THE BIRMINGHAM ECCENTRIC

ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR IN ADVANCE. WHITEHEAD & MITCHELL, PUBLISHERS.

BIRMINGHAM, FRIDAY, SEPT. 23, 1905. What's more miserable than discontent?

The prettiest girl at the banquet is the dinner bell. It's difficult to pose as an optimist when the rent collector calls.

If a man can't trust himself he has no right to expect others to trust him. The father who walks the floor with a crying baby is a sub-mal-carrier.

People who are always barking on their troubles have a lasting topic of conversation. Says an old bachelor: "Women sometimes shed tears because they think love, like beef, is best preserved by brine."

Russian policy in China has been viewed with considerable distrust. In its bearing upon the commercial interests of other powers. A recent decree of the czar, however, goes far to relieve the fear that Russia would insist on exclusive privileges.

The name of 4-year-old Rudolph Becker of New Brunswick, N. J., long has been in the list of those who have given lives to save others. Swimming a river in the face of the foe was one of the most talked-of bits of heroism in the Philippine war. It was done by a young man named Nathan. He was in the water when the boat was hit by a shell.

When the John High commission suspended its sittings at Washington, last February, it was with the expectation of re-assembling at Quebec on August 2nd. But the main question at issue, that of the Alaskan boundary, has not been brought any nearer a settlement.

Life's pathos and humor are often commingled, and the contrast is not ways so violent as to pain or shock by its incongruity. One of the rules of the giving of aid is that it should be that is not prescribed by the attending physician.

A campaign has begun, in which forces will battle with an enemy of immeasurable power, and face death in the highest of their duties. The stunted, devoted worship of supreme praise. Yet men will read of the heroism, and forget it all too soon.

A Washington young man met a pretty widow from Ba.-more at Asbury Park and after two days' acquaintance, he was ready to propose. "Foolish New Yorker," said the woman, "you are not worth my attention."

There's probably no success so sweet as that achieved by acting on the advice of our knowing friends. Some people are loved because of the enemies they make and hated because of the friends they make.

TALMAGE'S SERMON.

THE QUEENS OF HOME, LAST SUNDAY'S SUBJECT.

From the Text, Sol. Song, 8: 8. as follows: "Ye Are These Queens Queen—Many Wives and Sons and Memories Recalled."

So Solomon sang by the door of the imperial character of a true Christian woman. She is not a slave, not a hireling, not a subordinate, but a queen in a father's house.

In the first place, woman has the special and the superlative right of blessing and comforting the sick. What kind of a woman, what home, has not felt the smiting of disease?

It is an awful thing to be ill away from home. It is a white man coming in to look at you, holding their hand over their mouth, for fear they will catch the contagion.

What took to make that little girl a dress? Which of these masculine hands could fit it as to that little girl's head? Which of the wise men would know how to tie on that new pair of shoes?

Some of you will have no rest in your hearts until you have seen the struggle and suffering all the way up. You will have to stand at your door, fighting with your own hands.
