

MY HALF SISTER

By ELTON HARRIS

...I thought of the woman whose face I had seen in the crowd, and I felt as though I had found her. I had been looking for her everywhere. "You enjoy the lovely night, don't you?"

"Anyone would, monsieur," Mollie replied, adding mischievously, "Surely it makes you think of Paris—the lights, the music, the dancing, and all that kind of thing, doesn't it?"

"You are laughing at me, mon medecin," he said with a very graceful archness, the vision rose before him, but he did not see her. He was looking at Mollie.

"You are laughing at me, mon medecin," he said with a very graceful archness, the vision rose before him, but he did not see her. He was looking at Mollie.

"I don't know," she said, "but I feel as though I have found her. I had been looking for her everywhere. "You enjoy the lovely night, don't you?"

"Anyone would, monsieur," Mollie replied, adding mischievously, "Surely it makes you think of Paris—the lights, the music, the dancing, and all that kind of thing, doesn't it?"

"You are laughing at me, mon medecin," he said with a very graceful archness, the vision rose before him, but he did not see her. He was looking at Mollie.

"I don't know," she said, "but I feel as though I have found her. I had been looking for her everywhere. "You enjoy the lovely night, don't you?"

"Anyone would, monsieur," Mollie replied, adding mischievously, "Surely it makes you think of Paris—the lights, the music, the dancing, and all that kind of thing, doesn't it?"

"You are laughing at me, mon medecin," he said with a very graceful archness, the vision rose before him, but he did not see her. He was looking at Mollie.

"I don't know," she said, "but I feel as though I have found her. I had been looking for her everywhere. "You enjoy the lovely night, don't you?"

"Anyone would, monsieur," Mollie replied, adding mischievously, "Surely it makes you think of Paris—the lights, the music, the dancing, and all that kind of thing, doesn't it?"

"You are laughing at me, mon medecin," he said with a very graceful archness, the vision rose before him, but he did not see her. He was looking at Mollie.

Current Topics

The Late Gen. Car.

For sixty-five years General Car, who died in Cincinnati last week, stood for the principle of the Union. He was a statesman of the first order, and his death is a national loss.

Another Labor Temple.

The labor union is building a handsome new temple in the city of Madison, Wis. It is a grand structure, and will be a fitting memorial to the labor movement.

Stage Robs Mystery Again.

The mystery surrounding the stage robbery in Chicago has been deepened by the discovery of a new clue. The police are working hard to solve the case.

Modern Church Methods.

The church is adopting new methods to attract members. These include the use of modern music, drama, and other forms of entertainment.

A Queer Suit at Law.

A man has filed a lawsuit claiming that his suit is a work of art. He wants the court to declare it a masterpiece and award him a large sum of money.

English Were Unfriendly.

A man who was friendly to the English was found to be unfriendly to his own country. The incident has caused a stir in the community.

Robert Treat Paine.

Robert Treat Paine, who was nominated for governor of Massachusetts last year, has a long and distinguished career in public service.

Dropsey New Discovery.

A new discovery has been made in the field of medicine. It is a powerful drug that can cure a wide variety of ailments.

HELP FOR WOMEN WHO ARE ALWAYS TIRED.

"I do not feel very well. I am so tired all the time. I do not know what is the matter with me."

You hear these words every day; as often as you meet your friends just as often as these words are repeated. More than likely you speak the same significant words yourself, and no doubt you do feel far from well most of the time. Mrs. Ella Rice, of Chelsea, Wis., whose portrait we publish, writes that she has had two years with bearing-down pains, headache, backache, and all kinds of miserable feelings, which were due to falling and inflammation of the womb, and after consulting with physicians and numerous specialists she was entirely cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

Write today to Allen S. Cleveland, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, 108 South Main Street, Lowell, Mass., for a free copy of the book, "The Cause of Women's Suffering." You will find it most interesting and helpful.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People is a powerful medicine that restores the blood and builds up the system. It is the best medicine for women who are always tired, and for those who suffer from various ailments such as headache, backache, and bearing-down pains.

Dr. Bull's COUGH SYRUP

Cures a Cough or Cold at once.

For the relief of a cough, cold, croup, whooping cough, influenza, and all other respiratory ailments, Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is the most effective remedy.

It is a powerful expectorant that loosens the phlegm and soothes the inflamed mucous membranes of the throat. It is safe for children and can be used in the most delicate cases.

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is available in all drug stores and is sold by mail order. Write for a free sample.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Dr. J.C. Williams

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

What Shall We Have for Dessert?

Jell-O

Why do you pay $4 to $5 for shoes when you can get the same quality for $3.50?

W. DOUGLAS SHOES $3.50

TOE-GUM

CHEAP FARMS

DO YOU WANT A HOME?

100,000 ACRES

THE STANDARD SEWING MACHINE CO.

FREE SCHOLARSHIP

GET ONE FREE.