Democratic candidate for county clerk last election. A cutting from the harness of a horse broke an iron pin broke and at the whiffletree down on the horses' heels and at once the team broke into a run with the above said result. The team were thrown out immediately and as the load consisted of potatoes mostly in crates they were quite high from the ground, their fall was quite disastrous. Mr. Dewey never moved from where he lay. A bicyclist quickly appeared on the scene and hain train hurried over to the Brady farm and the injured were carefully cared for. They were brought to Dr. Shaw's office and Dr. Dewey was found to have a severe cut under the chin. A trip into city in the right side of his head, bruised on his jaw, shoulders and legs, injured internally and was bleeding profusely from both ears. He passed away about four a. m. when he had regained consciousness. He owned a farm in White Lake township and leaves a widow and three children. He was insured for $2,000 in the Marshfield.

The other victim of the runaway was the general Charles Everett, a well-known local politician. A. H. man and one universally esteemed by all his acquaintances. He was able to be around on the street the next morning and was thankful for his escape but greatly depressed over the sad and sudden death of his friend and neighbor. His injuries were a serious scalp wound, right hand and arm severely cut and leg bruised. His wife, Mrs. Everett was torn and cut by the fall and she thinks himself very lucky everything considered.

The horses ran only three or four rods and stopped. The bicyclist undoubtedly saved an electric wreck by running back from where the horse was wrecked directly on the track and stopping the car which might have crashed into the load before being able to stop on the down grade. The injured ladies being away from home on business, were brought by E. J. Kelly, of Pontiac, who carefully attended to the charge of Mr. Dewey's remains.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Jane Todd died at her home in Royal Oak, September 16, 1899. She was born in Ireland, August 21, 1832. Came to America in 1854 and was married to James Todd in 1857. Her sickness was long and painful, the disease being cancer of the stomach. She bore her sufferings patiently yet longed to depart and was with Christ. Soon after coming to Royal Oak she united with the Troy E. P. church and remained a consistent member of it until her death. She leaves a husband and four children, besides many other relatives and friends to mourn her loss.
